MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Porfirio Diaz, exiled ex-President of Mexico, sent the following message today to President Huerta from Minia, Egypt: "The consideration which you have shown me in my divorcement from public life is of inestimable satisfaction to me, and even more so is the delicate manner and the kindly words in which you have been pleased to advise me of your elevation to the Presidency ad interim of Mexico. Accept this as an assurance of my deepest gratitude and as a hope that your self-effacement and patriotism may bring to the conscience of the people the realization that only in the shades of peace can our country prosper, be happy and respected."

SMILE MAY COST LIFE.

"Silent" Carson, Under Death Sentence, Breaks His Reserve.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 28.—"Silent" Carson, the convict who was brought to this city for investigation by alienists, and who has not been known to utter a word during the three years that he has been under sentence of death for participation in a prison break, is reported to have smiled at one of the hospital attendants this week and this may break down the obstacle that has prevented his execution on a charge of murder. Physicians who have had Carson under observation say this is the first display of any emotion on his part of which they have record, and that conclusions heretofore accepted as proving him insane may be reviewed. Carson is being subjected to a new and original system of investigation by several physicians.

STOPS FLAG DESECRATION.

Senate Passes Bill Prohibiting Advertisements or Pictures on American Emblem.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Senate passed yesterday Senator Webb's bill to prevent the desecration of the American flag. The measure would prohibit the placing of any word, figure, mark, picture or design or advertisement of any nature upon any flag, standard or ensign of the United States, and provides a fine of $500 or imprisonment for not more than six months for such desecration. The bill also would prohibit the mutilation of the American flag.

SANCTIONED BY KNOX.

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 28.—A conference between northern rebel leaders and delegates from the Huerta government at Mexico City has been called at San Antonio, Tex. The date of the conference has not been set, but it is expected that it will be held soon. American Consuls in Northern Mexico received telegrams today from Secretary Knox instructing them to assure the rebel chiefs that they may attend the conference without fear of arrest by United States authorities.

MRS. VANDERBILT FAVORS PLAN TO PREVENT GRAFT.

Believes that Men Are Not Equal to Coping With Problem and that Plainclothes Officers Have Been Preying Upon Unfortunates in New York City.

BY MARGARET W. DE PEYSTER.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt appealed to Senator Wagner, chairman of the State Legislature Committee now investigating the New York police vice situation, today, urging that women police be given complete control of the handling of the social evil.

"I am convinced," said Mrs. Vanderbilt, "that women can best deal with women.

"Take the plainclothesmen away from these poor unfortunate women and you will remove one of the most deadly causes of police graft and scarlet sin."

But that she was sailing for Europe, Mrs. Vanderbilt said she would have been glad to attend the hearing and testify to the results of her own investigation.

It was brought out during the hearing by O. F. Lewis, secretary of the State Prison Association, that there are more unfortunate women active around the Washington Irving High School than anywhere else in the city.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's intervention was brought about through her interest in the redemption work undertaken for twenty years in the worst haunts of the East Side by Miss Lillian Wald.

"I have not given much study to subject of women police," Mrs. Vanderbilt wrote, "but Miss Wald's idea of women officers to handle this problem appeals to me."

Young Woman College Graduate from Well-to-Do Southern Family Arrested on Charge of Stealing Ruby Ring and Finery—Her Fiance Repudiates Engagement.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Instead of a bright and happy wedding day, today was one of dreary monotony spent in the City Jail at Colorado Springs for Mrs. Bee Bowman McIntyre, arrested Thursday evening in the reception-room of the Young Woman's Christian Association, of this city, on a charge of the larceny of a $250 ruby ring and the embezzlement of several hundred dollars' finery from Colorado Springs business houses.

Mrs. McIntyre, who is 22 years old, a college graduate, and the heir of a prominent southern family, was to have been married today to A. I. Davis, a young clerk of San Antonio, Tex. Her heart was further bowed by humiliation when Davis visited her in the matron's quarters of the City Jail, in this city, and repudiated her after breaking their engagement yesterday.

"A woman who has been arrested on two separate charges is no good," he told her. "I'm sorry, but I do not want to have anything more to do with you."

Without a word she handed him her engagement ring through the bars.

Mrs. McIntyre was companion to Mrs. A. M. Duke of Colorado Springs. This lady charges her with the theft of the ruby ring.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The complete Cabinet slate of President Wilson with the Secretaryship of Agriculture the only thing tentative, is firmly believed by most of the Democratic leaders in Washington tonight to be as follows:

Secretary of State, William J. Bryan of Nebraska.

Secretary of the Treasury, William McAdoo of New York.

Secretary of War, George W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama Canal Commission.

Attorney-General, James C. McReynolds of Tennessee.

Postmaster-General, Representative A. S. Burleson of Texas.

Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.

Secretary of the Interior, E. W. Norris of Montana.

Secretary of Agriculture, Obediah Gardner of Maine.

Secretary of Commerce, Louis D. Brandeis of Massachusetts.

Secretary of Labor, Representative William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This national capital never has been so puzzled over what an incoming administration would be like—politically, socially and every other way—than it is right now, with the inauguration of President Wilson only four days away. Although the hammering of grand stand nails has been going on for several weeks, and the work of decoration for as many days, it was not until today that the Washington atmosphere really began to suggest the coming change in the control of the government and with the appearance of the advance inaugural throng on the streets and the advent of the souvenir venders along the sidewalks, thoughts turned more than ever to the mysteries that lie beyond the pageantry and the enthusiasm of the celebration period.

TO TRY THEORIES.

It seems to be taken for granted on every hand that President Wilson will run things in a new way—that he will put into practice ideas which may have been revolving in his mind since long before he had notions of being the Chief Executive of the country—and that the theories of the professor who has taught the science of government academically are to be given an actual tryout. Washington, in short, is looking for daily surprises from Wilson, just as they came from Roosevelt, only of a different character. If some of the anticipated precedent-breaking by the new Democratic President is not as sensational as that which Roosevelt indulged in it will be no less interesting in many respects.

One thing appears clear and that is that Woodrow Wilson intends to be President of the United States in every sense of the word. Much has been said off and on about Bryan domination of the administration and it has been reported that Mr. Bryan would become a part of the administration with the distinct understanding that he would have a whole lot to say even outside the bounds of his particular department.

HERE'S A PREDICTION.

Put this down as fact No. 1, in connection with the administration:

If Bryan or anyone else tries to interfere with the conduct of affairs as Woodrow Wilson in communion with himself alone, wants them to be conducted, there is going to be one of the grandest little smash-ups ever recorded by the political historian. Mr. Wilson intends to be President every minute of the time from his inauguration to the expiration of his term. He has indicated unmistakably that he will be on the job morning, noon and night. He is coming to Washington with the fixed purpose of having certain things accomplished in the legislative line, and although there are 531 men constituting the Congress of the United States who regard the legislative branch with great jealousy, President Wilson evidently assumes that he is the big responsible party and that it is his business to Senate Stops Congressional Practice of Jollying Constituents.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Congressional distribution of seeds was ended by the Senate by eliminating from the agriculture appropriation bill a provision appropriating $256,100 for that purpose. Among the more important amendments adopted was the bill by Senator Hoke Smith creating a bureau of markets in the Department of Agriculture.

The bill as it passed the Senate carried $18,000,000, an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over the House bill.

ROSALIE JONES'S ARMY CAPTURES CAPITAL CITY.

Unprecedented Scenes Enaacted in Streets of Nation's Capital When Tred Hikers from New York March Triumphantly Through Pennsylvania Avenue — Congress Sits Up and Takes Notice.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—"Gen." Rosalie Jones and her suffrage army marched triumphantly into the capital shortly before noon today, through the Capitol grounds and down Pennsylvania avenue, with an escort of local enthusiasts and citizens which fairly choked the streets. It was one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen in Washington.

ENTHUSIASTIC SPECTACLE.

A Presidential inauguration could hardly have presented a more enthusiastic spectacle than Pennsylvania avenue from the Treasury to the Capitol building after the plucky, disheveled band of marchers swung wearily around the "peace monument" for the final stage of their 250-mile tramp for the cause of equal suffrage. Incoming Presidents have not received more clamorous applause than did the company of brown-clad women, huddled in a little group, forced to fight their way through veritable walls of shouting humanity for more than a mile.

Police were powerless to restrain the crowds, which overflowed from the sidewalks and choked the long thoroughfare from the Capitol to the suffrage headquarters. So dense was the mob of cheering men and women that the march up Pennsylvania avenue resolved itself into a struggle.

To prevent disruption of their column in the demonstration, "Gen."

Find Money Trust Does Exist.

Majority of Pujo Committee Would Bar Wall Street from the Mails.

Stock Exchange Regulation and Bank Restriction Are Recommended.

Three Divergent Reports Presented to House of Representatives.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Three divergent reports were presented today to the House by the members of the money trust investigation.

The majority report, signed by Chairman Pujo and the six other Democratic members of the committee, found that a money trust exists, according to their understanding of the term. This report names as "the most active members in bringing about the concentration of money and credit," J. P. Morgan & Co., First National and National City banks, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York; Lee Higginson & Co., and Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston. Two bills accompanied the report, one forbidding the use of the mails to stock exchanges which fail to observe prescribed regulations as to the conduct of their business, and the other prescribing rigid rules for the conduct of national banks, their officers and clearinghouse associations, to which they belong. This report is substantially in accord with the conclusions presented to the committee by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel.

DANGEROUS CONCENTRATION.

The first minority report, signed by Representative Hayes of California, Representative Heald of Delaware and Representative Guernsey of Maine, Republicans, set forth that the investigation "has not disclosed the existence of any so-called money trust," but added, "it has, however, disclosed a dangerous concentration of credit in New York City and to some extent in Boston and Chicago."

"While agreeing substantially with the majority," said the report, "on many of the abuses to be corrected in the financial system, the stock exchanges and the clearinghouse associations, the undersigned have doubts as to the wisdom of some of the remedies proposed by the majority."

"It is manifestly impossible," the report closes, "that any of the proposed legislation can be considered by this Congress and it seems to us wise to leave the matter of recommending complete remedial legislation to those who will be charged with the responsibility of formulating and reporting such legislation to Congress."

INDIVIDUAL MINORITY REPORT.

An individual minority report filed by Representative McMorran of Michigan, Republican, was a flat, detailed disagreement with the recommendations and findings of the majority.

FIVE CAUSES OF COMBINE.

The majority report, after declaring the existence of a money trust, said that "the increased concentration of control of money and credit had been effected principally as follows:

"First, through consolidations of competitive or potentially competitive banks and trust companies, which consolidations in turn have recently been brought under sympathetic management.

"Second, through the same power of the interests becoming large stockholders in potentially competitive banks and trust companies. This is the simplest way of acquiring control, but since it requires the largest investment of capital, it is the least used, although the recent investments in that direction for that apparent purpose amount to tens of millions of dollars in the market values.

"Third, through the confederation of potentially competitive banks and trust companies by means of the system of interlocking directorates.

"Fourth, through the influence which the more powerful banking houses, banks and trust companies have secured in the management of insurance companies, railroads, producing and trading corporations and public utility corporations, by means of stock holdings, voting trusts, fiscal agency contracts or representation upon their boards of directors, or through supplying the money requirements of railway, industrial and public utilities corporations and thereby being able to participate in their financial and business policies.

"Fifth, through partnership or joint account arrangements between a few of the leading banking houses, banks and trust companies in the purchase of security issues of the great interstate corporations, accompanied by understandings of recent growth—sometimes called 'banking ethics'—which have had the effect of effectually destroying competition between such banking houses, banks and trust companies, in the struggle for business or in the purchase and sale of large issues of such securities."

FINDING IS SPECIFIC.

On the question of the existence of a money trust the report is specific and detailed.

"It would of course be absurd," said the report, "to suggest the control of the bulk of the widely distributed wealth of a great nation can be corralled by any set of men. If that is what is meant by gentlemen who deny the existence of a money trust, your committee agrees with them. It is not, however, necessary that

WOMAN REFUTES SLINGSBY CHARGE

Familiar With Circumstances at Time of Birth.

Believes Story Concocted to Divert Inheritance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That there was born to Mrs. Dorothy Cutler Slingsby a healthy child and that there was no need for substitution of the child of Lillian Anderson and Paul Colvin to inherit the millions of the family of Lieut. Charles Slingsby of England is the declaration made today by Mrs. William Desmond. Mrs. Desmond, a sister of Nance O'Neil, the actress, is a lifelong friend of Mrs. Slingsby.

She returned from Australia with her husband yesterday and is under the care of physicians at the St. Francis Hotel.

Her husband, William Desmond, the actor, today told the story of Mrs. Slingsby's coming to San Francisco so that the child might be born under the best possible conditions. Mrs. Desmond gave her approval of all that her husband said and vouched for its correctness in detail.

FIRST COMPLETE REFUTATION.

The statement of the Desmonds is the first complete refutation of the charge of substitution that has been made since the Slingsbys denied the story themselves.

The charge is that Mrs. Slingsby was in a condition that precluded the probability of the English lieutenant's having an heir to the entailed estates of his ancient family, and that in order that other heirs might not get the estate he and his wife took the child of a school girl, offered it as Slingsby's heir, and returned to England.

Persons who would inherit the property had there been no heir to Slingsby made the charges. In support of the allegations they offered the testimony of Hattie Bain, a nurse and friend of Mrs. Slingsby, and of Dr. W. W. Fraser of Weaverville.

Mrs. Bain said Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco from Vancouver and wanted her child born in the home of Mrs. Bain. According to Mrs. Bain, she refused to permit that, and Mrs. Slingsby went to the Good Friend Hotel. She was disappointed.

SAYS SLINGSBYS ADVERTISED.

Then Mrs. Bain says, she and Mrs. Slingsby advertised for a child for the purpose of substitution.

Mrs. Bain says that Dr. Fraser supplied the child of Lillian Anderson and Paul Colvin, which, they say, is the child Mrs. Slingsby since has presented as her own child in the Good Friend Hotel.

Dr. Fraser made a sworn statement that he was a party to the alleged substitution. Dr. Fraser is under arrest and is to be tried either on a charge of altering a public record or on charge of perjury in making affidavit according as the developments of the case warrant.

Physicians of high repute have made affidavits that Mrs. Slingsby was mother in the highest sense of the word.

Now comes the Desmonds to add their testimony to that on the side of the Slingsbys. The child was born to Mrs. Slingsby, she says, about July 1, 1910. This date agrees with the dates fixed by others who have appeared in the case.

"We sailed for Australia two and a half years ago," said Desmond today. "Mrs. Desmond and Mrs. Slingsby had been life-long friends. We met Charlie Slingsby and Mrs. Slingsby in the North before Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco.

DESMOND'S STORY.

"Mrs. Desmond told me soon after we met the Slingsbys in the North that soon there would be an addition to the Slingsby family.

"Subsequently Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco so that her baby might be born under the best care obtainable.

"Mrs. Desmond was not very well at the time and went out but little.

"Then we were packing for the trip to Australia and we saw little of Mrs. Slingsby for perhaps a week before we sailed. But Mrs. Slingsby told us she was under the care of her friend, Mrs. Bain.

"I remember distinctly one day that Mrs. Bain called Mrs. Desmond on the telephone and announced that a fine healthy boy had just been born to Mrs. Slingsby.

CALLS IT SILLY STORY.

"There never was the slightest question in our minds about Mrs. Slingsby and her baby. In fact, we often referred to it while away, and you may imagine our astonishment when we returned yesterday and heard that there was a dispute about the child.

"We regard it as a silly story to say that Mrs. Slingsby did not have a healthy child."

TRAIN HITS AUTO AMIDSHIPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. A. Marckres, a retired capitalist of San Jose, was rendered unconscious and seriously hurt, while his son, Dr. C. C. Marckres, and chauffeur, George Green, were tossed several feet and painfully injured today when their automobile collided with a speeding Southern Pacific train at East Fourteenth and Forty-fifth streets, Oakland.

Women aboard the train became frightened, several of them receiving minor bruises as they were thrown from their seats by the sudden stopping of the train.

The three injured automobilists are at the Oakland Receiving Hospital. The elder Marckres lives at No. 191 South Tenth street, San Jose. His son is a dentist, living at No. 73 West St. James street, San Jose.

With George Green, the chauffeur, at the wheel, the two men started for Oakland to attend to business affairs, and were making a fair rate of speed when Green started to cross the Southern Pacific tracks. He had seen the approaching train, but believed that he could cross before its approach. The train struck the machine full in the middle and hurled it with its occupants twenty or thirty feet.

The automobile was reduced to a mass of twisted metal and splintered wood. Beneath this mass of debris the elder Marckres was pinioned.

Passengers of the train and the crew hurried to their aid. First they raised the wreckage of the automobile and extricated the aged victim. Then Dr. Marckres and the chauffeur were assisted to their feet. Temporary treatment was given them pending the arrival of an ambulance. They were then rushed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that their injuries, though painful, are not of a very serious nature.

SAN FRANCISCO YOUTH RUSHES MADLY IN HIS SLEEP.

Clad in Night Garments He Plunges Through Glass Door to Escape Men He Imagined Were Going to Escort Him to Auto Bandits' Fate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In his dreams Harry Wright of No. 240 Geary street shortly after midnight found two strange men standing at his bedside.

To the dreamer both were armed officers of France, who advised him that he had been identified as one of the notorious automobile bandits, that he had been condemned to death, and that they had come to act as an escort to the guillotine.

RUSHES FROM ROOM.

Wright was terrorized by the appearance of the dream officers. Intent upon escape he jumped from his bed, rushed out of his room clad only in his night garments and ran all the way to the home of his friend, Harry Cody, who lives in Third avenue, nearly two miles away.

The "French officers" were close behind the fleeing man all the way, and to get away from them, Wright, when he reached the Cody home, plunged headlong through the glass panel in the front door of the house.

BADLY CUT ABOUT LEGS.

Then he woke up. Wright was frightfully cut about the legs by his plunge through the glass panel of the door and was taken to the Park Hospital for temporary treatment. From there he was removed to the Central Emergency, where he is now under the care of a surgeon.

POPPY PLANTS FOR SCHOOLS.

CALIFORNIA TO SEND MILLION TO EASTERN PUPILS.

First Shipment of State Flower Will Be Forwarded March Tenth and Each Individual Student Who Has Sent Request Will Be Remembered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—The first shipment of California poppies to the school children of the Middle East will leave Sacramento March 10. In the shipment will be several thousand individual plants, and each one addressed to some scholar in the East and sent by a student of the local High School.

The Floral Committee today received 1300 requests for poppies from Illinois and Indiana. Nearly a million poppy plants will be sent to the school children of the East by local students this summer. Each plant will be inclosed in a neat little cardboard carton bearing the name of the sender.

The plan is to place in the hands of the High School children of the agricultural districts in the East California poppy plants in full bloom. Thus will the famous California State flower become well known in districts where it has only hitherto been known in word and picture.

Controller Nye Discovers He Made Mistake in Figuring Up School Appropriation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Attaches of State Controller Nye's office who prepared the recent statement summarizing appropriations requested of the Legislature today, discovered an error in their computations which increases the sum asked approximately two millions. The item found to contain errors was that proposing an increase in the amount of money apportioned to elementary and high schools.

The annual increase in State support to schools would be $1,900,000 if a bill proposing an apportionment of $18 instead of $13 a pupil now in effect is passed. In making up the summary the Controller's office made the proposed $1,900,000 annual increase appear as a biennial increase.

The amount should have been just twice that amount or $3,800,000.

SEVEN BIDS FOR HIGHWAY.

Commissioners Will Award Contract for Piece of Road in Los Angeles County on Inauguration Day.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bids for seventeen and one-half miles of highway construction work in Los Angeles and Mendocino counties were opened today by the California highway commissioners.

Awards for the work will probably be made at the regular meeting of the Highway Commission March 4.

One piece of construction work called for ten miles of oiled concrete road in Los Angeles county from Rancho Encino to Calabasas. The highway engineers estimate for the work about $61,151. The bids received for this work were, J. H. Considine, Los Angeles, $61,205; Leigh G. Gornsey, Los Angeles, $62,999; Rogers Brothers, Los Angeles, $61,389; J. M. Montgomery, Alhambra, $62,990; George Venson, & Sons, Los Angeles, $68,288; Bent & Pennebaker, Los Angeles, $85,782; John D. March, Los Angeles, $55,555.

The Los Angeles county section of the State highway is designated as division 7, route 2, section B.

In Mendocino county, the work on which construction companies submitted bids, called for seven and one-half miles of water board macadam from Ukiah to Forsyth Creek.

The Los Angeles section calls for the excavation of 19,400 cubic yards unclassified work and requires 10,500 cubic yards of cement concrete.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instead of overestimating the size of the tremendous raid planned on the State treasury in bills so far introduced in the Legislature this winter, the report, immediately after the adjournment of the January session, fell short of the whole truth. This is shown conclusively in the careful summary just completed by State Controller Nye.

Nearly fifty-nine millions, instead of fifty-two millions, as then estimated, is the astounding total. And it is the more astounding when the fact is considered that the State Controller has eliminated all bills which practically duplicate others. His figures are net.

The total of the Controller's figures, as carried in the press report the first of the week, was something over thirty-seven millions. But this total did not include more than eleven millions for the State schools, nor the proposed ten-million bond issue, which is an administration measure.

Add this ten millions to the following summary of nearly forty-nine millions, issued by the State Controller, and the whole truth of the riot of proposed extravagance is revealed:

Special Appropriation Bills.

ACID BURNS BICYCLIST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frightfully burned as a result of the shattering of a bottle of carbolic acid in his pocket when he fell from his bicycle, William Harrison, 15 years old, a drug clerk in an Oakland drug store, is in a precarious condition at the Oakland Receiving Hospital.

It is believed he cannot survive.

Harrison was delivering the acid on his wheel. He seized the rear of an automobile to help him on his way, clinging to his bicycle with one hand. His wheel slipped and threw him heavily to the pavement. He was burned on the face, chest, arms and legs. He was rushed to the hospital screaming with pain.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—The Shasta Superior Court has been affirmed in its decision in the case of William McKendrick against the Western Zinc Mining Company, the Tehama Mining Company, and I. R. Bartholet as executor of the will of W. Henry Jones in a decision handed down by the Supreme Court.

The case involved the possession of the Donkey Mine and McKendrick won the case.

CUTS HIS CHILD'S THROAT.

Italian Becoming Suddenly Insane, Kills Infant and Attempts to Commit Suicide.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRUCKEE, Feb. 28.—Becoming suddenly insane, Joe Masponi, an Italian of Hobart Mills, sent his wife from the house, cut the throat of his youngest child, a six-months-old babe, and then slashed his own with a razor. The child died immediately, but Casponi is expected to recover.

Casponi said that he knew he was going to die and wanted to take his child with him. He has a family of four children attending the schools at Hobart Mills.

ABSINTHE DEALERS PROTEST.

Wholesalers With Big Stock on Hand Want Extension of Time to Sell French Drink.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Wholesale absinthe dealers of the State who have on hand stock representing several thousand dollars which they cannot sell under the order of the Department of Agriculture, effective October 1 last, will appear before the State Board of Health tomorrow in an effort to get that body to appeal to the government for further time for the disposal of their goods. The order of the Department of Agriculture is absolute and forbids the sale or shipment of the liquor outside of the State.

Wrecked By Drink Saved By Neal Treatment

Redemption of a Business Man—A Neal Institute Incident.

A man who had "run through" with $12,000 in eight months, lost the affection of his wife—who had divorced him—and who drank his business into the hands of a receiver, was brought to the Neal Institute a year ago. He was so badly poisoned with alcohol that the craving for drink had become stronger than his will-power to resist.

In three days the Neal Drink Habit Treatment removed the craving and necessity for drink—without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections—and restored him to his family and business, a sober, useful man.

This is only one of thousands of similar incidents that happen every year at fifty-eight Neal Institutes.

For further information call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, or write or phone G. U. Neal, manager, for Dr. Neal's free book. Home Treatment can be arranged for those who desire it. Phones Broadway 4602; A4072. Ocean Park Neal Institute, 160 Hill Street.

SONOMA LEADS IN POULTRY.

Heads Counties of State in Value of Chickens and Eggs Produced, Says Secretary of State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Sonoma county, long famous as a fruit-producing section, has added to its laurels by taking the lead among the fifty-eight counties of California in number of poultry owned, in annual egg production and in value of poultry and eggs produced, according to figures that have been compiled by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan for publication in the State Blue Book.

At the same time the county has maintained its fame as a fruit section, ranking second in the number of bearing apple trees and plum and prune trees; third in number of bearing orchard fruit trees; third in smaller fruit product, and fourth in grape product. In an agricultural way the county has also made a good showing, being credited with an increase in the value of farm property in ten years of 67.4 per cent.

The county is credited with having the largest berry district in the country, the Sebastopol region alone producing 80 per cent. of California's berry crop in 1910. The county is also said to be one of the largest dry-wine districts in the United States, producing between 10,000,000 and 12,500,000 gallons annually in its 150 wineries and distilleries.

NOTED ENGINEER DIES.

Roy W. Fairbanks, Original Surveyor of Mizpah Mine in Tonopah, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roy W. Fairbanks, one of the best-known mining engineers in the West and the original engineer on the Mizpah mine in Tonopah, died late last night at a local hospital from pneumonia contracted in the new mining camp of Rochester, where Mr. Fairbanks was interested in large properties.

Fairbanks had been in Nevada twelve years and was the first surveyor for the Tonopah Mining Company. He made the original survey for the Tonopah and Goldfield Railroad. He did work in Gold Circle and Jarbidge. More recently he was in the service of the Nevada Mills Mining Company. He was 36 years old and a graduate of the Michigan School of Mines.

I. A. Fairbanks, a brother in Waterman, Iowa, is on his way West to take charge of the body. Fairbanks before his death stated that Rochester would be one of the great low-grade mining camps of Nevada. He contracted pneumonia through exposure in the new mining camp.

Safe Conduct.

UNITED STATES FREES MEXICANS.

Evinces Belief in Stability of Huerta Regime.

Rebels Professing Loyalty to New Government.

Tension Relaxes and Fleet Starts Maneuvers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The administration in two actions today evinced its belief in the stability of the Huerta government of Mexico, for the present at least.

First, orders were sent to the military commanders from California to Texas to release all of the Mexican refugees captured on the American side of the line. This was done because these prisoners, who are few in number, no longer can be regarded as rebels in view of the successful revolution in Mexico.

Second, a safe conduct was granted to Col. De la Fuente and the members of his party, now somewhere in the vicinity of Juarez, to proceed to San Antonio, where an important conference is to be held between the Mexican factions in the interest of general peace.

The confirmation of the first reports of the killing of Emilio Madero, the third of the family to pay the extreme penalty, is regarded as another move in the direction of peace, removing as it does, a resourceful and an implacable rebel leader.

PLACATE REBEL CHIEFS.

From various quarters came reports of the adhesion of rebel chiefs to the new government. Campos, one of Orozco's ablest lieutenants, with 700 former rebels entered Gomez's palacio today in accord with and escorted by Federal troops. Consul Hamm telegraphed from Durango that the local situation is vastly improved, that the new administration is very popular with the better classes, who, though heretofore holding aloof from politics, now have determined to co-operate with the provisional government to restore order.

TENSION HAS RELAXED.

Though the six warships now in Mexican ports will remain there for the present, the tension has so relaxed that Admiral Badger was authorized today to resume the routine drills and maneuvers with the big fleet off Guantanamo, which for the last week has been kept under banked fires in readiness for instant departure for Mexico.

The announcement of the candidacy of Gen. Felix Diaz for the Presidency, though expected, has excited some interest here, as it is felt that the development of his campaign will speedily disclose the existence of any rival candidate and supply the acid test for the existing friendly accord between Diaz and Huerta.

OROZCO [illegible] ASSENT.

Revolutionists Say He Is Only One Authorized to Recognize Huerta's Government.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 28.—Peace delegates representing provisional President Huerta of Mexico, and some of the North Mexico revolutionists met in Nuevo Laredo today. The government envoys announced that the revolutionists had agreed to recognize Huerta. The revolutionists denied this and said that Pascual Orozco, Jr., must officially assent to any arrangement. Government envoys are expected to go to El Paso to see Orozco. The envoy delegates are said to represent Sonora, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Tamaulipas.

ROUGH RIDERS FOR MEXICO.

Colorado Man Recruiting Troop of Cavalry Asks Permission to Pass Through State of Arizona.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 28.—State officials saw a prospect of a Mexican filibuster today in a letter received by Gov. Hunt from John S. Black of Montrose, Colo., who asked permission for an armed and equipped cavalry troop to pass through Arizona.

Black, who wrote on the stationery of the District Court at Montrose, said that the cavalry was being recruited in Eastern Utah and Western Colorado.

MADERO'S BODY REMOVED.

TO BE INTERRED AT OLD HOME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—The body of former President Francisco Madero was taken today to his old home at San Pedro de Los Pinos, for interment in the cemetery there.

Shells Hit Vera Cruz.

ia and Georgia at target practice in the gulf today, killed a man on shore and wounded three fishermen.

Many shots from the American vessels reached land near this city. Great excitement resulted in Vera Cruz and neighboring places. A rumor quickly was circulated that the waters of the gulf were filled with men-o'-war, engaged in mighty battle. The citizens jumped to the conclusion that the entire port was menaced and for a while it looked as if the alarm would swell to panic. The American ships were far out in the gulf, having gone a long distance with a view of avoiding danger to shipping in or near the harbor. By what mishap their guns swerved so that the shots came ashore has not been explained. That enough shots could reach land to cause four casualties was considered astonishing.

Americans in the city, who with difficulty dispelled the rumor of a battle, awaited anxiously tonight information throwing light on the fatal uncertainty of gunnery. United States civilians here deplored the mishap particularly because they already had seen signs that an anti-American spirit was growing throughout the city. One form taken by that sentiment was the refusal of young society men of Vera Cruz to play tennis with the junior officers of the Georgia.

The steamship Ipiranga of the Hamburg-American line sailed from this port late this afternoon carrying several persons who were prominent in the Madero regime. Her passengers included Rafael Hernandez, ex-Minister of Gobernacion and Roquee Gonzalez Garza, the famous ex-Governor of the Federal District. Another survivor of the former administration who took passage on the Ipiranga was Senora Ernesto Madero. All the refugees will stay in Havana until they are joined by other Mexicans made homeless by the fall of President Francisco I. Madero, Jr.

SONORA GOVERNOR DEFIES HUERTA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Conditions in the State of Sonora, where the authorities have refused to adhere to the new administration, were admitted at the National Palace tonight to be serious. It was thought, however, no resort to arms would be needed to bring the recalcitrants into line.

Gen. Gracia Hidalgo solved today at Aguas Calientes, capital of the State of the same name, a problem which no one believed could be settled except with the use of soldiery. Albert Fuentes D., the rebellious Governor of the State, who had fortified himself in the palace and defied Gen. Hidalgo to remove him, surrendered at the last moment today, and Gen. Hidalgo took charge of the State government. This gives the provisional government one more State and materially strengthens its position.

PESQUIERA IS FORTIFIED.

Former Gov. Maytorena of the State of Sonora, is admitted to be in possession of Agua Prieta, Nacozari and Fronteras, along the international border, and Gov. Pesquiera, his successor and personal friend, has fortified himself in the government palace at Hermosillo and surrounded the building with artillery. To suppress this rebellion the government's only available forces are a few regulars at Torin, but probably reinforcements will be sent from Guadalajara to Manzanillo and dispatched from there by boat to the disturbed region.

The investigation by court officials to determine the responsibility for the killing of ex-President Madero and ex-Vice-President Suarez resulted today in the arrest of Marino Luque, a minor politician, who is charged with being the leader of the attacking party.

HUERTA IS SATISFIED.

President Huerta believes the danger of intervention has disappeared.

"The friendly powers have shown confidence in us," said the President today, "and have expressed that confidence through their representatives in this capital. These representatives have explained that the countries believe the new government will bring about an early pacification of the country, which will enable all business enterprises to be conducted along the road of prosperity. This the government also believes."

BANDITS STILL OPERATING.

That President Huerta does not underestimate the task he has undertaken is indicated by a statement he made, when Madero was overthrown, that there were in the country not less than 50,000 rebels under arms, without counting the numerous groups of bandits, whose number, he said, he could not estimate. Many of the bandits and rebels, the President admitted today, are still operating in Morelos, Mex., Durango, Puebla, Tlaxcala and Chihuahua.

"I repeat," said President Huerta, "that to bring about pacification of the country, which, at this time, is a supreme necessity, I shall use all the measures provided by law. It will be absolutely necessary to use that power granted under the suspension of the guarantees in certain places."

This measure gives to the government the right summarily to execute persons found bearing arms or in any manner aiding rebels or bandits.

EXECUTE FIVE ZAPATISTAS.

The execution of five Zapatista leaders in the State of Morelos has served to indicate the sternness with which the government will deal with rebels, but the burning of three more haciendas near Cuernavaca, with a loss of 500,000 pesos, is considered to be an answer to the challenge of the government by one defiant group.

The activity of this faction of the Zapatistas is not indicative, however, of the attitude of all the rebels in the south with whom the agents of the government are conducting negotiations with every prospect of success.

CARRANZA FRIENDLY.

Good news for the government from the north was brought in today by agents claiming to represent Carranza, the rebellious Governor of the State of Coahuila. These agents say Carranza is disposed to recognize Huerta as President, but notwithstanding their assurances the orders of Gen. Trucy Aubert have not been altered and he will push the government campaign in the direction of Saltillo.

An unusual feature of the situation which is causing some concern is the attitude of Col. Francisco Naranja, who is at the head of a thousand men on the railway between Monterey and Laredo and who has not yet indicated his attitude to the government.

Clash.

CANANEA FEARS ARMED CONFLICT.

MADERISTAS THREATEN TO STORM BARRACKS.

Indignant Because Sonora State Congress Failed to Declare Against the Huerta Administration, Miners Demand Rifles and Ammunition. Rebels Maintain Guard.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CANANEA (Mex.) Feb. 28.—Opposing factions here are on the verge of an armed conflict. Closely confined to their quarters in the barracks are 300 Federal troops under the command of Col. Moreno, who has determined that if there is to be a fight, the Maderistas, who have threatened to storm the barracks must take the initiative.

Adherents of Madero, inflamed by the refusal of the Sonora State Congress to declare against the Huerta government and its action in ousting Gov. Maytorena, have been arming themselves. Firearms have been freely displayed in the streets all day and tonight it is estimated that 450 Maderistas are under arms.

Maderistas numbering 300 are organized in the camp and at Pueblo Nuevo, a suburb there is an additional force of 150, all well armed.

MINERS DEMAND RIFLES.

Fifty miners came in from Pueblo Nuevo before daylight this morning and asked the Prefect for rifles and ammunition. The official informed them that all arms and ammunition were kept at the barracks.

The Maderistas have maintained a guard over the City Hall and jail night and day.

The Federal commander placed a detachment of twenty-five men with a machine gun on the old fortifications in the rear of the Cananea Club, an organization of Americans. The station commands all of the principal approaches to the chief section of the city.

REBEL LEADERS MAKE PEACE WITH HUERTA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 28.—The Huerta government was unequivocally recognized today at the peace conference at Nuevo Laredo by representatives of the northern revolutionary leaders. This information was given out tonight by Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., father of the rebel chieftain of the Northern States. Col. Orozco expressed the opinion that peace throughout Mexico now is a question of but a short time.

It is understood a peace pact will be submitted to Pascual Orozco, Jr., within forty-eight hours for his approval. It is said there is every assurance that peace will be arranged.

The most important demand of the revolutionary leaders, it was learned, was that a Minister of Justice acceptable to all factions be appointed as an assurance that justice will be administered impartially and that order will be maintained. Several of the revolutionary delegates expressed the opinion that Rodolfo Reyes, Minister of Justice in the Huerta Cabinet, would be acceptable to Orozco.

Mexican Consul Antonio Lozana stated tonight that Nuevo Laredo as a port of entry probably will be reopened within twenty-four hours.

CLUB TO WORRY ALONG.

Members of Chevy Chase Organization Not to Act on Wilson's Refusal to Join.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Members of the fashionable Chevy Chase Club, whose invitation to honorary membership Woodrow Wilson declined, announced today that in view of the circumstances there was nothing further to be done so far as they were concerned.

It developed that Gov. Wilson's letter was read at a recent meeting of the board of governors of the club when it was decided to take no action. President Hyde had contemplated a special meeting of the club but the members deemed it unnecessary. So far as the club is concerned, the matter will be allowed to rest.

"We thought Mr. Wilson would enjoy being a member," said Mr. Hyde, "and therefore we extended him the courtesy, which would have included Mrs. Wilson and their daughters. Of course, the matter is entirely Mr. Wilson's own business and we have not thought of interfering."

The offer of honorary membership will remain open, according to club officials, who today expressed their belief that the next President, on arriving here, would think otherwise.

SALVADOR MINISTER ARRIVES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Dr. Francisco A. Lima, Special Minister from Salvador to the United States, was received by Secretary of State Knox today to whom he presented his credentials. He comes in the dual capacity of diplomatic representative and special representative at the inauguration of President Wilson.

New Stunts by Wilson.

direct and let the Senate and House machinery carry the work semi-automatically.

NEW PURPOSE INDICATED.

Such "humanly interesting" matters as the announcement from the President-elect that he will make regular use of the President's room near the Senate chamber in the Capitol, so as to be in close touch with the lawmakers at all times; the rejection of invitations to join clubs; the suggestion that social diversions are to be the merest incidents in the White House life—if incidents at all; the proclamation of the open-door policy with respect to the conduct of public business at the White House—all these and other related matters indicate a new sort of purpose.

How will the President manage Congress? That is a very important question of the hour. One way he will set about doing it, in all probability, is through the most cold-blooded exercise of the patronage power. For the first half of his term, at least, that power will be mighty. There is no surer way to get desired action from the journeyman member of Congress than through the aid of the boys back home, who clamor for jobs. A President can turn down a member of Congress seeking a berth for a constituent and the disappointed constituent will have the revenge, not on the President, but on the member of Congress. Those who win patronage favors from the hands of Wilson will have to pay for it by supporting practically without question, the policies advanced from the White House.

TO INFLUENCE PUBLIC.

It is also expected that President Wilson will strive to aid his cause and general programme through careful cultivation of public sentiment throughout the country. It would be hardly more surprising than some of the things that have already developed if the President, in order to help public sentiment out, participated in the flesh in the party caucuses of the lawmakers. There might be an awful howl if he attempted any such unheard-of encroachment of the Executive upon the legislative branch of the government, but would they throw him out? As Governor of New Jersey, Mr. Wilson has gone into the Democratic caucus and there is nothing in his demeanor thus far exhibited to suggest that he would be afraid to try the same thing in the national arena, if occasion warranted.

BIG CROWD FOR INAUGURAL.

But, leaving the big affairs of state that are to follow for a moment, there is the inaugural to consider. A bulletin issued tonight by the Inaugural Committee predicts the largest crowd of visitors in Washington next Tuesday that ever has invaded the capital on a similar occasion. More than a quarter of a million is the figure given. The record now is held by the inaugural of 1905, the estimated number of visitors on that occasion being 181,000.

The Public Comfort Committee chairman says that the railroads have informed him that they expect to bring 200,000 people into Washington during the period March 1 to 4. He believes that an additional 50,000 persons will arrive by boat and the various electric lines extending into Virginia and Maryland. Already a large number of inaugural visitors are in the city, so that the Public Comfort Committee head believes that the estimate of 250,000 visitors is a conservative one.

President-elect Confers With McCombs.

To Witness Inauguration of Successor Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Two little children, a boy of 5 and a girl of 2, gave President-elect Wilson an hour of diversion today when he rode to New York from Philadelphia after a visit to his dentist.

President James McCrea of the Pennsylvania, whose private car happened to be attached to the same train, greeted Mr. Wilson. The railroad president sat with Mr. Wilson for a few minutes, chatting. At the other end of the car was a blue-eyed youngster blowing a toy whistle. He was watching the President-elect and as soon as Mr. Rea left the little fellow proceeded to make the acquaintance of the future President, who received him in his arms, found that his name was Clark Greenwood, Jr., and that he was fond of pulling hair.

WILSON READY LISTENER.

Master Greenwood found Mr. Wilson a ready listener to his infant utterances. He rapidly grew more intimate and soon his acquaintanceship extended to the privilege of fingering the President-elect's ears, rubbing his face and dancing up and down on his knee, all of which Mr. Wilson seemed to enjoy immensely.

A moment later little Clara Greenwood came toddling along from the other end of the car to find her brother and she too was soon on friendly terms with the President-elect. Both children were presently perched safely on the knees of the next President of the United States, unconscious of the unusual situation. Mrs. Clark Greenwood of Narberth, Iowa, mother of the two children, left her youngest child, a baby, for a few moments and chatted with the President-elect.

SEES M'COMBS IN NEW YORK.

Mr. Wilson on arrival in New York went to the studio of an artist who completed a portrait begun during the campaign. Then he met William F. McCombs, Democratic national chairman, and called also on Col. E. M. House. He attended a theater tonight. He plans to leave here tomorrow for Trenton, where at noon he will see the inauguration ceremonies of his successor, Senator James Fielder, president of the State Senate. In the evening the residents of Princeton will give Mr. Wilson a farewell demonstration.

As his train was approaching New York from Philadelphia, the Governor was shown a dispatch from Washington saying Castro had announced in Havana that the President-elect had extended him an invitation to the inauguration. The Governor said it was "unqualifiedly false."

Who's Who?

WILSON NOMINATES CASTRO FOR NEW ANANIAS CLUB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—State Department officials announced today that Minister Beaupre had cabled from Havana that Cipriano Castro, the Venezuelan, announced there that President-elect Wilson had invited him to the inaugural ceremonies. President-elect Wilson upon publication of the report immediately denied having invited Castro and branded any story to that effect as a falsehood.

The Havana newspapers published reports today that it was said Castro had been invited.

The State Department's announcement, however, was a positive one.

If Castro should return to the United States from Cuba his re-entry to this country would not be opposed by Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel. The Secretary declared today that he would regard as binding the decisions of the United States court at New York over-ruling Mr. Nagel's deportation of Castro when he arrived from France.

The Department of Justice is considering an appeal from this decision.

CASTRO DENIES IT.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Feb. 28.—Cipriano Castro, when questioned on the subject of his visit to Washington for the Presidential inauguration, said:

"I have not been invited to the inauguration by President-elect Wilson, but am going on my own accord. You may absolutely and without qualification deny all other stories. Several Cuban newspapers have published stories for which they alone are accountable. I accept no responsibility whatever for them."

SENATE DEFIES HOUSE, VOTES TWO BATTLESHIPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Two battleships were voted into the Naval Appropriation Bill by the Senate tonight after a short discussion of the provision adopted by the House limiting the building programme to one battleship. The two-battleship amendment, offered by the Naval Committee of the Senate, was adopted 38 to 16. An amendment by Senator Brandegee providing for three ships was defeated 21 to 43.

All the other principal items stricken from the bill by the House were also restored with Senator Tillman the only opponent.

The committee made about twenty-five amendments increasing the total by about $13,000,000.

INSIST ON TRANSPORT.

The Senate added to the six torpedo boat destroyers and four submarines authorized by the House, one transport to cost not more than $1,350,000 and one supply ship to cost not more than $1,125,000, the figures in both cases being exclusive of armor and armament. The two battleships would cost not more than $7,425,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament. At the end of an extended debate it was provided that none of the battleships should be built in the government navy yard, after the Senate had defeated an amendment by Senator Oliver to provide that the government build one ship only in case the cost did not amount to more than $600,000 over the cost of building in a private shipyard.

EXPECT DEFEAT IN HOUSE.

The defeat of the two battleship programme in the House is looked for by many members of that body. The House voted one battleship after a long struggle and the one battleship advocates declare they will hold up the entire appropriation bill rather than accept Senate amendments adding the second ship.

The bill as agreed to tonight carries a total appropriation of approximately $150,000,000. A proposal made by Senator Ashurst for an investigation of [illegible] armor plate contracts about to be made by the government for the battleship Pennsylvania was defeated on a point of order. Senator Ashurst said that representatives of the Carnegie, Bethlehem and Midvale steel companies comprising the "armor plate trust," had all stopped at the same hotel in Washington and been frequently together prior to the opening of the government bids. When bids were opened, he said, they did not vary $1 per ton.

OPPOSED TO BILL.

Senators who voted against the two battleship amendment were Bacon, Bristow, Burton, Gore, Johnston, Kern, La Follette, Lea, McCumber, Myers, Pittman, Pomerene, Shively, Smith of Georgia, Smith of South Carolina and Thomas.

The bill finally passed the Senate just before midnight after Senator Thomas of Colorado had made a final and unsuccessful effort to secure the adoption of a one-battleship amendment. In order to enforce its two battleship programme and to hasten the settlement of the issue with the House, the Senate named Senators Perkins, Penrose and Tillman as a Conference Committee to meet a House committee in case the House refuses to accept the two battleship amendment.

WOMAN REFUTES SLINGSBY CHARGE

Wife of Actor Says Baby Was Not Substitute.

Familiar With Circumstances at Time of Birth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That there was born to Mrs. Dorothy Cutler Slingsby a healthy child and that there was no need for substitution of the child of Lillian Anderson and Paul Colvin to inherit the millions of the family of Lieut. Charles Slingsby of England is the declaration made today by Mrs. William Desmond. Mrs. Desmond, a sister of Nance O'Neil, the actress, is a lifelong friend of Mrs. Slingsby.

She returned from Australia with her husband yesterday and is under the care of physicians at the St. Francis Hotel.

Her husband, William Desmond, the actor, today told the story of Mrs. Slingsby's coming to San Francisco so that the child might be born under the best possible conditions. Mrs. Desmond gave her approval of all that her husband said and vouched for its correctness in detail.

FIRST COMPLETE REFUTATION.

The statement of the Desmonds is the first complete refutation of the charge of substitution that has been made since the Slingsbys denied the story themselves.

The charge is that Mrs. Slingsby was in a condition that precluded the probability of the English lieutenant's having an heir to the entailed estates of his ancient family, and that in order that other heirs might not get the estate he and his wife took the child of a school girl, offered it as Slingsby's heir, and returned to England.

Persons who would inherit the property had there been no heir to Slingsby made the charges. In support of the allegations they offered the testimony of Hattie Bain, a nurse and friend of Mrs. Slingsby, and of Dr. W. W. Fraser of Weaverville.

Mrs. Bain said Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco from Vancouver and wanted her child born in the home of Mrs. Bain. According to Mrs. Bain, she refused to permit that, and Mrs. Slingsby went to the Good Friend Hotel. She was disappointed.

SAYS SLINGSBYS ADVERTISED.

Then Mrs. Bain says, she and Mrs. Slingsby advertised for a child for the purpose of substitution.

Mrs. Bain says that Dr. Fraser supplied the child of Lillian Anderson and Paul Colvin, which, they say, is the child Mrs. Slingsby since has presented as her own child in the Good Friend Hotel.

Dr. Fraser made a sworn statement that he was a party to the alleged substitution. Dr. Fraser is under arrest and is to be tried either on a charge of altering a public record or on charge of perjury in making affidavit according as the developments of the case warrant.

Physicians of high repute have made affidavits that Mrs. Slingsby was mother in the highest sense of the word.

Now comes the Desmonds to add their testimony to that on the side of the Slingsbys. The child was born to Mrs. Slingsby, she says, about July 1, 1910. This date agrees with the dates fixed by others who have appeared in the case.

"We sailed for Australia two and a half years ago," said Desmond today. "Mrs. Desmond and Mrs. Slingsby had been life-long friends. We met Charlie Slingsby and Mrs. Slingsby in the North before Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco.

DESMOND'S STORY.

"Mrs. Desmond told me soon after we met the Slingsbys in the North that soon there would be an addition to the Slingsby family.

"Subsequently Mrs. Slingsby came to San Francisco so that her baby might be born under the best care obtainable.

"Mrs. Desmond was not very well at the time and went out but little.

"Then we were packing for the trip to Australia and we saw little of Mrs. Slingsby for perhaps a week before we sailed. But Mrs. Slingsby told us she was under the care of her friend, Mrs. Bain.

"I remember distinctly one day that Mrs. Bain called Mrs. Desmond on the telephone and announced that a fine, healthy boy had just been born to Mrs. Slingsby.

CALLS IT SILLY STORY.

"There never was the slightest question in our minds about Mrs. Slingsby and her baby. In fact, we often referred to it while away, and you may imagine our astonishment when we returned yesterday and heard that there was a dispute about the child.

"We regard it as a silly story to say that Mrs. Slingsby did not have a healthy child."

TRAIN HITS AUTO AMIDSHIPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. A. Marckres, a retired capitalist of San Jose, was rendered unconscious and seriously hurt, while his son, Dr. C. C. Marckres, and chauffeur, George Green, were tossed several feet and painfully injured today when their automobile collided with a speeding Southern Pacific train at East Fourteenth and Forty-fifth streets, Oakland.

Women aboard the train became frightened, several of them receiving minor bruises as they were thrown from their seats by the sudden stopping of the train.

The three injured automobilists are at the Oakland Receiving Hospital. The elder Marckres lives at No. 191 South Tenth street, San Jose. His son is a dentist, living at No. 73 West St. James street, San Jose.

With George Green, the chauffeur, at the wheel, the two men started for Oakland to attend to business affairs, and were making a fair rate of speed when Green started to cross the Southern Pacific tracks. He had seen the approaching train, but believed that he could cross before its approach. The train struck the machine full in the middle and hurled it with its occupants twenty or thirty feet.

The automobile was reduced to a mass of twisted metal and splintered wood. Beneath this mass of debris the elder Marckres was pinioned.

Passengers of the train and the crew hurried to their aid. First they raised the wreckage of the automobile and extricated the aged victim. Then Dr. Marckres and the chauffeur were assisted to their feet. Temporary treatment was given them pending the arrival of an ambulance. They were then rushed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that their injuries, though painful, are not of a very serious nature.

DREAMER FLEES FROM GUILLOTINE

SAN FRANCISCO YOUTH RUSHES MADLY IN HIS SLEEP.

Clad in Night Garments He Plunges Through Glass Door to Escape Men He Imagined Were Going to Escort Him to Auto Bandits' Fate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In his dreams Harry Wright of No. 240 Geary street shortly after midnight found two strange men standing at his bedside.

To the dreamer both were armed officers of France, who advised him that he had been identified as one of the notorious automobile bandits, that he had been condemned to death, and that they had come to act as an escort to the guillotine.

RUSHES FROM ROOM.

Wright was terrorized by the appearance of the dream officers. Intent upon escape he jumped from his bed, rushed out of his room clad only in his night garments and ran all the way to the home of his friend, Harry Cody, who lives in Third avenue, nearly two miles away.

The "French officers" were close behind the fleeing man all the way, and to get away from them, Wright, when he reached the Cody home, plunged headlong through the glass panel in the front door of the house.

BADLY CUT ABOUT LEGS.

Then he woke up. Wright was frightfully cut about the legs by his plunge through the glass panel of the door and was taken to the Park Hospital for temporary treatment. From there he was removed to the Central Emergency, where he is now under the care of a surgeon.

POPPY PLANTS FOR SCHOOLS.

CALIFORNIA TO SEND MILLION TO EASTERN PUPILS.

First Shipment of State Flower Will Be Forwarded March Tenth and Each Individual Student Who Has Sent Request Will Be Remembered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—The first shipment of California poppies to the school children of the Middle East will leave Sacramento March 10. In the shipment will be several thousand individual plants, and each one addressed to some scholar in the East and sent by a student of the local High School.

The Floral Committee today received 1300 requests for poppies from Illinois and Indiana. Nearly a million poppy plants will be sent to the school children of the East by local students this summer. Each plant will be inclosed in a neat little cardboard carton bearing the name of the sender.

The plan is to place in the hands of the High School children of the agricultural districts in the East California poppy plants in full bloom. Thus will the famous California State flower become well known in districts where it has only hitherto been known in word and picture.

Controller Nye Discovers He Made Mistake in Figuring Up School Appropriation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Attaches of State Controller Nye's office who prepared the recent statement summarizing appropriations requested of the Legislature today, discovered an error in their computations which increases the sum asked approximately two millions. The item found to contain errors was that proposing an increase in the amount of money apportioned to elementary and high schools.

The annual increase in State support to schools would be $1,900,000 if a bill proposing an apportionment of $18 instead of $13 a pupil now in effect is passed. In making up the summary the Controller's office made the proposed $1,900,000 annual increase appear as a biennial increase.

The amount should have been just twice that amount or $3,800,000.

SEVEN BIDS FOR HIGHWAY.

Commissioners Will Award Contract for Piece of Road in Los Angeles County on Inauguration Day.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bids for seventeen and one-half miles of highway construction work in Los Angeles and Mendocino counties were opened today by the California highway commissioners.

Awards for the work will probably be made at the regular meeting of the Highway Commission March 4.

One piece of construction work called for ten miles of oiled concrete road in Los Angeles county from Rancho Encino to Calabasas. The highway engineers estimate for the work about $61,151. The bids received for this work were, J. H. Considine, Los Angeles, $61,205; Leigh G. Gornsey, Los Angeles, $62,999; Rogers Brothers, Los Angeles, $61,389; J. M. Montgomery, Alhambra, $62,990; George Venson, & Sons, Los Angeles, $68,288; Bent & Pennebaker, Los Angeles, $85,732; John D. March, Los Angeles, $55,555.

The Los Angeles county section of the State highway is designated as division 7, route 2, section B.

In Mendocino county, the work on which construction companies submitted bids, called for seven and one-half miles of water board macadam from Ukiah to Forsyth Creek.

The Los Angeles section calls for the excavation of 19,400 cubic yards unclassified work and requires 10,500 cubic yards of cement concrete.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instead of overestimating the size of the tremendous raid planned on the State treasury in bills so far introduced in the Legislature this winter, the report, immediately after the adjournment of the January session, fell short of the whole truth. This is shown conclusively in the careful summary just completed by State Controller Nye.

Nearly fifty-nine millions, instead of fifty-two millions, as then estimated, is the astounding total. And it is the more astounding when the fact is considered that the State Controller has eliminated all bills which practically duplicate others. His figures are net.

The total of the Controller's figures, as carried in the press report the first of the week, was something over thirty-seven millions. But this total did not include more than eleven millions for the State schools, nor the proposed ten-million bond issue, which is an administration measure.

Add this ten millions to the following summary of nearly forty-nine millions, issued by the State Controller, and the whole truth of the riot of proposed extravagance is revealed:

ACID BURNS BICYCLIST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frightfully burned as a result of the shattering of a bottle of carbolic acid in his pocket when he fell from his bicycle, William Harrison, 15 years old, a drug clerk in an Oakland drug store, is in a precarious condition at the Oakland Receiving Hospital.

It is believed he cannot survive.

Harrison was delivering the acid on his wheel. He seized the rear of an automobile to help him on his way, clinging to his bicycle with one hand. His wheel slipped and threw him heavily to the pavement. He was burned on the face, chest, arms and legs. He was rushed to the hospital screaming with pain.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Wholesale absinthe dealers of the State who have on hand stock representing several thousand dollars which they cannot sell under the order of the Department of Agriculture, effective October 1 last, will appear before the State Board of Health tomorrow in an effort to get that body to appeal to the government for further time for the disposal of their goods. The order of the Department of Agriculture is absolute and forbids the sale or shipment of the liquor outside of the State.

SONOMA LEADS IN POULTRY.

Heads Counties of State in Value of Chickens and Eggs Produced, Says Secretary of State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Sonoma county, long famous as a fruit-producing section, has added to its laurels by taking the lead among the fifty-eight counties of California in number of poultry owned, in annual egg production and in value of poultry and eggs produced, according to figures that have been compiled by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan for publication in the State Blue Book.

At the same time the county has maintained its fame as a fruit section, ranking second in the number of bearing apple trees and plum and prune trees; third in number of bearing orchard fruit trees, third in smaller fruit product, and fourth in grape product. In an agricultural way the county has also made a good showing, being credited with an increase in the value of farm property in ten years of 67.4 per cent.

The county is credited with having the largest berry district in the country, the Sebastopol region alone producing 80 per cent. of California's berry crop in 1910. The county is also said to be one of the largest dry-wine districts in the United States, producing between 10,000,000 and 12,500,000 gallons annually in its 150 wineries and distilleries.

NOTED ENGINEER DIES.

Roy W. Fairbanks, Original Surveyor of Mizpah Mine in Tonopah, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roy W. Fairbanks, one of the best-known mining engineers in the West and the original engineer on the Mizpah mine in Tonopah, died late last night at a local hospital from pneumonia contracted in the new mining camp of Rochester, where Mr. Fairbanks was interested in large properties.

Fairbanks had been in Nevada twelve years and was the first surveyor for the Tonopah Mining Company. He made the original survey for the Tonopah and Goldfield Railroad. He did work in Gold Circle and Jarbidge. More recently he was in the service of the Nevada Mills Mining Company. He was 36 years old and a graduate of the Michigan School of Mines.

I. A. Fairbanks, a brother in Waterman, Iowa, is on his way West to take charge of the body. Fairbanks before his death stated that Rochester would be one of the great low-grade mining camps of Nevada. He contracted pneumonia through exposure in the new mining camp.

State Board of Equalization Starts Monday to Set Valuations on Twenty Thousand Franchises.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Members of the State Board of Equalization are preparing to commence Monday the work of assessing corporation franchises for 1913, a job which will occupy them at least until July.

Richard Collins, a member of the board, said today that about 20,000 corporations are to report on their assets. About one-sixth of the reports already have been filed.

Wrecked By Drink Saved By Neal Treatment

Redemption of a Business Man—A Neal Institute Incident.

A man who had "run through" with $12,000 in eight months, lost the affection of his wife—who had divorced him—and who drank his business into the hands of a receiver, was brought to the Neal Institute a year ago. He was so badly poisoned with alcohol that the craving for drink had become stronger than his will-power to resist.

In three days the Neal Drink Habit Treatment removed the craving and necessity for drink—without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections—and restored him to his family and business, a sober, useful man.

This is only one of thousands of similar incidents that happen every year at fifty-eight Neal Institutes.

For further information call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, or write or phone G. U. Neal, manager, for Dr. Neal's free book. Home Treatment can be arranged for those who desire it. Phones Broadway 4602; A4072. Ocean Park Neal Institute, 160 Hill Street.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] The "movies" and more particularly, the handsome Sheriff of Shanko, who captures bandits and rescues distressed maidens, have separated Samuel Sancik, a wealthy Manhattan fur manufacturer, and his bride, Jennie, who is 18 years old.

In answer to Mrs. Rancik's suit for a separation the fur dealer said she imagined him cruel because he was not bold and brave and good looking like the sheriff.

The little wife's infatuation for the big western cowpuncher, who was only known to her on the flickering screen, lured the wife from her household duties, her husband charges.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 28.—Dr. B. Clark Hyde's purchase of cyanide shortly before the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope with the explanation that he wanted the drug "to kill dogs" was the point which the State attempted to bring out at today's session of the Hyde murder trial.

Clerks in a drug store told of selling Dr. Hyde cyanide in quantities that alarmed them. Senator Reed, clerks, shook a large bottle of white substance, which he said, contained "enough of the deadly dry to slay a multitude."

The jurors shuddered as Senator Reed repeatedly shook the bottle, and the defense objected.

SCORE OF BODIES BURIED IN OMAHA HOTEL FIRE.

Sudden Blaze Which Breaks Out Early in the Morning in Three-Story Building Reduces It to a Mass of Ruins Before the Occupants Can Escape—Only Four Bodies So Far Have Been Recovered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Feb. 28.—A score of bodies are believed to lie tonight beneath the debris of the fire which destroyed the Dewey Hotel here today. Ceaseless toil during the day and late into the night of firemen and other city employees failed to uncover the bodies of the guests of the little hostelry who lost their lives. Estimates of the number of victims, which ran as high as seventy-five, dwindled during the day to as low as ten or a dozen, but all indications tonight were that at least a score, and possibly more, persons lost their lives in the fire.

The register of the hotel so far as is now known was lost in the fire and the names of those who died in the flames probably never will be known. Tonight only four bodies of victims had been recovered. These were those of persons who either jumped from open windows or died from exposure or injuries.

LIST OF DEAD.

They were:

CHARLES CUMMINGS, a bartender.

Unidentified man, nude body recovered by firemen before interior of building collapsed.

MRS. ALICE BONNEVUE, sister of Mrs. C. E. Wilkins, wife of the proprietor of the hotel.

CHARLES BEVERLY, employed by a local commission firm.

THE INJURED.

Some of the injured:

Mrs. C. E. Wilkins, went insane.

Lydia Nelson, No. 2324 Dodge street, burned on face and head.

Iona Jennings, overcome by smoke.

Mark Henningway, Ewing, Neb., overcome by smoke. May die.

Clara Newman, overcome by smoke.

Unidentified woman, overcome by smoke; will probably die.

Swedish housekeeper, Tina, went insane.

E. C. Stiss, overcome by smoke.

MAN JUMPS TO DEATH.

Cummings's brother arrived in the city this morning from Pittsburgh to visit him, only to learn of his tragic death. He had jumped from the third floor to the sidewalk, his head and body being badly crushed.

The fire occurred at an hour when few persons were in the vicinity and the interior of the building was a mass of flames before the firemen arrived. Not less than fifty persons were sleeping in the building at the time, and estimates of the number run as high as seventy-five. At least thirty are known to have made their escape from the structure.

MOSTLY NEBRASKANS.

About a third of the guests were Nebraskans who had come to the city to attend an automobile show. Most of these had rooms near the exits and so far as known all escaped to the street, although most of them lost their clothing and valuables and several were injured.

Owing to the inflammable nature of the interior, the structure was ruined and the entire interior collapsed and fell into the basement. Here, beneath hundreds of tons of debris, tonight lie the dead bodies of the victims. It may require two days to remove them from the death cellar.

FIFTY WERE REGISTERED.

The night clerk, who escaped narrowly with his own life, declared there probably were twenty not registered.

Watchmen, policemen and others believe not more than a dozen persons escaped the burning structures, which was entirely wrapped in flames when the first fire companies reached the scene.

So suddenly did the flames reach every part of the building that few of those asleep on the digerent floors had time to reach windows and none was able to get to the fire escape.

TRIES TO SAVE SISTER.

Mrs. C. E. Hawkins, who, with her sister, had a room on the second boor, facing the alley in the rear, dragged her sister, Miss Alice Bonnevue, to the window. There Miss Bonnevue collapsed, and Mrs. Hawkins was forced to jump for her own life. Two policemen broke her fall, but she was badly injured. Her sister's body is in the ruins.

Jesse D. Nold, night clerk, was the last living person to leave the building. He opened the door of his office, on the second floor, when he heard an explosion and was driven back by a puff of smoke and flame. He attempted to rouse a few guests on that floor, but was forced to go to the street almost overcome to save his own life. The few guests who escaped from the second story windows or from the one entrance on the Thirteenth-street side did so in scanty attire. They were carried to a drug store across the street and to a near-by restaurant and later cared for at neighboring hotels.

WATCHMAN DISCOVERS BLAZE.

A block watchman, who had entered the hotel to report, discovered the fire and turned in a still alarm by telephone, and brought out the entire downtown fire-fighting force.

When the firemen reached the scene, the building was a mass of flames.

Firemen saw many forms at windows in two upper stories, but before ladders could be raised, the roof began to cave in and not a single person was rescued. That the basement into which the burning interior fell within a half hour after the fires started, contains not less than forty bodies, is the belief of Fire Chief Salter. There was no way in which to reach them for many hours after the building collapsed. The rear walls fell in on the mass and all were buried beneath hundreds of tons of debris. It is believed the fire started in the rear, probably in the furnace room of the basement. Persons in the vicinity at the time say there was an explosion, apparently of gas, and in a few minutes the entire interior was in flames.

SUGGESTS STRIKING FIGURE.

Appropriation Urged for Two Californians in Statuary Hall—James Marshall Is Proposed for One.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] W. A. Shepard, secretary to Congressman Raker, today wrote Clarence E. Jarvis of Sutter Creek, Cal., who is president of the Native Sons of California, urging the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West to interest themselves in having the California Legislature make an appropriation for installing two statues in Statuary Hall in the national capital, as is the allotment by law to each State in the Union.

Mr. Shepard urges that the statue of James Marshall, discoverer of gold in California, be one of the two, as not only typical and representative, but, as Mr. Shepard states, "it would be the most striking figure in Statuary Hall."

WIPE OUT PARTY FARES.

Western Railroads Decide to Make Change in Territory Between Chicago and the Missouri.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Western railroads have decided to wipe out the last party fares in existence in the territory between Chicago and the Missouri River, and a meeting of rate clerks was held in Chicago today to check up tariffs and make necessary changes. The fares will be withdrawn effective April 15.

The rates now to be wiped out, say railroad men, have been a considerable nuisance and have resulted in almost nil so far as profit to roads is concerned. The government principally has taken advantage of them to route business via round about routes, where land grant rates apply, forcing other lines to meet fares on a non-remunerative basis.

The movement, it was explained today, would supplement the work in England, where $150,000 is being raised to relieve Capt. Scott's estate of the liabilities he incurred personally for the expedition.

Admiral Peary has subscribed $10[illegible] and Joseph H. Choate, former Ambassador to Great Britain, a similar amount.

FIRST PATIENT IN AMERICA.

Friedmann Makes Promise to Steel Magnate.

German Doctor Confers With Federal Surgeons.

Two Sanatorium Directors Investigate Cure.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann of Berlin, who declares he has discovered a remedy for tuberculosis, today promised Robert B. Robison, a Pittsburgh steel magnate, that the latter should be his first patient in the United States.

Mr. Robison called on Dr. Friedmann at the Waldorf with Charles E. Finlay, president of the Aetna National Bank, who some time ago offered to give the German scientist $1,000,000 if he would bring his discovery here and cure ninety-five patients out of 100. It is said Mr. Robison will try the cure as soon as Dr. Friedmann can find quarters in which to begin his treatment of patients. The wealthy Pittsburgher, it is said, has been in various sanatoriums in Colorado, but determined to come here the moment he heard the Berlin scientist was coming to this country.

PATIENT DOING WELL.

Dr. Pitzele, a medical director for Ohio sanatoriums, was another caller today. He said he had sent a patient over to Berlin six weeks ago to be treated by Dr. Friedmann and had received word that the patient was doing very well.

REPORT TO SURGEON-GENERAL.

As a result of a conference in which Dr. Friedmann, Surgeon John F. Anderson, director of the hygienic laboratory of the Public Health Service, and Surgeon Milton Y. Foster, head of the Immigration Hospital on Ellis Island, participated, it is said, a report will be made to Surgeon-General Blue in Washington and he will decide whether the United States government will make an official test of the remedy.

Dr. Friedmann, accompanied by his brother and his secretary, spent some time today endeavoring to get a suite of rooms in the neighborhood of the Waldorf, where he will conduct his treatment.

ARKANSAS INVESTIGATES.

One of the physician's callers today was Dr. Robinson Bosworth, head of a tuberculosis sanatorium at Booneville, Ark. Accompanying him is a wealthy patient whom Dr. Friedmann had promised to treat. Dr. Bosworth is also to report to the Arkansas authorities upon the efficacy of the new serum.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Representative Sherwood of Ohio recently wrote President-elect Wilson suggesting that the question of Philippine independence be put ahead of the tariff and currency at the extra session of Congress. GARMENT STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

Workers Accept the Terms of Manufacturers.

Open-Shop Principle Wins in New York City.

Fifty Thousand Employees to Resume at Once.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The garment workers' strike, in progress here since early January, involving at its height 150,000 or more workers, officially was declared off tonight.

The workers accepted the manufacturers' terms, which included a raise in pay, revision of certain working conditions, arbitration as to hours and the open-shop principle.

The settlement was announced by Marcus M. Marks of the National Civic Federation. The terms agreed upon are substantially: Immediate return of all workers with an advance of $1 a week to workers in tailor shops who are paid by the week, with a proportionate advance to piece workers, the question of hours to be determined by a committee, the findings to be a "basis of establishing a standard of working hours per week that will maintain the industry on a competitive basis with other markets for the present and for the future;" no reduction in prices in a dull season, the maintenance of sanitary conditions, abolition of subcontracting, the wages of cutters to be agreed upon between firms and their employees.

FINAL CONDITIONS.

The final condition was: "There shall be no discrimination in the re-employment of workers."

The strike called the first of the year by the garment workers paralyzed practically the entire garment industry of the city. Rioting in which women were prominent was frequent.

Settlements with individual manufacturers and by trades as a whole was begun last month and by degrees all the workers on women's garments and the white goods workers went back to their shops. As nearly as could be estimated tonight, about 50,000 workers remained out in the men's and boys' clothing trades. These, it is expected, will all go back at once.

TREATMENTS START MONDAY.

Prediction That in Two Weeks, Those Barely Able to Get About Will Walk Erect.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At 8 o'clock on Monday morning, in an office on the second floor of No. 339 Fifth avenue, Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, who says he has discovered a cure for tuberculosis, will begin to show the American public just what he can do.

His secretary, Charles de V. Hundt made this announcement today. He said with every evidence of sincerity that consumptives barely able to drag themselves to the office would come again inside of two weeks, walking erect and with signs that the cure has taken effect.

Dr. Friedmann said that his only purpose in coming to this country was to insure a correct application of his remedy. He said details of the preparation of his serum would be given to physicians to benefit the greatest possible number of sufferers.

Dr. Friedmann announced that the first patient to present him or herself at the office Monday morning will be the first patient to be treated. He will ask all patients as to their financial condition. If able to pay, a fee will be charged, if not, the treatment will be free.

CONFIRM DEATH OF EMILIO.

Ambassador Wilson Reports Shooting of Third of Madero Family in Northern States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Official announcement of the killing of Emilio Madero, brother of the former President of Mexico, reported several times recently was contained today in a dispatch from Ambassador Wilson, who reported Madero shot while leading a rebel force in the northern States. This brings the death list of Maderos in the recent Mexican troubles up to three.

No confirmation has been received of the reported death of Raoul Madero, another brother.

Conditions in Southern Mexico, Ambassador Wilson reports, seem rapidly to be improving. The Governor of Yucatan, brother-in-law to former Vice-President Suarez, is reported to have advised the Huerta government of his submission, as have the Governors of Tabasco, Oaxaca and Campeche. The Consul at Nogales, reporting Maderist activities in Eastern Sonora, says a band of rebels is gathering to oppose the Huerta government.

Reporting the burning of fifteen bridges on the Mexican Central Railway, north of Torreon, the Consul at Durango says there is a rumor that Capa's rebel band of 1200 shortly will lay down arms.

Tenant Farmer Gets Best of Kaiser, Who Said He Was "Thrown Out Because He Was no Good."

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ELBING (Germany) Feb. 28.—Emperor William today lost a lawsuit brought against him by a tenant farmer named Sohst, whom he boasted during a recent speech that he had "thrown out because he was no good."

The District Court decided that the Emperor was not entitled to terminate the lease of his tenant, which ran until 1918.

STORM SWEEPS ALABAMA.

ATLANTA (Ga.) Feb. 28.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Four persons, three of them negroes, perished, many were injured and property valued at several hundred thousand dollars damaged by a severe wind and rain storm which swept Alabama, Georgia and Florida yesterday. Central Alabama suffered most.

WILSON DENIES STORY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Gov. Wilson this afternoon branded as untrue the report from Havana that he had invited Cipriano Castro to attend the inaugural ceremonies. "It is unqualifiedly false," said the Governor.

CAPITALIST COMMITS SUICIDE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 28.—Thomas F. Flynn, a capitalist, committed suicide in his apartments here early today by gas. Flynn left a note saying domestic troubles had caused him to end his life. His wife recently sued him for divorce, and last week Telia McCoy, formerly a telephone girl here, but now of Seattle, sued him for $5000, alleging breach of contract.

X-RAY PIONEER LOSES ARM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 28.—Dr. J. N. Scott, one of the pioneers in the introduction of medical use of the X-ray into America, parted yesterday with his right hand as a result of his experiments with the ray. His arm was amputated above the wrist to save his life.

BRIBE IN ANTI-SNUFF BILL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BISMARCK (N. D.) Feb. 28.—B. J. Ness was found guilty last night by a Legislative Investigation Committee of having attempted to bribe members of the North Dakota Legislature in connection with a fight against the anti-snuff bill. The committee exonerated seven members of the Legislature.

UNIQUE CAUSES OF DIVORCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—"Divorces seem to be granted here because a husband has a wooden leg, or because a wife pulled him out of bed by the whiskers, because the wife appropriated the husband's percolating coffee pot, or because a husband kept a beer saloon. A nurse married a sick man expecting him to die, and then sued him and secured a divorce on the ground of fraud when he recovered." In these words Francis Minor Moody, secretary of the Illinois Commission on Marriage and Divorce, characterized before a meeting last night of the Empire Club of Chicago the extent of the present evils which the commission is exerting itself to remedy.

GETS HIS WATCH BACK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—When Dr. Peter J. Peel discovered that he had been robbed of his watch in a fashionable cafe here last night, he remembered that a man sitting near him had jostled him in entering. He noticed where the man he suspected had hung his overcoat, thrust his hand into the pocket and found two watches, his own and another. He took both while the owner of the coat watched him without a word. Dr. Peel will advertise for the owner of the second watch.

ACCUSED OF LAND FRAUD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Clint W. Roberts, indicted on sixteen counts at San Antonio, Tex., for land deals, was arrested here yesterday afternoon, through a trap laid by Mrs. Osa Hutchinson, formerly his stenographer, who has been detained by the police for several days. It is charged that about 550,000 acres of land in Brooks and Duval counties, Texas, are involved in the frauds and that about 300 persons were defrauded.

BLUE PROMISES FREE TREATMENT

SURGEON - GENERAL ACCEPTS FRIEDMANN'S TERMS.

If Tuberculosis Cure, After Thorough Scientific Test, Proves Efficacious, It Will Be Made Available to All Sufferers—Federal Physicians Convinced of Doctor's Earnestness.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If Dr. Friedmann, the German medical specialist, really has found a cure or reliable remedy for tuberculosis, sufferers from that malady in the United States will have opportunity to obtain treatment free through the United States government by courtesy of the discoverer of the cure.

This announcement was made by Surgeon-General Blue of the Pacific Health Service tonight following a conference which he had with Surgeon John F. Anderson in charge of the hygienic laboratory.

While Surgeon Anderson was convinced of the earnestness of the Berlin specialist, the Public Health Service is not prepared to give the cure its stamp of approval until actual experiments have demonstrated its worth.

SURGEON-GENERAL ACCEPTS.

Surgeon-General Blue has wired his acceptance of Dr. Friedmann's conditions, and as soon as the culture is received experiments will be put under way in the hygienic laboratory under the personal direction of Surgeon Anderson. Exhaustive experiments will be made upon guinea pigs, rats, monkeys and other animals used for this purpose.

In the meantime, an officer, as stipulated by Dr. Friedmann, will be detailed for instruction duty under him in New York. Dr. Friedmann informed Surgeon Anderson that under no circumstances would he permit the use of this serum by any one until he had taken a course of instruction, ranging from six to eight weeks in the administering of it and treatment of patients.

Take That Fur Coat——Off Your Tongue!

IT feels like a fur coat, it is a fur coat and you won't be well till you take it off. As sure as fate your tongue can tell you every morning whether your system needs attention. Follow this advice immediately and your bowel troubles will be few. A whitish-yellow coat indicates a stomach and intestinal disorder. That coat consists of Bacteria, destroyed cells and vegetable organisms (fungi), and runs all the way up from your intestinal tract.

TO TAKE IT OFF YOU MUST CLEAN OUT YOUR BOWELS. Don't wait till to-night. Do it now. Take a laxative that acts QUICKLY, within an hour or so. HUNYADI JANOS WATER, the natural laxative, does it and does it well. No griping, no reminder. ½ glass when you get up in the morning, or at any time on an empty stomach. At all Druggists.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR WILSON.

TRACK WALKER FLAGS TRAIN TO PREVENT ACCIDENT.

President-elect on Way to Philadelphia Is Delayed Forty Minutes When Broken Rail Is Discovered, Which Would Probably Have Ditched Pennsylvania Limited.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Woodrow Wilson, President-elect, who was on his way from this city to New York this afternoon, was invited by Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, to lunch with Mr. Rea in his private car. Mr. Wilson declined the invitation, which was given by Mr. Rea in person, and instead he ate in the public dining car.

Mr. Rea's car was attached to the train at Broad-street station. President-elect Wilson was delayed forty minutes on his way from Princeton to Philadelphia this morning by a broken rail near the Tacony station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Five minutes before Wilson's train was due a track walker discovered a broken rail.

Chicago Seeress Is Given Twenty-five Years in Penitentiary for Killing Her Son.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Louise Lindloff, seeress and spiritualist, was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary today by Judge Windes for the murder of her son Arthur. Mrs. Lindloff was calm when sentence was pronounced.

"There is nothing for me to pass upon here. The defendant has received a fair and impartial trial," said Judge Windes. "Is there any reason why final sentence should not be imposed upon the defendant?"

"None at all, your honor," was the firm answer of the convicted woman, "except that I am innocent."

Governor of Sonora, Mex., Asks for Contributions to Tide Over Emergency.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 28.—Confronted by an empty treasury, Gov. Antonio Pesquiera today called on banks and mercantile houses at Hermosillo and Guaymas for contributions to tide over the emergency. Merchants express fear that forced loans will be demanded by the provisional government established when Gov. Maytorena was ousted. Maytorena is supposed to have escaped to the American side of the line. His whereabouts is not known, as he fled on a horse after the wrecking of his special train.

Restrictive Rules Enforced in San Francisco.

Fear of Legislative Action Prompts Obedience.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Promptly at 12 o'clock tonight, San Francisco's Barbary Coast was closed.

Most of the resorts ceased to do business under the system that has been in vogue since the days when San Francisco was a mining camp.

For at midnight the new regulations adopted by the Board of Police Commissioners were put into operation. These are so stringent that the dance halls were forced to close because they cannot be run at a profit under the new restrictions.

RESTRICTIVE RULES.

The rules forbid the employment of women on a commission basis as solicitors for the sale of drinks.

No women slummers will be admitted to the resorts.

No liquor will be sold in resorts described as questionable.

No bright lights will be permitted over the doorways of such places.

No woman under 21 years of age will be admitted to any resort at any time.

That the recreation which is described as "hopping," is forbidden by the rule that women employed in one place may not visit another.

Commissions on the sale of drinks in dance halls are wiped out and the proprietors are warned that if they wish to retain women to sell liquor the women must be paid salaries.

RESTAURANTS REMAIN.

None of these rules apply to resorts that operate as restaurants. These will be permitted to flourish undisturbed.

On this point, the members of the North Beach Promotion Association protested with vigor. They declared that while the new rules will drive out of business some of the resorts in Pacific street between Kearny and Sansome, they will not reach other places that operate under the protection of restaurant attachments.

Members of the improvement organization expressed the opinion that exemption of restaurants will lead to resorts adding restaurants features and going merrily on with the dance. As if to prove the improvers to be prophets, several of the resort owners have expressed their intention of applying for restaurant permits. By that means, they declare, they will be able to determine whether the regulations are discriminatory.

CLOSE DANCE HALLS.

But for the present, they see no way out of their predicament except to close the dance halls, pending action on their applications for licenses to conduct restaurants. This view of the situation was taken after two unsuccessful attempts yesterday to have the rules amended so that they might operate as of old with a few new restrictions.

First of all, they appealed to Mayor Rolph. They declared that putting the women who solicit drinks on a salary basis would prove so expensive that they could not operate. They promised to exclude women slummers and to do almost anything else that might be asked, if only they were permitted to continue the women employees on a commission basis. Mayor Rolph referred them to the Police Commission, which met last night.

"RED" KELLY PROTESTS.

So their spokesman, "Red" Kelly of the Midway and representative of the Hippodrome, the Thalia, and other places, accompanied Attorney Herbert Choynski to the meeting of the commission last night.

They asked an extension of time before the new regulations should become operative.

That request was promptly denied, even though they offered to post schedules of the prices of drinks, to exclude women slummers and to keep their places closed during the day and to operate only between 6 p.m., and 5 a.m.

FEAR LEGISLATIVE ACTION.

Senator Grant of San Francisco, who has introduced in the upper house of the Legislature a bill to regulate vice, said that he had reason to believe the resorts of San Francisco are not making a fight against suppression orders of the local authorities until after the Legislature adjourns, in the hope of convincing the lawmakers that present regulations are effective.

Grant said he had information that word had been passed down the line among the resorts to lie low until the possibility of more stringent laws had passed.

Several hundred musicians will be thrown out of work by the new regulations.

J. P. MORGAN UNCONSCIOUS.

Financier Probably Owes Life to Presence of Doctor in His Party.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless From Chicago to The Times.]

CAIRO, Feb. 28.—J. Pierpont Morgan owes his life, probably, to Dr. Tribes's presence on the financier's trip up the Nile and the prompt and efficient treatment the doctor gave when Mr. Morgan was seized with a severe and most threatening attack of spasmodic cramps in his stomach. As it was Mr Morgan fainted repeatedly while the attack lasted and after it was unconscious for several hours.

Rosalie Jones's Army.

Rosalie Jones and her tired comrades locked arms and in two lines clung together, moving only when police could clear the way for a short advance.

In every block they were halted repeatedly, the crowds greeting them everywhere along the line with tempestuous demonstration. Men and women alike braved the horses' hoofs and automobiles of the suffrage army escort to grasp the hands of the suffrage pilgrims.

Though no brass band heralded the survivors who seventeen days ago left New York for the advance on Washington, a bedlam of sound rent the air from the moment the hikers were in sight of the capital until they were jammed into a struggling mass of men, women, automobiles and carriages before suffrage headquarters.

Automobile horns and whistles kept up a din accompanying the shouts of the spectators. Even the street grand stands, erected for inauguration day, were jammed with people, despite the efforts of the guards to keep back the crowds.

When the headquarters was reached so dense was the throng that the people with great difficulty cleared a narrow pathway through which the marchers could pass to the crowning glory of their achievement at suffrage headquarters. Here, as soon as she could get her breath, "Gen." Jones, lifted by stalwart attendants to an automobile, addressed the crowd. Shouting through a megaphone, the message of equal suffrage and giving thanks for the end of the long and hazardous tramp of her army, she begged indulgence, promising to "talk you to death" before she left Washington.

Elizabeth Foley, "war horse" of the suffrage army, and Miss Catherine Burns, also spoke briefly, but their words were lost in deafening cheers.

For twenty minutes the army waited in the streets until the police could disperse the crowd and then they were rushed into the office of the suffrage workers, where they remained but a moment and were taken to hotels for a brief rest before luncheon.

The marchers were greatly relieved when informed of the receipt of a telegram from national suffrage headquarters, announcing regret that there had been a misunderstanding over who should deliver the suffrage message to President-elect Wilson.

"Gen." Jones was assured that her pilgrims would be permitted to take the message, provided an interview with the new President could be arranged after the inauguration.

CONGRESS IN EARNEST WITH THE WOMEN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Whether the House shall decide to recognize the suffrage movement by providing for an amendment to the Constitution granting equal suffrage, or whether the question should be left to the States to settle individually, is the problem a special subcommittee is to solve.

The matter has been left in the hands of Representatives Hobson of Alabama, Porter of Pennsylvania and Tribble of Georgia, members of the House Committee on Election of President, Vice-President and Representatives. Mr. Hobson, who is an enthusiastic supporter of the suffragist cause, was made chairman. It is not believed that a report will be forthcoming at this session.

Congress has taken up the woman-suffrage question in earnest. Various committees have for many years considered proposed amendments, but none has ever reported one out. The new inquiry, however, promises to be wide in its scope and probably will take the form of hearings. The sponsors and opponents of equal suffrage will be heard and, though no report can be made to the dying Congress, it is promised the inquiry will be finished and a report presented to the incoming Congress before it ends two years hence.

Suffrage leaders generally favor an amendment to the Federal Constitution. There is some opposition to that plan, however, headed by those who believe it might better be left for the States to decide and thereby escape a problem which might arise in Southern States.

Those in favor of the latter plan point to some little incidents which "Gen." Rosalie Jones and her "army" encountered when they crossed the Mason and Dixon line into Maryland, and in some localities was joined by some negro women bearing banners, "Votes for Negro Women."

All suffrage leaders here are elated at an official recognition by Congress and especially over the fact that Representative Hobson has been placed in charge of the inquiry. He openly favors equal suffrage and has promised to march in the suffrage pageant here March 3.

Women suffragists, championed by Representative Taylor of Colorado virtually won the right of an uninterrupted procession March 3 when the House Committee on the District of Columbia favorably reported today a bill barring street cars from Pennsylvania avenue between 3 and 5 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

ELATION IN NEW YORK. HOPE SPRINGS ANEW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—At the National Woman Suffrage headquarters today there was elation over the appointment of Representative Hobson of Alabama as head of a sub-committee of the House committee to inquire into the question of proposed woman suffrage amendments to the Constitution.

Mrs. Mary Ware Dennet, secretary of the National Association, said that for the last forty years Congress had regularly appointed committees to consider the suffrage question, but the members were usually all men "bitterly opposed to woman's suffrage." "None of the previous committees has ever made a report," she said, "but we hope for one this time."

HABEAS CORPUS FOR BRIDE.

Saloonkeeper Gets Writ to Free Wife Sent to Sanatorium, After Secret Marriage, by Her Mother.

STOCKTON (Cal.) Feb. 28.—F. E. Stapleton of Butte county, California, where he conducted a saloon, secured a writ of habeas corpus today directing the superintendent of a local sanatorium to show cause on March 8 why Mrs. Louella Stapleton should not be granted her freedom. Mrs. Stapleton was confined in the sanatorium by her mother, Mrs. M. P. Clark. The issuance of the writ unfolds a romantic marriage, a trip to Europe and the incarceration in the hospital.

Stapleton and his wife met in the East in 1910 and soon thereafter were secretly married. The bride returned to her home in Butte and Stapleton came West also, but did not locate in Butte. Later he moved to Butte and enjoyed much of the company if his wife, but they did not live together or explain their relationship. Mrs. Clark and her daughter visited Europe and it was not until their homeward-bound trip on the steamer that the secret marriage of her daughter was revealed to her. Upon their return home the bride was placed in the sanatorium, according to the husband, to keep her from him.

The mother claims, however, that the daughter's mental condition made it necessary to do so. Mutual friends claim that the action of the mother was prompted by a desire to protect a legacy left the daughter by a former husband now deceased.

GETS CONTRACT FOR BATTLESHIP.

PENNSYLVANIA TO BE BUILT AT NEWPORT NEWS.

Mare Island Yard Submits Lowest Bid on Class One Construction for One of World's Largest Battleships, but Government Prefers to Keep Private Concerns Busy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The giant battleship Pennsylvania, one of the largest battleships, will be built by the Newport News Ship and Dry Dock Company. Secretary of Navy Meyer decided today to award the contract to the Virginia concern.

The Newport News Company made four bids varying with type of engines to be used. Its bid of $7,235,000 was the lowest for class 2, hull and equipment to be per Navy Department specifications and machinery per bidder's specifications. The ship will be equipped with Curtis turbine engines without gearing.

Bids of the New York Ship Building Company, Fore River Ship Building Company, and Cramps were all higher than the Newport News concern.

MARE ISLAND'S LOW BID.

Mare Island navy yard did not bid on class 2. The San Francisco yard put in only one bid, $7,282,000 for class 1, under which hull and machinery were to be according to the Navy Department plans. This was the lowest bid of five for class 1. Had the Navy Department decided to award the contract under class 1, Mare Island would have captured the plum.

It was stated at the Navy Department today it is the Department's present policy to award battleship contracts to private yards wherever possible, provided private bids are reasonably close to navy yards' estimate for construction. This policy was adopted in order to keep private yards running full time so that in event of war there would be in operation enough private concerns to take care of repairs to damaged ships or to keep on building new ones.

Laborer Run Over by Train Staggers to His Feet, Although Upper Half of His Cranium Is Gone, and Mutters Farewell Message to Fellow-Workers Before He Dies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AURORA (Ill.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Peter Schiladi, 52 years old, a laborer, was run over and fatally injured by a Burlington train this afternoon.

He staggered to his feet, although the top of his head was crushed off and spoke a few words. Then he fell unconscious. He died soon afterwards.

FAREWELL MESSAGE.

Two laborers pulled Schiladi out from under the tank of the engine. He got to his feet, the witnesses said, muttered a few words in the Roumanian language to fellow-workers, and started to walk away. He took several steps and fell into the arms of a countryman.

JAMES McCREA STRICKEN.

Broken Heart by Enforced Retirement from the Pennsylvania Railway May Kill Former President.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] James McCrea, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, is gravely ill at his home in Ardmore, and so serious has his condition become that it is really a question as to the outcome of his illness. Friends say that McCrea is possibly dying of a broken heart. His enforced retirement from the head of the company is the thing that is practically killing him.

TO MAKE LAW MORE STRINGENT.

Knowland Presents Drastic White Slave Act.

Seeks to Cover Offenders Who Now Escape.

Embodies the Suggestions of Stanley Finch.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In conformity with suggestions made by Stanley W. Finch, special commissioner under the department of Justice for suppression of the white slave traffic, Representative Knowland today introduced a bill in the House extending provisions of the Mann act to cover cases which have arisen in enforcement of the law.

The Supreme Court in a recent decision upheld the constitutionality of the law. It is claimed that while under the present law, transportation or inducing any woman to travel in interstate or foreign commerce is a crime, there is no offense unless the effort actually results in such interstate or foreign transportation for this purpose.

Many cases have been discovered in which persistent efforts have been made to induce victims to go from one State to another in violation of this law, but no prosecution was possible because the attempt had not actually resulted in interstate travel by the person involved.

The Knowland amendment makes it an offense to attempt to transport. Holding of any victim against her will in connection with the traffic is also made an offense by Knowland's bill. Practices of persons engaged in the traffic involve in a large number of cases detention of victims against their will.

At present, there is no Federal status under which this offense can be prosecuted. The bill covers this class of crime.

SEARCH WARRANTS.

The bill contains a provision making it an offense to use the United States mails in any way whatsoever in connection with the traffic. The mails are extensively used by means of letters and newspaper advertisements to entice victims away from home through promise of employment at attractive wages. Provision is made for issuance of search warrants.

The bill also amends the act, compelling a wife to testify against her husband. The deficiency of the law is at present being taken advantage of by guilty persons in many cases. It has become a common practice for traffickers to marry their victims, since they thus not only facilitate their nefarious operations in procuring their victims, but they also thereby place them in a position where they cannot testify against them and thus made it practically impossible for the government successfully to prosecute them.

House of Representatives Discovers That It Inadvertently Repealed the General Eight-Hour Act.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Because it is said the measure would repeal the general eight-hour workday act of 1892 the House adopted today a joint resolution to require the President to return a bill prescribing an eight-hour day for dredgermen employed in river and harbor improvement.

It is proposed to rescind the action of the Senate and House in passing the bill.

RAKER TACKS ON AMENDMENT. "PORTSMOUTH" FOR CALIFORNIA.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Congressman Raker succeeded in getting an amendment tacked on the Naval Appropriation Bill just before it passed the House, whereby the historic battleship "Portsmouth" will become the property of the State of California when the naval bill passes the Senate and is approved by the President. The Portsmouth was the first ship to fly the American flag in San Francisco Bay and it is Congressman Raker's idea to have her stationed there permanently as a relic and monument to the heroes of the sea.

Three Violations of Wireless Law Alleged Against Coastwise Vessel F. A. Kilborn.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sworn affidavits concerning the alleged three violations of the wireless law by owners of the coastwise steamer F. A. Kilborn were sent to department headquarters at Washington today.

Inspector Wolverton of the wireless service brought the case against the owners of the steamer F. A. Kilborn, alleging the steamer had made three separate trips without being supplied with two wireless operators.

The penalty for a conviction under the charge is a fine of $5000.

GREET MARSHALL AT WASHINGTON

Indiana Citizens Welcome Vice-President-elect.

Wilson Expected to Announce Cabinet Shortly.

Requests Seats for Ten at Senate Ceremony.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana reached Washington today ready to become Vice-President of the United States at noon next Tuesday.

Coming directly from Trenton and conferences with President-elect Wilson, the Vice-President-to-be found a welcome at the city gates to his liking, there being no ostentation marking this first ceremony of the inaugural programme to jar his oft-expressed ideas of Jeffersonian simplicity.

Accompanied by Mrs. Marshall, the future Vice-President was met at the railroad station by a committee of Senators, Representatives and citizens.

In the Presidential suite at the station a brief informal reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall then were escorted to the hotel where they will make their home.

ESCORTED TO HOTEL.

The members of the Inaugural Committee also turned their attention today to the finishing touches for the reception of the President-elect. A request from Mr. Wilson necessitated quick action and served as an indication that he is to announce his Cabinet very shortly and that he plans also to name a secretary of the Department of Labor, created by the bill now awaiting President Taft's signature.

TEN SEATS RESERVED.

The President requested that ten seats be reserved on the floor of the Senate for members of his Cabinet during the Vice-Presidential inauguration, and that ten seats for their wives be reserved in the Senate gallery. The request was complied with.

The President-elect and Mrs. Wilson will arrive in Washington Monday afternoon.

Mr. Marshall said tonight that, while he was aware of the personnel of President-elect Wilson's Cabinet, he preferred not to give an intimation regarding Mr. Wilson's selections. He added that he was not aware that the President-elect contemplated having him meet with his Cabinet, but that if Mr. Wilson desired it, of course he would do so.

"I shall do whatever Mr. Wilson wishes, as he is my superior," declared Mr. Marshall. "We are in perfect accord and have reached a thorough agreement on subjects political."

PASS WEBB BILL OVER TAFT VETO

Senate Regards Liquor Law as Constitutional.

President and Wickersham Call It Invalid.

House Members Confident of Repassing Measure.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Webb liquor bill, prohibiting the shipment of liquor into "dry" States, was repassed today in the Senate, over President Taft's veto, within two hours from the time the President's message of disapproval had been laid before that body. A short debate in which the advocates of the bill voted down a motion to postpone action until tomorrow and in which they reaffirmed their belief that the measure is constitutional, ended with the repassage of the bill by the large majority of 63 to 21.

The Webb bill passed both houses of Congress and went to the President ten days ago. This veto message reached the Senate about 3 o'clock today, accompanied by an opinion from Atty.-Gen. Wickersham. Basing his decision upon the Attorney-General's findings, the President expressed the belief that the measure clearly was unconstitutional because it gave the States the right to interfere with interstate commerce.

SENATE ACTS PROMPTLY.

The Senate took up the bill at once.

Atty.-Gen. Wickersham's opinion was not read, and Senator Kern asked that a final vote on the overriding of the veto be delayed until tomorrow, so Senators might have the opportunity to examine the Attorney-General's arguments. A motion made by Mr. Kern to postpone the vote until 12 o'clock tomorrow was defeated, 71 to 9.

Senator McCumber declared this afternoon the President and the Attorney-General had misconstrued the grounds upon which Congress had passed the prohibition law. He said it had not attempted to give the States the right to interfere with commerce, but simply had declared liquor an "outlaw" and had then prescribed conditions under which it might enter interstate commerce. Senator Kenyon also briefly urged repassage of the bill: while Senators Paynter and Percy supported President Taft's veto.

VETO GOES TO HOUSE.

Efforts will be made tomorrow to override the veto in the House. Representative Clayton of Alabama will move to take up the veto for the purpose of passing the bill over the President's head, as soon as the House convenes. Representative Webb, author of the bill, declared he had absolute confidence that the House would repass the bill by more than a two-thirds majority.

The Senate vote follows:

To override the President's veto: Senators Ashurst, Borah, Brady, Bristow, Brown, Bryan, Burnham, Burton, Chamberlain, Chilton, Clapp, Clark (Ark.,) Crawford, Culberson, Cullom, Cummins, Curtis, Dillingham, Dixon, Fall, Fletcher, Gallinger, Gamble, Gardner, Gore, Gronna, Jackson, Johnson, Johnstone, Jones, Cavanaugh, Kenyon, Kern, Lea, Lodge, McCumber, Martin, Myers, Nelson, Newlands, Oliver, Overman, Owen, Page, Pittman, Poindexter, Sheppard, Shively, Simmons, Smith (Ark.,) Smith (Ga.,) Smith (Md.,) Smith (Mich.,) Smith (S. C.,) Smoot, Swanson, Thomas, Thornton, Tillman, Townsend, Webb, Williams, Works. otal, 63.

TO SUSTAIN PRESIDENT.

To sustain the President: Bradley, Brandegee, Catron, Crane, Dupont, Foster, Guggenheim, McLean, Martine, O'Gorman, Paynter, Penrose, Percy, Perkins, Pomerene, Richardson, Root, Stephenson, Sutherland, Warren, Wetmore. Total, 21.

Questions of constitutionality were the President's principal consideration in his veto.

"After giving this proposed enactment full consideration," wrote the President in his veto message, "I believe it to be a violation of the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution in that it is, in substance and effect, a delegation by Congress to the States, of a power to regulate interstate commerce in liquors, which is vested exclusively in Congress. It is stated that this is a question with which the executive or members of Congress should not burden themselves to consider or decide. It is said that it should be left to the Supreme Court to say whether this proposed act violates the Constitution. I dissent utterly, from this proposition.

CONSIDERS OATH BINDING.

"The oath which the Chief Executive takes and which each member of Congress takes, does not bind him any less sacredly to observe the Constitution than the oath which the justices of the Supreme Court take. It is questionable whether the doubtful constitutionality of a bill ought not to furnish a greater reason for voting against the bill or vetoing it, than for the court to hold it to be invalid."

Step-Parents, Low Wages and Pride Given as Causes of Waywardness to Illinois Investigators.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Girl after girl, some only 15 years old, others women, married and with children, took the witness stand today before the Illinois Senate "White Slave" Commission headed by Lieut.-Gov. Barrett O'Hara, and told how they had been sold or how attempts had been made to force them into waywardness. By order of the Lieutenant-Governor all names were suppressed.

Mrs. Susan B. Adams, Mrs. Josephine Schell and Miss Alice Philips Aldrich, appeared before the committee to tell what they know about white slavery.

A French Canadian girl, 15 years old, told of a man who promised to marry her, and beat her every day, she said, because she did not give him sufficient money.

Stepfathers and stepmothers are back of most of the cases Mrs. Adams handles. Low wages have caused most of the cases Mrs. Schell has had to do with. Pride and love for finery lie back of Mrs. Aldrich's wards' troubles.

Balboa Island

THE GEM OF THE SOUTH COAST

A real island, consisting of 160 acres, subdivided to the best advantage into large beach lots. Ideally located in the center of Newport Bay, where boating, fishing and bathing are unsurpassed.

Doesn't this appeal to you as a location for a summer home?

Also, think of the great, near-future possibilities of Newport Bay for harbor purposes. The investment feature is the one best bet.

Buy now, before the big jetty goes in at the mouth of the bay. For then, the values are bound to go out of sight, as the Island is limited in size and unstretchable. The water frontage is already almost sold out.

The coming summer season will be the greatest this section has ever known.

Special rates from our office any week day or Sunday, leaving P. E. Depot at 10 A.M. 75c round trip, including luncheon on the Island, and boat ride around the bay.

Lots $500 and up, with one-third cash and balance easy.

FIELD TRIALS ON FOR TODAY.

Oxy and U.S.C. Trojans in Dual Meet.

Methodists Are Expected to Win Very Easily.

Curtain Raiser Baseball Game Is Postponed.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The day for the Trojan revenge is at hand. This afternoon the Occidental Tiger track team is to face the U.S.C. team at Baer Park in the annual dual meet and also faces almost utter annihilation. The Occidental team, at its best, is no match for the Trojans, but at the present time the squad is rather badly shot to pieces. The U.S.C. men should therefore win by at least twenty or twenty-five points.

The university will be represented by its strongest team, as the coaches are anxious to give all the men on the squad a good workout against outside competition before the great struggle with the University of Stanford which takes place March 15, and this is the chance.

The Tiger track is fast at the present time and we should see some very good time in all the events, except the 220-yard dash and the 220-yard hurdles, which are run around two curves.

The U.S.C. Lawyers were to have met the Tiger baseball team as a curtain raiser to the track meet, but the game has been called off as Capt. Seay of Oxy, says that there would not be enough time to properly trim the Barristers before the track meet, so the game is to be played next Wednesday.

The entries:

The 100-yard dash—Baer, Yakeley, Bradbeer (O.C.;) Throop, Carrigan, Bradley (U.S.C.)

Mile run—Henry Annin, Pettit (O.C.;) Smith, Torrance, Tipton (U.S.C.)

The 120-yard hurdles—Dill, Kirkpatrick, Hogan (O.C.;) Kelly, Ward, Laird (U.S.C.)

The 440-yard dash—Cook, Creighton, Yakeley, Bradbeer (O.C.;) Hodge, Jackson, Berger (U.S.C.)

The 880-yard run—Annin, Pettit, Egley (O.C.;) Tipton, Cole, Kirchoffer, McEwen (U.S.C.)

Two-mile run—Bickford, McIntosh, Henry (O.C.;) Swiggett, Torrance, Murphy (U.S.C.)

The 220-yard hurdles—Kirkpatrick, Stewart, Dill (O.C.;) Kelly, Hodge, Laird (U.S.C.)

The 220-yard dash—Cook, Yakeley, Bradbeer, Baer (O.C.;) Throop, Carrigan, Bradley (U.S.C.)

One mile relay, four men—Cook, Yakeley, Bradbeer, Creighton, Percival (O.C.;) Hodge, Jackson, Berger, Laird (U.S.C.)

The sixteen-pound shot put—Welman, Halberg, Kinney, McDonald (O.C.;) Kelly, Livernash, Clement (U.S.C.)

Discuss throw — Welman, Kinney, McDonald, Cook, Halberg, Hogan (O.C.;) Kelly, Clement, Livernash, Schultz (U.S.C.)

Pole vault—Lockhart, Dunshee (O.C.;) Borgstrom, Watkins, Cookman (U.S.C.)

Hammer throw—McNary, McDonald, Kinney (O.C.;) Kelly, Hendricks, Bailey (U.S.C.)

Broad jump—Beckes, Lawyer, Percival, Lockhart, Hogan (O.C.;) Livernash, Earle, Short (U.S.C.)

High jump — Beckes, Lawyer, Hogan, Kinney (O.C.;) Bradley, Ward, Earle, Cookman (U.S.C.)

KLING TO PLAY FOR CINCY REDS.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] Johnny Kling, one time star backstop of the Cubs, and last year manager of the Boston Nationals, will catch for the Cincinnati Reds this season.

It became known today that President Herrmann, who had been given permission by the Boston club to negotiate with Kling, had practically closed a deal to trade two of his youngsters for the veteran receiver.

Kling is expected to join Manager Tinker and the squad of Reds within a short time.

WILL SHOOT DEER.

Rifle Club Members Will Use Guns on Game Animal, But Will Not Be Afraid of the Game Warden.

A speedy deer is to serve as one of the targets for the riflemen at the "Good Time" Shoot of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club, Sunday, at the Glendale range. Lest it worry the game wardens, it is stated that the deer is of cardboard and mounted on a ball-bearing trolley that runs on an underground wire.

For twenty-five yards the animal is a fair mark for the rifles of the marksmen, standing 135 yards away, then it again disappears. The man who scores the most hits in the most vital places wins a neat prize Sunday.

This marks the first appearance of the B. L. Graves running deer, the first one to be installed at Los Angeles, and donated by the well-known automobile man, B. L. Graves.

The shot gun men will tackle the same old sixteen-yard rise game, with overhead birds as the goat-getters. A delegation is expected from Venice, where the Los Angeles Gun Club grounds are under two feet of water. A fine silver cup has been hung up for the man with best average over fifty yards, thirty of them sixteen-yard rise and twenty of them overheads.

At 200 yards the man who gets the lucky shot nearest the center of the bullseye takes the prize.

FAST LITTLE BOUTS AT VENICE SHOW.

One knockout, two stopped fights, a decision and two draws were staged at the Venice Auditorium last night before a crowded house. There were about 200 women among the spectators.

Emil Becker won the decision over Hildred Patten in four rounds. Danny Lyons knocked Mickey Sullivan out in the third round of the feature bout of the evening. Berle Hatton had Sammy Morris groggy in the third and the fight was stopped. Joe McGurn gave R. L. Torres a horrible beating and when he was almost out in the second round the game was called. Al Kilgore and Dan Barrett fought four rounds to a draw and the Kid Lurie-George Hammer match was also a four-round draw.

RIVERSIDE LOSES TO POLYTECHNIC.

Polytechnic High School secured a firmer grasp on the Southern California basketball title yesterday afternoon when the team representing the Mechanics journeyed to Riverside to meet the winners of the Citrus Belt championship in a return game, and won, 29 to 25.

The game was a very close one throughout, the Mechanics being hampered by playing on an outdoor court, but the stellar playing of John and Harold Cooke and Red Wilson saved the day by the narrow margin of four points. The championship now rests between Poly and Long Beach, and these are to meet in the first game for the championship on Wednesday afternoon on the Mechanics' court.

Getting Ready.

TWO RECRUITS SHOW PROMISE.

McGraw Is Pleased With Cooper and Schupp.

Catcher Says the Latter Has All the Stuff.

Chief Meyers Arrives Ready for Work.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

Marlin, Tex.) Feb. 28.—Two of McGraw's youngsters sprang into prominence today as promising candidates for regular berths on the team. Both have been coming along rapidly for several days, but under the pressure of exceptionally long workouts, both in the afternoon and in the morning, the two coming stars, Claude Cooper, the outfielder, and Schupp, the young southpaw, gave an exhibition of skill in their departments of the game which is worthy of particular attention.

After Larry Doyle's Discords had sailed into the Harmonies once again and walked away with the victory by a score of 10 to 3, Robbie, who was catching Schupp, drew the youngster aside and said: "You've got all the stuff in the world, my boy, and I will work with you every day until we get that control down fine. We'll fix that, all right."

M'GRAW WATCHING.

With the dereliction of Marquard, a promising southpaw would of course look rather sweet to McGraw, and the manager took up a place in the box during the game to look over Schupp's offerings, after Robbie had tipped him off to the stuff that was coming over the plate. Schupp has great speed, coupled with some good curves.

Cooper, Ty Cobb's outfielder, looks a little better every day. He showed that afternoon that he is just about the speediest man on the field, with the possible exception of Jim Thorpe. He appears to be a natural ball player and does everything about right. Furthermore, he is blessed with a good set of brains in his head.

Big Chief Meyers arrived in town this evening, ready to begin the season's work. The Indian has been playing ball this winter and is already in good condition. The rest of the regulars are expected to report within the next three days.

ROADS OF SOUTHLAND MAPPED IN ROUTE BOOK.

An automobile route book, containing maps of the roads and information which is valuable to tourists, has been published by a local good roads enthusiast and is known as the Hamilton Route Book. The information contained in the publication was gathered on tours over the roads of Southern California and in Arizona. The mileage has been carefully compiled and the maps are reliable.

Much of the information, which is of value to those intending to tour the desert, was secured by Hamilton on a journey over the California-Arizona end of the Ocean-to-Ocean boulevard. The mileage was compiled to Banning, thence from Banning to Brawley, and from Brawley through the Mammoth Wash to Yuma. The route from Yuma to Phoenix was carefully measured and the water holes and points of interest along the route were specially designated.

The Hamilton Route Book is wide in its scope. It gives autoists an opportunity to select some interesting tours. The information applies particularly to the distances rather than to the topography of the country which is mapped.

Good News.

FRANK CHANCE IN BETTER HEALTH THAN FOR YEARS.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

HAMILTON (Bermuda) Feb. 28.—[Special Dispatch.] "For the first time in several years I am really enjoying playing baseball," admitted Frank Chance, after a particularly hard wark-out at the cricket field.

"Last season and the year before that it was a torture to me to go out on to the field. But now, working harder than I have in years, it is a real pleasure. I spent a lot of time out in the open in California before I came to Bermuda, but I was exercising then, as I am now.

"And I haven't felt even a suspicion of a headache since I've been in the islands, though I have done enough to work off five or six of the eight or nine extra pounds I brought here with me. I have not tried my legs to any great extent yet, but if they are anything like as fit as my head, I will have no trouble playing first base as well as I ever did."

Chance certainly looks to be in perfect condition. Release from constant headaches has erased the pain lines that once marked his face; his eye is clearer and his step freer and jauntier by far than when he brought his Cubs to New York last summer.

There are no "Charley" Fausts with his club, but Chance is carrying two mascots—Billy Moore and Milton Arthur. Milton has done nothing to cause any great excitement in Hamilton, but Billy seems to be training for the beef-eating championship. The young man is already recognized as Bermuda's greatest consumer of roast beef.

MONEY MARKET IS FIRMER.

GERMAN BANKERS ARE BIDDING ACTIVELY.

Tightening of Call Rates Attributed to Preparations for March Disbursements—Baltimore and Ohio Depressed Temporarily by Further Hitch in Plans for Bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—There was no strong demand for stocks today from any quarter. Price movements were small and variable and trading was dull. With the change in administration at Washington only a few days off, traders were inclined to let the market drift. The money market showed a firmer tendency today. Call money touched 4½ per cent., the highest in some time. German bankers were bidding actively for money. As much as 5 per cent. for 30 days was offered with few acceptances. Tightening of call rates today was attributed to preparations for March disbursements tomorrow. Declaration of 2½ per cent. back dividends on Canadian preferred after the close of the market yesterday proved to have been discounted. Both common and preferred sold off sharply, although they recorded part of their losses. Baltimore & Ohio was depressed temporarily by a further hitch in plans for the new bond issue. The improvement in bonds was halted and there were some traces of heaviness. Total sales par value, $1,830,000. U. S. 2's declined ¼ on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—There was a moderate volume of trading on the curb with copper issues strong. Giroux and Braden were the leaders, the latter crossing 3, supposedly on inside buying. Cigar Stores was quiet, ranging within 1 point. The oils opened steady but there was a small reaction at the close. The Boston coppers opened with more activity and generally fair tone. Rumors of a strike at the Superior and Boston started a buying movement which carried the stock to 4⅛, a gain of 1 point. Interest in low priced coppers caused some buying, but the market turned quiet. The forecast for the Copper Producers' report for February is that it make a better showing than last month. The afternoon trading was quiet. The market closed strong but dull.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

DUNN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Dun's review tomorrow will say: "Reports from leading trade centers continue satisfactory in most instances. There is a large distribution of the principal products, and sustained activity in retail trade, particularly in sections favored with good weather. Outside of those markets which by reason of their larger and more sensitive speculative organizations have been directly affected by the important events happening in various parts of the globe, business sentiment maintains a steady conservative attitude, even on the eve of the first change in the political control of our government in sixteen years. The railroads, which are about to arbitrate their differences with the firemen and are still buying heavily of needed supplies, gained 2.2 per cent. in gross earnings during the first three weeks of February. The exceptional activity in iron and steel is maintained. The copper market, however, is depressed. The market for securities has again been more or less unsettled. The interest and dividend payments, due March 1, are estimated at $14,000,000 more than last year—the increase being mainly in industrials. Time money continues to be firmly held, but European gold demands are lessening. Foreign commerce continues to establish a large balance in this nation's favor."

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: "Events of the week have been largely favorable. Prominent among these have been a wide spread of moisture, especially beneficial in the grain growing areas hitherto reporting deficiencies; a further expansion in spring jobbing trade, and the appearance of a more cheerful feeling in the market securities both at home and abroad, the result of more settled conditions in international political affairs. The latter manifestation has revealed that the situation temporarily at least has been oversold, and that some of the earlier depression has been unreasonably accentuated. Industry has been fully as active as heretofore noted. In the lower Mississippi Valley the smaller probability of floods has helped sentiment, sugar planters are reported to have generally made arrangements to finance the new crop, and the area in cotton will be large. Even in the Southeast the feeling is more confident. Among the industries the lull in demand for iron and steel noted some weeks ago has been unwelcome. Mill operations are active, and there is a fair quantity of new business offering. Business failures for the week ending February 27 were 272, which compared with 269 in the like week of 1912. There were thirty failures in Canada. Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending February 27 aggregated 4,806,182 bushels, against 3,268,770 last year."

Bradstreet's Bank Clearings.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Bradstreet's Bank Clearings Report for the week ending February 27 shows an aggregate of $3,002,161,000, as against $3,372,688,000 last week and $3,110,625,000 in the corresponding week last year. The following is a list of the principal cities:

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The condition of the United States Treasury at the beginning of business today was: Working balance, $78,873,606; in banks and Philippine treasury, $44,699,942; total of general fund, $147,988,676; receipts yesterday, $2,585,649; disbursements, $1,637,581. The surplus this fiscal year is $3,930,675 as against a deficit of $22,711,721 last year. The figures for receipts, disbursements, etc., exclude Panama canal and public debt transactions.

COPPER INDUSTRY.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

London copper was strong at noon, with spot at £64 17s 6d, up 12s 6d, and futures at £65, up 12s 6d. London copper closed steady with spot at £64 17s 6d, unchanged, and futures at £65, unchanged. Spot sales aggregated 400 tons and futures 1000 tons.

There are now four "popular" copper stocks selling at about the same price—around $25—namely, Isle Royale, Superior, North Butte and Tamarack, although $26 was Tamarack's recent low. Present prices compare as follows with the high prices last October: Isle Royale, 37¼; Superior, 47; Tamarack, 50; North Butte, 35½. The speculative future of these stocks lies in increased production and earnings. Superior started last week to increase production and reduce costs by changing from the Atlantic to the Allouez-Centennial mill, but it may be several months before any great increase in production is apparent. Isle Royale is preparing to increase and only lack of men interferes. Tamarack cannot increase except through the building of regrinding plants to operate on its present tailings and old sands, which can add several dollars per share per annum to earnings, which were between $5 and $6 the past year. North Butte is fast adding to reserves by opening new ore bodies at depth. Of the above stocks North Butte is paying $2 and earning $3 on 15-cent copper, while Isle Royale just declared an initial dividend of $1 and can easily pay another dollar dividend in 1913 on 15-cent copper, while Tamarack and Superior can both pay something in 1913. All of the above stocks are "popular" issues and possess great speculative possibilities with any return of speculative interest.

The Boston News Bureau published the following pertinent editorial: "The law of supply and demand is not to be ignored with impunity. It is abhorrent to sound business economics that prices for commodities as well as for securities should not be allowed to seek their natural level. Once more—and failure has attended every previous effort—some of the big copper interests have sought to hold the price of the metal, after 'the clock has struck 12,' at a figure which they believed they could force the understocked manufacturer to pay. In the present instance the sellers stubbornly insisted that the brass and wire manufacturers were not to be allowed to cover with cheap copper their advance sales of finished product made on a price basis of 17¾-cent metal. These big producers, in the face of concessions from other quarters, thereupon posted the 17¾-cent quotation on their office doors. The little fellows, scenting trouble, scrambled to book contracts at such recessions as would attract business. So well did they succeed that the 17¾-cent price could not be successfully maintained by the big interests in the face of competitive under-cutting, and the price on the office door was lowered to 14½ cents. Being possessed of the only available supply of spot, or immediate-delivery copper, they refused for several weeks to shade the quotation a hair, despite the pleadings of the luckless manufacturer, who had too long delayed the replenishment of his raw material supplies. But the foreign manufacturer cabled that he would close down his work or go on short time before he would pay even 16½ cents. Convinced that the Balkan war abroad and tariff fears in this country were working into the hands of the copper buyers, the sellers finally capitulated. The 'umbrella holding' policy failed; it always has and always will. The price for copper has now been lowered by all hands to 15 cents, and Europe cables that some offerings are being made at less than this figure. It didn't pay."

Amalgamated Copper Company has $12,500,000 5 per cent. two-year notes maturing April 1 next concern the payment or refunding of which the management is not ready to make any announcement. The notes were issued to pay for the $5,000,000 capital stock of the United Metals Selling Company at $248 per share. The notes were offered by bankers at 99½. A previous note issue for $5,000,000 was liquidated several years ago. These notes were given W. A. Clark for some Butte properties which were eventually turned over to the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. A year ago Amalgamated had cash and cash assets totaling $15,030,000, of which $9,100,000 was cash in bank and the balance due for copper delivered and from smelting and mining companies. Against this there were accounts payable of $5,014,000, representing sums due to mining companies and for freight, taxes and interest. In note brokerage circles it is stated that the Amalgamated Copper Company will pay off in cash the $12,500,000 5 per cent. two-year notes maturing April 1. The company is said to have had the necessary funds in bank for several weeks.

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—Continued good buying of coppers was evident all day. Confidence is returning and the general outlook seems greatly improved. The Copper Producers' report to be issued in about ten days should make a much better showing than for the last three months. About the only copper stocks offered are those for which bargains are wanting.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Liverpool closed slightly better, and spot sales there amounted to 10,000 bales at 689, an advance of 3d. March seemed to furnish the main incentive, and the strength of that option seemed to render shorts in the later months somewhat uneasy, and there was considerable scattered covering on the advance. There seems to be a feeling on the floor that there is still a considerable short interest in March, and while there has been some short covering the past few days, it is believed that Wall street is still short a good line. A wire from Atlanta today says that spots in that section are strongly held, and that nothing is offered, while speculators are all bearish and short. This is merely one man's opinion, but it is believed that it about sizes up the situation, as far as sentiment in the South is concerned. London cables this morning spoke optimistically of Great Britain's textile business, which is in line with the relatively bullish view of the English trade. Latest weather indications are for rain and snow over the entire western belt tomorrow, while rains are predicted for the eastern belt. Sentiment continues bearish and the disposition is to sell distant months, which advanced in sympathy with March. As long as spots continue firm, with renewed assurances of good trade conditions abroad, a pronounced break in futures is not anticipated.

RULE STIMULATES TRADING.

Regulation that All Transactions Be on the Board Causes Increase in Exchange's Business.

The inauguration of the regulation that all trading be on the board was largely responsible for a considerable increase in business at the Los Angeles Stock Exchange last month.

"With one exception the business of the past month is the largest that the exchange has enjoyed in February," said L. F. Parsons, manager, yesterday, "and, besides, it was the shortest month in actual trading days that the exchange has had in a number of years.

"In 1910, which was the best year the exchange ever had, the February business amounted to $1,687,063, while this year the sales aggregated in value $758,690.82. In 1911 and 1912 the business aggregated in value less than $600,000 during February.

"The average value of the trading per day last month, with twenty and a half actual business days, amounted to $37,934.54, and at that rate the value of transactions for the entire year would be $12,690,000, the largest in the history of the exchange."

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

A. L. Dennis, being duly sworn, declares that he is and has been for twelve years Superintendent of Circulation of the Los Angeles Times; that the above detailed statement of circulation for the month of January, 1913, is correct, and shows the circulation of The Times for each day of the month named.

A. L. DENNIS,
Superintendent of Circulation, The Times.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of February, 1913.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issues. Neither does it misbrand nor predate its editions, nor inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper in Southern California.

REFUNDING MORTGAGE
FIFTY YEAR GOLD BONDS.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the provisions of Section 9, Article Fourth, of the Mortgage from this Company to the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, Trustee, dated September 1, 1911, this Company has set apart out of the net income derived by it from the lines of railroad therein mortgaged, the sum of $10,000.00 in the year 1912, to be used to redeem said bonds, and that bonds issued under the said mortgage will be redeemed therewith. Bids are hereby invited for the surrender of said bonds at prices to be named by the bidders, subject to the provisions of the mortgage in respect thereof, to the amount of $10,000.00 in the Sinking Fund.

Such bids should be presented to this Company at its Office in the City of Los Angeles, California, on or before the first day of April, 1913, at 12 o'clock, noon, and should be endorsed, "Bids for Surrender of Pacific Electric Railway Company's Refunding Mortgage Fifty Year Gold Bonds."

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Evening Post says: "The stock market moved very uncertainly today and the tone in general was less confident, although at no time was there heavy selling. After opening fractionally higher for many shares there was a strong tone for a time. A quick reaction carried the whole list down to the level of yesterday with even greater losses in a few stocks. In the afternoon the movement was unsettled much of the time, but on the decline there was little activity. The whole market moved irregularly in the last hour and trading fell off to the smallest volume of the day. There was nothing in the news developments to affect sentiment other than signs of the hardening of the discount rates here and abroad and some uncertainty as to just what changes will be reported in tomorrow's statement. Abroad the markets were more or less unsettled, sentiment in London being cheerful, while at Berlin there was more or less uneasiness felt concerning the political outlook. Discount rates were slightly higher at Vienna. There were some signs of investment support in London but such participation was not important and it was evident that the European public was awaiting definite news concerning the giving in of Turkey before engaging in new commitments. Detailed comment on the action of the American Can Company directors in the matter of dividend is hardly necessary. It amounted, as every one who has followed the decision is aware, to borrowing money on bonds of the company in order to pay to the preferred shareholders the unearned dividends of previous years upon their stocks. The officials' explanation that the purpose is merely "reimbursing" the shareholders for their past self-restraint in foregoing dividends so that the money might be used for improvements at the property is doubtless convincing to those who wish to be convinced. To people who classify the incidents of the sort according to the principles of sound finance, this exploit might be placed on the record along with such exhibits as the Steel Corporation's issue of bonds to buy up $150,000,000 of its own preferred stock in 1902, and the American Wool Company's use of most of its accumulated surplus in 1911 to buy up one-fourth of its own common stock, with a view to pay dividends on what remained. The rise in call money rates was due to the calling of loans by various banks which were forced to strengthen their reserve position. Another factor was the continued bidding for money here by foreign banks at rates which show clearly that borrowers at Berlin and other places will probably offer high interest rates in the near future for the accommodation of over April settlements. Checks covering about $115,000,000 in March payments went through the banks and more or less shifting of loans resulted from the operation. No more gold engagements were made, and so far as the preliminary figures covering the week's currency movement are concerned, the indications were that the banks had come out about even on the transactions. One week ago they showed a small loss in their preliminary figures, but in the official return a gain of $5,500,000 was shown. This may mean that the heavy gold shipments of last week were not reflected in the last bank statement. The out-of-town banks offered very little here on time and it was evident that those institutions were making large advances to their customers or investing heavily in commercial paper. There was some buying of short term notes and bonds by the banks, but these operations were not extensive, being offset in many instances by selling of securities by interior banks and trust companies.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The demand for all kinds of nuts has fallen off considerably since the opening of the year and the market is very featureless, with practically no outlook for a change from the present high prices. Many dealers predict a shortage before next season's crop is available. Dried fruits are pretty steady, with a rather good demand. There have been some slight changes in raisins and prunes from time to time, and a show of strength in dried apricot prices because of the diminishing supply, but there is apparently no outlook for any material variation soon in the market conditions. Dried fruits have been comparatively cheap this year.

Fresh malaga grapes continue to arrive and bring around $7.50 to $8.50 a barrel. These are about the only grapes which will be available until next season. Bananas continue around 3½ cents a pound. Higher prices are expected in a few weeks when the demand from the East picks up. No apples were reported in. The market continues lively and the supply is very large. One of the produce houses is said to have received this season twice the amount of apples that were received on the entire market last.

Lower prices for asparagus and celery were the principal feature of the vegetable market. A plentiful supply of celery, comparatively speaking, is on the market. It is, of course, a little early for large receipts of asparagus and despite declines the price still remains comparatively high. Mexican vegetables were again received. A shipment of peas and beans from the South is expected soon. Things remain about the same in the potato, onion and dried bean markets.

Eggs were steady. It is just possible that a decline of 1 to 2 cents may occur in a few days. Receipts were heavy. Butter and cheese are firm and lower prices are not expected for a week or so.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 1433 cases, butter, 25,763 pounds; cheese, 2232 pounds; potatoes, 8370 sacks; sweet potatoes, sixty sacks.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Issues Are Very Active in Broad Market—Western Union Oil Company Pays Extra Dividend.

The market was much broader and more active than usual yesterday. The Union stocks were steady during the trading but sold ex dividend. Amalgamated opened high, and was a little irregular during the day's business. It showed a loss of an eighth of a point at the close. National Pacific was strong, seemingly on account of the improvement in the production of well No. 1, on section 30, which is now doing about 350 barrels per day, and appears to be increasing its output. United Oil was active, but a shade weaker, if anything, during the trading. California-Midway was irregular, but did not show much change from the previous day.

One share of First National Bank stock sold at $735. Increased earnings seem principally responsible for the advance in this issue.

The Western Union Oil Company paid a regular dividend of ½ per cent. and an extra dividend of 1¼ per cent. last Tuesday. The Rice Ranch Oil Company's dividend of 1 per cent. per share is payable today. The Amalgamated Oil Company has declared its regular dividend, of $1 per share, payable the twenty-fourth. The West Coast Oil Company has declared a dividend of $1 per share, payable the 15th.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Declaring of Dividend Causes Goldfield Consolidated Stock to Climb. Comstocks Are Soft.

[Special service to The Times by E. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The feature of the market was Goldfield Con., which advanced to 245 on the announcement that the company had resumed dividends, with the declaration of 30 cents payable April 30 to stockholders of record March 31. The last dividend of 30 cents was paid October 31 last. The dividend was passed at the December meeting of the directors. For the past four months earnings have increased from $200,000 to $330,000 per month—net, which justifies the management in the resumption of disbursements. The balance of the Goldfield list was not affected by the Consolidated's movements, and the rank and file of stocks closed unchanged. There were no changes in the Manhattans. There was a slightly better feeling in the Tonopahs, with Belmont and West End up 7½ at the close. Merger was up 1 point. Jim Butler sold at 73. During the morning session Nevada Hills was offered down to 1¼. There appears to be no bottom to the Comstocks, and on little selling prices melt away. Mexican closed 64 bid at 66, a new low for recent times, the loss over night being 7 points. Union was down 2 and Ophir 1. There was an assessment of 10 cents on Sierra Nevada.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified Rates: The rate for inserting Want Ads. in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue, 1½c per word each insertion; minimum charge, 15c; except under following classifications, the rate for which is 2c per word daily; 2½c per word Sunday; minimum charge, 30c daily; 35c Sunday: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," "Church Notices, Miscellaneous," "Stocks and Bonds," "Physicians," "Medical," "Detectives," "Sanatoriums," and "Baths and Massage."

Minimum space for classified advertisements ordered for more than one insertion, 14 words.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "To Lets," etc., received over counter or by telephone until 11 p.m. Saturday. Ads. received after closing hours for each division will be inserted under heading, "Too Late to Classify." Rates 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 80,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times," Main 8200, Home 10391, any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept 'phone or verbal orders to discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements.

FOR SALE—

YES!

YES!!

YES!!!

A LADY CALLED US UP LAST WEEK AND SAID: "I want to ask you about PRINCETON PARK houses."

"Have they hardwood floors?" YES.
"Have they beamed ceilings?" YES.
"Have they built-in buffets?" YES.
"Have they nice electric fixtures?" YES.
"Have they linen closets?" YES.
"Have they nice fireplaces?" YES.
"Have they large closets?" YES.

We had to say "YES" so many times, that it sounded like a man stuttering. We had thought of everything she thought of, only like David Harum, "we did it first," and, in fact, we thought of a lot of things that she didn't think about.

The officers of this company have built so many bungalows that they have brought the building of them to a point where it amounts to positive genius. Their homes are just full of quaint, characteristic, inviting innovations, that suggest comfort and ease, and the full enjoyment of that best of all places, "HOME."

Our customers are our best friends. We would like to add you to the number.

GET IN RIGHT.

It don't take much money. Just $400 down, and then the money you have been paying for rent. These houses are in the best part of the Venice and Ocean Park.

FOR SALE—EXPLANATION AD. OCEAN Park is rebuilding greater and better than ever and we are asked almost daily, "Where is the City of Ocean Park?" Most people think there are three cities here—Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice. There are only two, Santa Monica and Venice, and before long, without doubt, there will be only one, then taxes will be lower pro rata for everybody. But we started to tell you where and what is Ocean Park. Ocean Park is the Ocean Front,—the playground, the park of Santa Monica, 75 per cent. of which, being that part where are located Fraser's Pier, Thompson Scenic Railway, new Jones Hotel, new Allen Hotel and all these great improvements, is in the city of Santa Monica. 25 per cent. of Ocean Park is just south of Santa Monica's city limits in the city of Venice. But the real Ocean Park is spreading out so that it is only a question of a short time when everything on Santa Monica's Ocean Front, will be known as Ocean Park—the playground of the world. We have the greatest bargains in real estate in that portion of Santa Monica which is growing faster in value than probably any other portion, not only of Santa Monica, but of Los Angeles county. One,—the GREATEST BARGAIN on Ocean Front Promenade—an 80x125-foot corner right in the heart of things, ONLY $300 per foot. Another, a 37-foot inside lot between the trolleys and sea, only $75 a front foot. And here's another good one—a 40-foot Ocean Front Promenade lot where the sand is clear in front, only $225 a front foot. And we have others. SCHADER-WELLS, 1902 Ocean Front Promenade, corner Fremont ave. and Ocean Front Promenade, Santa Monica, Cal.

FOR SALE—174 FEET OF OCEAN FRONTage, being an entire block owning to water's edge, bounded by four paved streets. The cheapest piece of frontage between Venice and Santa Monica. Address owner, P.O. BOX 832, Ocean Park, Cal.

group of men shall control directly the small savings in the banks nor the scattered resources of the country in order to monopolize the great financial transactions, or to be able to dictate credits to be extended or withheld from business enterprises."

The great bank or banker "with access to the mainsprings of the concentrated resources of other people's money," the report declares, can handle the vast issues of securities now demanded by the commercial and industrial development of the country, but the bank reserve system, concentrates a large part of the funds of the smaller banks in New York, where a small group of men have strengthened their interest in the various banking institutions. The report says:

TRUST CONTROLS MONEY.

"If, therefore, by a 'money trust' is meant an established and well-defined identity and community of interest between a few leaders of finance which has been created and held together through stockholdings, interlocking directorates and other forms of domination over banks, trust companies, railroads, public service and industrial corporations and which has resulted in a vast and growing concentration of the control of money and credit in the hands of a comparatively few men, your committee has no hesitation in asserting that the condition thus described exists in this country today.

INTANGIBLE METHODS.

"To say that the domination of this group over the money and credit of the country controlled by our largest financial institutions and that is available for financing large security issues, for the current needs of our principal interstate corporations and of the individuals conducting great enterprises and for stock exchange loans is at least as effective as for instance is the control of the United States Steel Corporation over the steel industry, is an understatement of the situation, although the methods by which this control is effected and held together are, of course, essentially different and of a more loose and intangible character."

FOUR SEPARATE GROUPS.

Accepting this as the long sought "money trust," the committee outlined the membership as follows:

"The parties to this combination or understanding of community of interest, by whatever name it may be called, may be conveniently classified, for the purpose of differentiation, into four separate groups.

MORGAN GROUP.

"The first, which will call the inner group, consists of J. P. Morgan & Company, the recognized leaders, and George F. Baker and James Stillman in their individual capacities, and in their joint administration and control of the First National Bank, the National City Bank, the National Bank of Commerce, the Chase National Bank, the Guaranty Trust Company and the Bankers' Trust Company, with total known resources, in these corporations alone, in excess of $1,300,000,000, and of a number of smaller, but important, financial institutions. This takes no account of personal fortunes of these gentlemen.

BOSTON GROUP.

"Closely allied with this inner group and indeed related to them practically as partners in many of their larger financial enterprises, are the powerful international banking houses of Lee, Higginson & Company and Kidder, Peabody & Company, with three affiliated banks in Boston.

KUHN, LOEB & CO.

"In New York City the international banking house of Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Company, with its large foreign clientele and connections, whilst only qualifiedly allied with the inner groups, yet through its close relations with the National City Bank and the National Bank of Commerce and other financial institutions, with which it has recently allied itself, has many interests in common, conducting large joint account transactions with them, especially in recent years, and having what virtually amounts to an understanding not to compete, which is defended as a principle of 'banking ethics.' Together they have with a few exceptions pre-empted the banking business of the important railways of the country.

CHICAGO GROUP.

"In Chicago this inner group associates with and makes issues of securities in joint account, or through underwriting participations primarily with the First National Bank and the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank and has more or less friendly business relations with the Continental and Commercial National Bank, which participates in the underwriting of security issues by the inner group. These are the three largest financial institutions in Chicago, with combined resources of $561,000,000.

LESSER BRANCHES.

"Radiating from these principal groups and closely affiliated with them are smaller, but important banking houses, such as Kissel, Kinnicut & Company, White, Weld & Company, and Harvey Fisk & Sons, who receive large and lucrative patronage from the dominating groups and are used by the latter as jobbers or distributors of securities the issuing of which they control but which for reasons of their own they prefer not to have issued or distributed under their own names.

"Beyond these inner groups and subgroups are banks and bankers throughout the country who cooperate with them in underwriting or guaranteeing the sale of securities offered to the public and who also act as distributors of such securities."

FRAUGHT WITH DANGER.

Concluding its findings as to the existence of a money trust, the committee said:

"Your committee is convinced that, however, well founded may be the assurances of good intentions by those now holding the places of power which have been thus created, the situation is fraught with too great peril to our institutions to be tolerated."

INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATE.

The report condemned interlocking directorates and consolidations and devoted considerable space to a statement showing the development of control through these agencies in New York institutions.

"It is manifestly improper," said the report, "and repugnant to the theory and practice of competition that the same person or members of the same firm shall undertake to act in such inconsistent capacities."

VOTING TRUSTS.

The report condemns the use of voting trusts in the control of financial institutions, and criticises private bankers in the capacity of depositaries for interstate corporations.

REFORMS URGED.

The recommendations of the committee, as set forth in the report and as embraced in the bills accompanying the report, urged the following reforms:

"Clearing-house associations, of which national banks are members, should be required to become bodies corporate of the States in which they are located and every solvent and properly-managed bank or trust company should have the right, enforceable at law, to become and remain a member. Regular periodical examinations of members by a committee of the Clearing-house Association should be prohibited and, instead, all such examinations should be conducted by public authorities."

GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION.

The committee would give the government supervision of clearing-house certificates and would prohibit the fixing of rates by clearing-houses for the collection of out-of-town checks, discount or interest on deposits.

STOCK EXCHANGE REGULATIONS.

As to the New York Stock Exchange, the committee recommended:

"That Congress prohibit the transmission by the mails or by telegraph or telephone from one State to another, of orders to buy or sell, quotations or other information concerning transactions on any stock exchange, and also prohibit national banks from buying or selling or lending upon the security of stocks or bonds listed upon any stock exchange unless such exchange were a body corporate of the State or Territory in which it is located.

"Require corporations whose securities it (the stock exchange) lists," the report continues, "to make a complete disclosure of their arrangements, in particular any commission paid to promoters, middlemen, or bankers out of any such security interest or the proceeds thereof.

"Require a margin of not less than 20 per cent. on all purchases of stock.

"Prohibit as far as possible the execution of simultaneous orders from the same person or persons to buy and sell the same security for the purpose of creating an appearance of activity therein, and any orders, the purpose of which is to inflate or depress the price of any security.

"Prohibit members from pledging securities purchased and carried for a customer for an amount greater than the unpaid portion of the purchase price.

"Prohibit members from lending to other members, securities carried by the former for customers, whether with or without the customer's consent.

"State in its charter the conditions on which issues of securities shall be admitted or removed from the trading list and provide for a judicial review of its action in this regard.

"Keep books of account, showing the actual names and transactions of customers and give access thereto to the Postmaster-General."

TWENTY-TWO REGULATIONS.

Among the recommendations for the restriction of national banks, the committee set forth twenty-two regulations. These were:

The prohibition of the consolidation of two or more banks without the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency; prohibition of directors serving on the boards of more than one bank in the same community or locality; forbidding ownership of stock in one national bank by any other national bank or trust company; forbidding voting trusts in the control of banks; providing for cumulative voting in the election of national bank directors; forbidding security-holding companies as adjuncts to national banks; forbidding interstate corporations from constituting any banking establishment their sole fiscal agents; forbidding interstate currency; prohibition of directors "unsupervised, unregulated, private corporations to deposit funds with bankers;" forbidding national banks from engaging in underwriting syndicates; allowing national banks to invest 25 per cent. of their capital in State, city, county or corporation mortgage bonds, if the corporation issues have paid interest regularly for five years; reform of the system of railroad reorganization to conform with the scheme outlined in the British law, which places reorganization under the control of the courts, giving the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to supervise reorganization plans; placing railroad security issues under the control of the commission and providing for competitive bidding of such issues; forbidding officers of national banks from borrowing from their banks; providing for publicity for loans made by a director from his bank; forbidding national bank officers and directors from participating in underwriting syndicates, making it a crime for officers or directors to accept any compensation for loaning a bank's funds; limiting the number of directors of national banks to not less than five or more than thirteen; providing publicity for the assets and for the stockholding lists of national banks.

CHURCH SCHOOL IS EXCLUDED.

Free Text-Books Refused to Colusa Convent.

State May Even Decline to Sell Supplies.

Sectarian Institutions to Suffer Hardship.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Feb. 28.—The refusal today of the State Superintendent to provide the Aloysius convent in Colusa county with free text-books under the provisions of the Shanahan free text-book amendment has opened up the pertinent question as to whether any book of the State series can now be sold to a private school.

State Superintendent Hyatt has ruled that none but regular elementary public schools are entitled to receive books free. Thus far he has not been called on to decide whether under the provisions of the existing Constitution he is given the right to sell the books to private or parochial schools which are not entitled to receive them free.

HARDSHIP.

If any private or parochial schools which use the State schools series are unable to obtain the books it will work a hardship on them. A great majority of such schools have been using the State's books in order that their pupils either just entering or leaving the public school will not be inconvenienced or retarded.

Attaches of the State Superintendent's office believe they have no alternative but to refuse to sell the books.

Mrs. F. M. Rhoades, superintendent of schools at Colusa, said in her request for books for the Catholic school that Mother Columbia in charge contended the pupils of the convent were just as much children of taxpayers as those who attended the public schools.

WILSON DODGES TOLL QUESTION.

REFUSES TO ANSWER STATEMENT IN LONDON PAPERS.

Rejoinder of British Government on Canal Controversy Has Been Sent to Secretary of State Knox and Is Understood to Contain Flat Proposal for Arbitration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The publication today of the statement that the British government has proposed arbitration of the canal question in a note to the State Department, coupled with the comment of the British press on dispatches to London newspapers purporting to represent President-elect Wilson as against free tolls, brought no definite statement from Mr. Wilson.

The President-elect declined to make any comment beyond a denial of the published report that he had expressed himself with finality on the question. Mr. Wilson said he did not feel it would be proper for him to discuss the matter of canal tolls until after he became President and had had a chance to discuss it with members of the Senate.

REPLY GOES TO KNOX.
BRITISH ASK ARBITRATION.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The rejoinder of the British government to the last American note regarding the Panama Canal zone tolls question was delivered today to Secretary Knox by Ambassador Bryce. Though naturally of great interest to Secretary Knox, he will make no effort to consider it, but will allow the negotiations on the American side to be continued by his successor in office.

It is understood the British note after a repetition of former arguments in support of its original contentions, contains a flat proposal for arbitration of the issue between the two countries according to the provisions of the existing special arbitration treaty between the two countries, which will expire in June.

The note was read to Secretary Knox by Ambassador Bryce at the Secretary's office and a copy was left with the Secretary by direction of Sir Edward Grey.

It is withheld from publication for the present to afford Secretary Knox an opportunity to lay it before President Taft, but it has been arranged the present to afford Secretary Knox that the note shall be given out for publication in the Sunday morning papers in this country and the Monday morning papers in Europe.

President-elect Wilson has made known to Democratic Senate leaders most closely in his confidence that he favors the passage of Senator Root's amendment to the Panama Canal bill, to repeal the provision exempting American coastwise ships from payment of tolls.

LIGHT ON SMUGGLING.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 28. — [By A. P. Night Wire.] Arthur Werner, alias F. G. Menrath, aged 24, who is under arrest here, may be able, the police say, to throw light on Mexican border smuggling operations. According to the police, Werner has confessed that he drove with a companion from San Diego to Tia Juana about a month ago and purchased fifteen tins of opium at a Chinese restaurant. The price paid was $7.50 a tin. The opium was brought to San Francisco but Werner was arrested before he could market it.

JURY NOT AGREED.

SAN BERNARDINO (Cal.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The jury in the John Blake murder case retired late this afternoon and late tonight had not reported, the indications being that it would be a hung jury, which was the result in the former trial. The case, which required almost two weeks to hear in the former trial, was completed in five days because of the move of the prosecution by which much of the evidence used in the previous trial was shut out.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Electrical Engineers.

The local section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will meet at the Hollenbeck Tuesday evening for a discussion of the subjects: Temperature corrections, cable heating, oil switch ratings and spark gap. A paper will be read and an a la carte dinner served at 6:15 o'clock.

To Beat Jack Frost.

The Los Angeles County Horticultural Society will meet Tuesday evening at Kruckeberg Hall, No. 237 Franklin street, to hear addresses by Commissioner Wood and a number of his deputies on "Jack Frost: How to Beat the Game to Freeze Out." The public is invited to be present.

Wants Spanish Wife.

"W. B., Box 172, Redding." That is the address of a gentleman who wants a wife of Spanish extraction, about 25 years old and a good cook. He wrote Deputy County Clerk Sparks of the marriage license bureau yesterday, saying that he is 26 and has "a good disposition." No applications for the job have yet been filed.

New Deputy Assessors.

Assessor Hopkins will have 140 deputies added to his official list this morning when they will be sworn in by the County Clerk. The session today will be the last at which they will receive instruction in the duties of their office, after which they will be sent into the field.

Debate This Evening.

The University of Southern California will meet Occidental College in the university chapel at 8 o'clock this evening in the triangle debate series. Russel E. Stark, Ray Murray and Everett W. Mattoon, will take the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, That California should adopt an income tax embodying the Wisconsin plan of graduation, exemption and collection."

Dies at His Post.

George Clauson, 73 years old, No. 654½ Gladys avenue, janitor of the I. W. Hellman building, dropped dead yesterday morning while working on the second floor. It is thought he succumbed to an attack of heart disease. The body was discovered by C. C. Whitaker, a tenant of the building. Clauson leaves a widow. He had been a resident of this city about six years.

Broods Over Troubles.

I. H. Harris, held to answer Wednesday before Justice Summerfield on a charge of forgery, became violent at the County Jail early yesterday morning and had to be removed to the County Hospital. It is believed that he was despondent over his alleged dereliction and his inability to raise $1500 bond. He was subdued by deputies at the jail and taken away by the men who had arrested him two days earlier, Deputy Constables Benjamin and McLaflin.

Panama-Party Complete.

Miss Anne Baillie and Miss Hurley, daughter of P. T. Hurley, were added yesterday to the Chamber of Commerce's Panama excursion party, making fifty-six persons who will leave here at 10:10 o'clock a.m., today for New Orleans, en route to the big ditch. The party is expected to sail from New Orleans the 5th inst., and to return the 20th inst., arriving in this city the 23rd inst. So many applications were received for this trip that the chamber is now arranging a fourth excursion to leave here about April 24.

Lease Fiesta Park.

Fiesta Park and the large tent made for use in that enclosure have been leased by the International Christian Endeavor Convention Committee for use during the convention, July 9-14. The Auditorium building and a number of other auditoriums in the vicinity of the park are also to be leased. The committee consists of Leonard Merrill, chairman; R. E. Small, vice-chairman; J. L. Smith, secretary; J. P. Wells, treasurer; John Willis Baer, Paul C. Brown, Harold Cross, Arthur J. Gatter, Harry H. Godber, Francis A. McBurney, A. M. McDermott, F. P. Rossiter, Leon V. Shaw and James G. Warren.

Ad Club Waiting List.

The membership roll of the Los Angeles Ad Club has reached the point of a "waiting list," according to an announcement made yesterday by the board of directors. The membership is now a little over 300. The club was organized just a year ago. Recently it has been difficult to secure quarters large enough for the weekly luncheons and because of that, as well as to keep the club from becoming unwieldy in numbers, it was decided to set a temporary halt at the 300 mark, now a little more than exceeded. The Ad Club will be guests at the two hundred and fiftieth performance of the Mission Play at San Gabriel March 4. A special committee has been appointed by President Ingold to care for the club arrangements for that night.

FRIEND TURNS FOOTPAD.

Thomas R. Carico of No. 430 Towne avenue complained to the police yesterday that late Thursday night he was held up and robbed of $45 by a chance acquaintance near Seventh street and Maple avenue. Carico said he met the man several days ago at Ocean Park. They spent their time drinking and seeing the sights of the beach resorts. They came to Los Angeles Thursday evening. At the time of the alleged robbery, Carico says, he was going home. His friend drew a large revolver, held it against Carico and searched his pockets.

IS HE IDENTIFIED?

Detectives were informed last night by E. J. Kuegeman, of room 212, Union Oil building, that Claudius Peders, who attempted to end his life by hanging himself to his bed several days ago, is a well-known Chicago attorney. Kuegeman says that Edward Clody of No. 3919 Clark street, Chicago, and J. A. Schertzinger of Clark and Grace streets, Chicago, are friends of the victim, who is at the County Hospital in a serious condition.

HIT BY MOTORCYCLE.

Another victim to the list of the season's motorcycle accidents was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night. Levi Fickson, a teamster, 38 years old, who lives at 3406 North Broadway, was struck by an automobile, driven by C. T. Lloyd of No. 128 East Seventh street, at Figueroa and Sixth streets.

TIP GIVEN POLICE.

Mike Boyle who is, unnecessarily, described as being Irish and red of hair, is sought here at the request of Colin S. Campbell, superintendent of the Provincial Police of Victoria, B. C. Little is said of Mike save that he is "believed to be demented."

Remunerative Employment can be obtained by a careful day-after-day reading of the "Help Wanted" columns of The Times "Liner" section. —[Advertisement.

MORE CASH FOR LITTLE FELLOW.

Legislators Asked for Even School Fund Split.

Superintendent Says Small Counties Slighted.

Pot-Pourri of Matters Put Up to Lawmakers.

Among the more important matters of pending legislation that were discussed at yesterday's session of the Southern California delegation to the Legislature were those relating to schools, child labor, public welfare legislation, water conservation and Sunday rest bills. Suggestions as to changes in the Juvenile Court laws also were made.

Dr. Jesse F. Millspaugh, president of the Normal School, protested against the bill to place the State Normal schools under the control of the State Board of Education. He declared that such action would be injurious to the normal schools. A special appropriation of $8000 is necessary immediately, he said, to complete the sixty-fourth fiscal year. He said $258,600 is asked for maintaining the institution for the biennial period. A special appropriation of $10,000 was urged to purchase land to complete the new site for the school. He requested that $95,000 be set aside as a special appropriation for new buildings and grounds.

Superintendent Keppel of the county schools, spoke on several educational bills that he proposed. One projects a different scheme for the division of State school money, to give some of the smaller counties their fair share of the fund, which, Keppel declared, they are not receiving under the present plan. He also urged the passage of a bill to give the night schools the same recognition as the day schools in the division of the State funds.

He said under the law at present, the total amount of money expended for school work in the State annually is $4,899,837.04, based on 9569 teachers at $250 each, and 263,402 pupils average daily attendance, at $9.52 each. The average distribution, he figures, is $512.05 a teacher. He recommends $650 a teacher.

Mrs. L. M. Vance, No. 2205 San Pedro street, who conducts a home for reforming boys, asked the legislators for assistance in funds, whereby she could carry on her work to further advantage. She said she was now receiving aid and money from private sources, but nothing from the county.

Dr. E. E. Conger of Pasadena urged the passage of the bill providing for the turning over of fines assessed in cruelty to children and animal cases to the State instead of to humane societies, thus stopping the running of certain societies for profit.

President Frank, of the Board of Education, and other city school officials, asked for legislation concerning the leasing or selling of school property which would cover the Mercantile place situation. They also opposed the proposed bill which provides for the employment of certified architects for buildings in addition to the force now supplied by the supervisor of construction. Dr. E. H. Morrison advocated providing a reader at blind colleges. Francis Cuttle of Riverside, spoke in favor of tri-county reforestration.

Other subjects discussed were: Sunday rest law, S. K. McCarver, Charles Lyons; State farms bill, Bishop Johnson; sale and shipment of oysters, Oscar Morgan, Al Levy and S. R. Dixon; orphan and dependent children, H. W. Lewis; proposed amendments to the Juvenile Court law, Mrs. E. K. Foster; public welfare legislation, Mrs. Gibson.

AVERAGE CLEARINGS HIGHER.

Business Activity Shows Increase During February—Total for Year Should Be Larger Than Ever.

With only twenty-two active business days February bank clearings fell short of January's by about $13,000,000, despite the fact that they maintained a higher daily average. The average daily clearings last month were somewhat over $4,485,000, as against $4,300,000 in January. This is regarded as more than sufficient proof of the increase in business activity since the beginning of the year.

February's total shows an increase of approximately $11,400,000 over the corresponding month last year. The aggregate clearings for the first two months of this year are in excess of $210,250,000, an average of more than $105,125,000 per month. At this rate the year's total should easily be larger than $1,250,000,000, but as it is undoubted that the average will show an increase over that maintained thus far, there is every probability of this total being greatly exceeded.

CHAMPION AUTO-BUCKER.

Gasoline Steed Gets Rambunctious and Its Rider Must Explain Exhibition to Police.

"Tosser," a pet bucking auto which eye-witnesses say has all wild and wooly cowpunchers' cayuses relegated to the has-been class, went on a rampage at North Main and River streets last night and after smashing itself to pieces in a somersault, rolled over on S. M. Kistner of No. 6728 Pasadena avenue, sending him to the Receiving Hospital.

Policeman Farrell, who has seen some "rough riding" horses and motors, declares Kistner is the champion of 'em all and that with "Tosser" he would win first honors at any exhibition.

Just how it all happened even Kistner doesn't know; all he remembers is that the auto started bucking—got the carbureter in its teeth, as it were—and with mechanical leaps, balks, turns and twists finally hurtled into the air and turned on its side. And, says Farrell, Kistner "never pulled leather."

Kistner is suffering from injuries of the abdomen and he'll have to explain to a police court judge the "system" of "breaking" untamed motors.

BURGLARS USE PASS-KEY.

Pass-key burglars cleaned up $600 in jewels in daylight robberies at the homes of E. A. Stegar, No. 129 Sotello street, and C. C. Carter, No. 4212 Woodlawn avenue, yesterday. From Stegar's room they got a diamond and a ruby ring, a .38 caliber colt revolver and a collection of scarfpins. Carter lost several hundred dollars worth of small jewelry and $10.

It is recommended that additio Detention Home facilities be pr vided at once, to take care of wh seems to be a wave of juvenile d linquency and crime oversweepin the county. The detention home under quarantine for diphtheria, a its management is under investigat together with the whole juven system, by a committee from t Legislature, which has not yet su mitted its findings to the Superv sors.

The detention of boys under years has been repeatedly report by Jailer Gallagher of the Cou Jail. He says the Police Departme often sends lads there over at nig without having told their pare where they are. Gallagher says has always segregated them fr adult offenders; but with the crowded to the doors this has oft been hard to do. Many times he placed boys on parole, with the a proval of Sheriff Hammel, and he serts none has ever failed to app next morning.

"There are too many arrests," Gallagher. "They take in a youn for riding his bicycle without a or some such trivial thing. Jail no place for such a boy. The sys is wrong."

Judge Wilbur says so, too, but been embarrassed by lack of facili for taking care of juveniles. Epide at the Detention Home have made necessary to use the Boyle Heig Police Station for children, wh they have been segregated. The w of the County Hospital have oc sionally been filled with them.

"The county owns property near jail that might be used for tempor detention quarters, as suggested the grand jury. It is recomme that an officer be placed at po headquarters whose sole duty it be to look after juveniles. He be a specialist in his line, if suggestion is followed. The que is raised whether this will do a with the office of Probation O Marden. The latter expressed prise at the figures in the report, had reported to the grand jury 420 cases had been handled in past six months, but that only small proportion of the young fenders had been jailed.

Mrs. Kuster Defended as the Scapegoat of Clique.

Gems to "Helen" from Man's Poetry-Book.

Mrs. J. H. Jeffers, mother of John Robinson Jeffers, the lyric expounder of melancholy poems of passion, last evening washed her hands of the Kuster-Jeffers affair, exclusively published in The Times yesterday, and left the youth, so far as a public expression is concerned, to work out his own destiny. His father is Rev. T. H. Jeffers, a retired Presbyterian clergyman. The parents reside at No. 822 Garfield avenue, Pasadena.

Young Jeffers, who is declared to be the real reason for the Kuster divorce, is studying in the North, according to his mother.

"I know nothing about his plans," she said, "and I do not know whether or not he is to marry Mrs. Kuster.

Nor knew till darkness that the sun was gone,
Because our eyes were blind, while my lips drank
Oblivious love at yours.

BUST TRUST OF GROCERY GRAB?

Seven Men Arrested; Carload of Loot Recovered.

Gang Worked Over Large Area, Say the Police.

Alleged "Fence" Describes Plot Against Life.

Paralleling the great eastern wholesale grocery robberies in which a chain of crooks operated throughout the larger cities of New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Maryland and conducted a "Looters Exchange" for disposal of their plunder, city and county officers here have unearthed what they say is the biggest case of its kind recorded in this section. The crooks are said to have been operating here for more than a year, and to have stolen more than $10,000 worth of groceries.

Uncovering a large quantity of groceries and liquors which the police say is property stolen in large and small cities of Southern California—from Los Angeles to San Diego and also in cities to the North—Plainclothesmen McAuliffe and Allen of the East Side Station, armed with a search warrant, last night raided what they say was the principal "fence" used to dispose of the stolen goods.

S. C. Alexander, a grocer, of No. 1202 Maple avenue, in the cellar of whose establishment the property was found and confiscated, was arrested and is held on charges of having received stolen goods, pending completion of the police investigation. Alexander is the seventh and last prisoner taken into custody in connection with the case and the authorities contend that in seven days work they have apprehended the entire gang.

Frank Timlin, Patrick Flinn and Carl Barnett, declared to be members of the gang, are also prisoners at Central Station, and three other men—George Wilson, William Lighthall and Edward Gardner—are in custody at Ventura. Mrs. E. G. Wentworth, whose grocery at Latin Station was raided by the police in connection with the case, is said to have been a victim of the gang and she will not be prosecuted.

The prisoners, with the exception of Alexander, are said to have had a rendezvous and "exchange" at No. 1052 East Fifty-third street, where they are alleged to have concocted plots for the daring robberies charged against them.

Deputy District Attorney Helms, who has been collaborating with the police, believes that the case knows no parallel in the West and says the evidence against the prisoners is conclusive.

NEED A DRAY.

After the raid on Alexander's cellars the officers discovered that they would have to either summon a dray or the largest of the city patrol wagons to carry the goods to Central Station. Finally transported to headquarters, the officers inventoried the goods and found the lot contained the following:

Ten sacks of sugar, three sacks of beans, two crates of grape juice, ten cases of corn, twelve cases of whisky, a thousand cigars, forty-two packs of tobacco, etc. This, the officers say, is but a fractional part of loot secured in robberies perpetrated recently.

Alexander told the officers, according to a statement made by them after the arrest, of a plot to get him out of the way. The police believe the thieves feared what Alexander, if arrested, would give testimony which would send them to the penitentiary for long terms.

Alexander, the police say, purchased, among other goods, fifty cases of whisky from the prisoners. Dissatisfied with the amount received for the liquor, or deliberately planning to "get" Alexander, the latter says the men waylaid him. They were frightened off by the flash of Alexander's pistol and the approach of pedestrians.

Detectives say Alexander was afraid to report the case before for two reasons, that the police would get wind of his alleged connection with the thugs and that in such event the thieves would carry out their supposed designs on Alexander's life.

Sheriff McMartin of Ventura arrested the three prisoners held there by what the authorities say was a remarkable chance. According to the officers, Martin, Wilson and Lighthall robbed a wholesalers' storehouse at Ventura of 143 sacks of beans, driving drays to the doors of the establishment in broad daylight and openly carting the loot away.

FREAK ANGLE.

The freak angle of the case, according to the police, is the fact that the

"I AIN'T TH' GUY YOUSE GINKS WANT," SAYS DUBY.

In Swindling Probe.

Charles Duby (above) and John Scott, the former brought from San Francisco yesterday on a felony warrant. Scott is a victim of the bunco steerers and says he lost $5900 here on a fake horse race.

CHARLES DUBY, alias Charles Derby, ex-prize fighter and alleged confidence man, denied upon his arrival here last night from San Francisco that he was in any way connected with Lee Rial, E. C. "Poker" Davis, J. W. Byrnes or any other person mentioned in connection with the investigation now being carried on as to swindling here and in near-by cities. Duby was arrested several days ago and held by the San Francisco police, pending the coming of Detectives Williams and King, who went to the northern city for the prisoner. G. P. Friesca, the Illinois farmer who was a near-victim of a fake poolroom scheme at Venice, will be given an opportunity today to say whether Duby was one of the men who came near getting his $5000.

"These guys have got me wrong on this deal," Duby said last night at Central Station. "I've been in 'Frisco all the time and ain't even seen this gink who fell for the bunc at Venice. Say, how can they stick me for somethin' I ain't done? The 'dicks' said the fall guy would be 'round to lamp me in the mornin' an' if this ain't a frame-up the boob'll tell 'em he ain't never seen me. I ain't worried none; 'cause if this easy mark tries to frame me why I can prove where I was, see?"

NEW VICTIM.

The list of victims who have been "trimmed" by the bunco artists was increased materially yesterday, the latest person to confess to the police in this connection being John Scott, a retired farmer living near Mitchell, S. D., who parted with $5476 on a fake horse race two years ago at Santa Anita. The method used by the swindlers in this instance was the same as in the more recent Friesca case, and is thought to have derived its popularity because of its many successes prior to the days of Pharaoh.

According to Scott, he was approached by a suave stranger who accosted him near Fifth and Broadway. The stranger was affable and said he intended to make Southern California his future home. Scott was finally induced to accompany his new-found friend to Santa Anita, where Harry Miles, for so he represented himself, contemplated purchasing an orange grove. The same old story of the meeting with a successful race-track plunger; the tips on what horse was to win; the success attendant upon the first few wagers, and the final suggestion that they break the poolroom on the next race, was worked on the unsuspecting victim. He sent home for his money, made good his check, and then was unfortunate in that his new friend bet on the wrong horse, thereby ruining Scott and the "plunger." Following the usual course the swindlers bought a ticket and sent the old man to Milwaukee to wait, and of course they failed to put in an appearance.

IDENTIFIES RIAL.

Scott told his story to Chief Sebastian yesterday with renewed interest after he had gone to the County Jail, where he positively identified Lee Rial as the man who had buncoed him. Later in the day he identified the picture of J. W. Byrnes as that of the man who "called off" the races at the fake poolroom. He said that he contemplated suicide when he learned how he had been fleeced, but thought better of it. He will be used as a witness against Rial at his preliminary hearing Monday. Upon his arrival here two months ago, according to Scott, he was again "picked up" by a bunco steerer who took him to Redondo and wanted to introduce him to a friend, but one lesson had been enough, and Scott refused to be introduced.

Two more warrants were issued yesterday by Deputy District-Attorney Shannon.

C. F. Johnson, No. 1207 West Tenth street, was approached by bunco men recently, according to the story he told Chief Sebastian yesterday, but he became suspicious before he parted with any money and refused to go any farther. He divulged information yesterday touching on the identity of the men he says tried to fleece him.

POSITIVE NEGATIVES.

Recorder May Photograph His Records to Avoid Errors and to Save Copying Expense.

The use of photography to copy documents submitted for recording has been suggested by members of the Board of Supervisors, to relieve the recorder of the danger of suit for damages, in case of error, and to simplify the work. Senate Bill No. 1185 and Assembly Bill No. 1482, now before the Legislature, contain clauses permitting this new departure, if substitution for hand-copying is desired.

In an office like Recorder Logan's, where a new document is filed every forty seconds every day, there is bound to be an error now and then, according to Supervisor Butler. Logan can be held legally liable, if an error causes financial damage to any one. Photography is absolutely correct, and for seven years has been used with much success by Assessor Hopkins, in making copies of surveyor's maps for the field books of his deputies.

Recently the county contracted to purchase 110 book typewriters, desiring to increase accuracy and save filing space by typing the records. These are being put in gradually, and only a few are in use at present. Cancellation of the contract might be possible, if a change is made.

Logan refused to assume a stand for either system last night, saying he had not weighed their merits. "It is true that the question of liability is important enough for me to welcome any means to evade it," he said. "But it would be hard to photograph the documents as they come in, interlined with fly-leaves, and even written on both sides. I don't know how permanent they would be, either, if photographed."

Social Shock.

MRS. GILLETTE BANKRUPT; CREDITORS TAKE JEWELS.

Mrs. Grant G. Gillette,

Society matron and wife of the leading defendant in the forthcoming Cleveland Oil Company trial, who declared herself bankrupt in the United States District Court yesterday.

AMANDA E. GILLETTE, society matron and wife of Grant G. Gillette, oil operator and leading defendant in the pending action against the Cleveland Oil Company, set for trial in the United States District Court for the 18th inst., on the charge of using the mails to defraud, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday.

Her debts are scheduled at $37,961.79, of which amount $20,840 are secured and $17,115.49 unsecured. The assets are fixed at a valuation of $1100, consisting of stocks. The household goods, valued at $100, are claimed to be exempt.

Among the debts is a note for $19,846.30, made in favor of Edwin Moore of this city, and signed by the petitioner and Grant G. Gillette, secured by forty shares of the Bankers' Oil Company, valued at $2000; twenty shares of the Sinaloa Land Company, $1000; ten bonds of the Cleveland Oil Company, value unknown; twenty-five shares of the Commercial Bank and Savings Company of Cleveland, value unknown; 2000 shares of the Kankakee Manufacturing Company, value unknown; 5000 shares of the Hale-McLeod Oil Company, $3000; diamond necklace, $5000; diamond brooch and bracelet, $2500; brooch and ring, $5000, all in possession of the creditors, the petition states.

There is a note for $1000 due the Security Savings Bank of Los Angeles and signed by the petitioner and Grant G. Gillette, secured by one bond of the Los Angeles Country Club, valued at $1000, and two shares of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company of Louisville, Ky.

Other creditors are Nicholas Ports, Fostoria, O., judgment for $7181.82; Finley & Gallinger, Findlay, O., attorney fees, $1250, and J. R. Rubin, Los Angeles, note, $5790.

While she has lived in this city Mrs. Gillette acquired a reputation as one of the prominent figures in the social world. She has been justly noted for her brilliant functions and for her club and charitable work. Her name has been associated with the affairs of the defunct Cleveland company, but chiefly through certain statements attributed to one of the directors.

Cooking as a Fine Art.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 2:30 p.m., Second Floor New "Times" Building.

There was as much excitement about the successful landing of a baked shad on a platter yesterday at The Times cooking school as is ordinarily manifested at the launching of a ship. That fish was safely transferred, too, from the baking pan to the platter in full sight of 500 pairs of interested eyes. It required two spatulas, a pancake turner and all of Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's coolness and [illegible] to do it, but the feat was accomplished. [illegible] woman in the front row who is always there got so excited during the operation that, at a critical period when it looked as if the fish was about to break in two, she shrieked: "Grab his tail, Ethel! Grab his tail."

It certainly was a beautiful fish, and the women who had watched every step of preparation, and had kept an eye on the clock while Mr. Shad was baking in the oven, felt a warm, personal interest in him—and after they had tasted that delicious, stuffed, baked shad, they felt as if he was a part of their very being—so positive and affectionate a hold had he taken upon the appetite.

A Beautiful, Bronze Baked Shad.

As soon as he was successfully landed on the platter, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger peeled off his beautiful, bronze skin, poured a plain butter sauce over him—his filling was so rich and delicious that he needed no other dressing—covered his little, scorched tail with cool, green parsley—and there he lay, a triumph of culinary art.

While Mrs. Haffner-Ginger was preparing the shad for baking she delivered a little encomium on fish in general and shad in particular as a part of one's daily diet. Daily? Yes—that's what she said. Fish, she declared, is one of the most wholesome and easily digested of meats.

"It would be well," she observed, "if we would eat fish once a day; it is nourishing, and, as you all know, one of the best and strongest brain foods we have—but, remember, no matter how well you like milk, do not drink it when you are eating fish. I am told that shad are very plentiful on this Coast, and that most of the fish caught out here go into fertilizing plants because so little fish is eaten. Shad is much better than halibut, which is large grain, rather dry, and takes lots of seasoning to make it at all palatable."

How She Prepared the Shad.

The shad had been split and cleaned beforehand and was all ready for the filling, which she made as follows:

One cup bread crumbs, moistened with water; two tablespoons melted butter; one tablespoon chipped parsley; one teaspoon each of capers and chopped onion; one-half tablespoonful Lea & Perrin's sauce; one level teaspoon salt; one tablespoonful each of chopped pickles and tomato sauce (using prepared tomato soup;) one-half tablespoonful lemon juice; two tablespoonfuls hot water; dash of cayenne pepper.

She thoroughly mixed all these ingredients—laid Mr. Shad out neatly in the baking pan and poured the filling on one of his sides, deftly folding the other over and pinning in place with toothpicks and wire-skewers. He was certainly a fine, fat fish when he was finished. She sprinkled salt over him, poured a cup of water in the pan for him to swim in, put the cover of the blue enamel bake-pan over him and put him in the oven to bake.

"How long do you bake fish?" asked a woman in the audience.

"Till it's done" was the prompt response, and then the cook lady gave a little lecture on timing things.

"I want to get you away from that old idea of timing things," she said. "Life is too short to stand over an oven and watch its temperature, and the time of baking anything always has to do with the temperature of the oven. If my system makes for success in cooking it is owing to a scientific knowledge of conditions and governing yourself by them—the size of the roast—the heat of the oven—experience and common-sense will best tell you how to calculate time for cooking foods."

As to Condiments.

"Now, in preparing the stuffing of that fish," she went on, "if you don't like onion, leave it out and substitute something else. Cucumbers, both raw and cooked, are decidedly a fish vegetable.

"Now, here is a bottle of oyster cocktail that was presented to me at the fish market where I got that shad this morning," and she held it up to view. "I've caught a hint, too, and that is, that if some of us would drink more tomato sauce and its condiments with oysters in, liver pills would go begging."

"Now, some of you have accused me of being extravagant—not to my face—oh, no—you're too polite for that—but I've heard it, nevertheless. If to serve food attractively is extravagance, then I am extravagant—I admit it—but now I'm going to show you what I can do with a 10-cent can of tomato soup and a few other things in the way of making an oyster cocktail. You remember Peck's bad boy put Limburger cheese in his pa's handkerchief? Well, I'm going to just garnish this dish with garlic," and she proceeded to rub the odorous onion around the inside of the bowl. "I'm going to leave this little piece of garlic in the bottom of the bowl till I get the other ingredients in—don't let me forget to take it out when the cocktail's done," she cautioned as she went on compounding.

Oyster Cocktail.

One tablespoonful horse radish; one-half teaspoonful tabasco sauce; one tablespoonful Lea & Perrin's sauce; two tablespoonfuls lemon juice; one-half tablespoonful salt; one tablespoonful taragon vinegar; two tablespoonfuls tomato sauce—all the oysters you can afford.

"Any one of the condiments that you do not like you can of course leave out," the cook lady observed; "some of you may feel like the little boy who ate the persimmons when you taste this cocktail—for I assure you it is a hot proposition," she warned as she added the oysters.

It was just as the bowl of cocktail had begun to circulate through the front row, some one asked: "Did you take the garlic out?"

The cook lady turned pale and everybody gasped as she said, "Oh, my goodness, I forgot all about it."

It was apparently a good thing, however, for the women partook so sparingly of the pieces of oysters floating around lest they eat the garlic, that the dish got as far as the sixth row before it was emptied. Suddenly there was a gulping and choking sound in the seventh row, and everybody was startled, and then a gust of laughter swept over the audience. A dear little, gray-haired motherly woman had got the garlic straight in her mouth, too—but it didn't stay there long, and the incident only added gaiety to the occasion.

Salmon and Omelette.

After that the cook lady baked the delicious red salmon, and she made an egg omelette so light and fluffy it looked as if it could fly. The recipes for both of these dishes will appear in tomorrow's Times.

Government Officers Believe So and May Order Deportation of Hall's Pretty Ward.

The status of Miss Marie Sustans, the companion of Charles Victor Hall, the local oil man who was the center of attraction in the recent action for divorce brought against Hall by his wife in the local courts, is being investigated by the local immigration authorities.

The inquiry was instituted here for the reason that Hall is now living in this immigration district, and if the circumstances warrant such action a warrant for the arrest of Hall or the woman, or both, will be asked of the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor.

Among the grounds alleged for the proposed deportation of Miss Sustans are that she is an "assisted alien," and that she is likely to become a public charge.

The investigation, asked for by the Los Angeles officers, is being carried on at New York, Tampa and Jacksonville, Fla., where Hall and his companion were located at various times, with a possibility that depositions will be taken in Paris and other continental cities, including London.

Nothing will be done until the investigation is completed, when the officers will determine whether the developments warrant action on their part. At the trial Judge Monroe suggested that the immigration authorities ought to investigate the case.

MONEY IS GENUINE.

That's Only Allegation that Seems Admitted in Controversy in Colored Fraternal Order.

A cloud lowered over Justice Summerfield's court yesterday when Rosetta Temple No. 3, Grand Lodge of the United Brotherhood of Friendhsip and Sisters of the Mysterious Ten, a corporation, brought suit against sundry colored brethren and sisters who seceded from the parent body and, so the allegation goes, took $274 of the order's funds.

Various princesses and potentates were put on the stand, each insisting that the order he or she belongs to is the true one, and that all the others are spurious. Each organization seemed to have as many heads as Cerberus; but they all agreed the money is genuine.

Justice Summerfield took the case under advisement.

HUNGRY BOY TURNS BANDIT.

With Toy Pistol and Soiled Handkerchief for Mask, He Lies in Wait for Victim—His Story.

Starved to skin and bones, so impoverished he was hardly able to stand on his feet, a stranger to soap and water for weeks, his clothes in rags and insufficient to keep him warm, Gilbert Van Valkenburg, 14 years old, sought to secure money for food and clothing by turning highwayman Thursday night.

Armed with a toy pistol and wearing a soiled handkerchief over his pinched features for a mask, he was found lurking in a hallway on South Main street by Patrolman Lelande. At the Central Police Station the boy told a story of neglect and privation.

He said he and his father came to Los Angeles a few weeks ago from Anacortes, Wash., in quest of work. While the father looked for employment as a carpenter, he left his son penniless and to his own devices. They had a room at the Hotel Windsor.

Gilbert says that for several weeks he had only one meal a day. He became so desperate he decided to try to get money by turning highwayman. He told the police he lurked in a hallway, intending to hold up the first person who entered.

Assistant Police Surgeon Thurber said unless Gilbert was given proper nourishment he would die. The lad was turned over to the juvenile officers. He will not be prosecuted. A search is being made for his father.

STORY OF CRUSADES.

The story of the Crusades and their relation to Knight Templarhood is the theme of an exceptionally interesting folder just issued by the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad in the interest of the Triennial Conclave to be held in Denver, August 12-15. The publication is replete with Crusade illustrations and is easily one of the best editions of advertising literature issued in a long time by a railroad.

"PROGRESSIVE" FICTIONIST.

Novelist Churchill at Banquet by Bull Moose Central Committee Is Chief Speaker.

That the Progressive party is the only political party qualified to fight the people's battles and bring about perfection in government was the statement made last night by Winston Churchill, the New Hampshire novelist, at the Progressive dinner given under the auspices of the Progressive County Central Committee at Hamburger's Cafe.

About 300 men and women attended and listened to seven well-known Progressive speakers. Churchill delivered the principal address of the evening and was loudly applauded. He accorded high praise to Roosevelt and Johnson, and declared that the latter "is one of the greatest Progressives in the Union."

Other speakers were John F. Neylan, "The State Budget;" Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, "Inheritance Taxation;" Speaker C. C. Young, "Education Law Legislation;" Senator Lee C. Gates, "Blue Sky Laws;" Willis I. Morrison, "Industrial Accidents," and H. Stanley Benedict, "State Civil Service."

The Bribery Trial.

PERMITS PLEA TO SAVE NECK.

Darrow's Reluctant Story of Dynamiter's Confession.

Cross-Examination of Lawyer Elicits Information.

He Asserts Mrs. McManigal Deserves Pension.

A cross-examination that began with the conspiracy of labor union officials to blow up the Times Building and murder its men and ended for the time being with conferences between Dist.-Atty. Fredericks and the defendant, occupied the entire session yesterday in the Darrow trial. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford was thorough in his inquisition and apparently left no point untouched in his quiz of the former chief counsel for the McNamaras.

There will be a session this morning, Judge Conley being anxious to finish the case, which has taken longer than promised by the lawyers. If possible the court will make the examination of Darrow conclude this morning. Rebuttal will be brief. Arguments will be begun Tuesday or Wednesday. The case is expected to be in the hands of the jury by Friday.

Cross-examination developed no new features yesterday. Darrow was a better witness in the estimation of many on cross-examination than he was when telling his story.

The attendance was large, many women waiting all the noon recess for the privilege of getting in to see the defendant and Mrs. Darrow.

"Did you arrange to have Mrs. McManigal paid $25 a week?" asked Ford for the purpose of showing Darrow's interest in the wife of the man whose confession led to the arrest of J. J. and J. B. McNamara.

"No," replied the witness, "but the unions did so. I think she ought to have a pension for life for having advised her husband not to become a traitor to his friends."

AFTER EVIDENCE.

Ford asked Darrow about his efforts to get the evidence secured in Indianapolis, consisting of dynamite, gun caps, fuse and other articles. Darrow said he telegraphed to Attorney Leo M. Rappaport at Indianapolis to spend as much as $10,000 to get control of the evidence, but after the compromise was effected here he wired that there was no need to try to get the evidence.

Ford read part of McManigal's testimony before the county grand jury. In it, the man who is now in the County Jail told of having gone to Indianapolis to discuss the destruction of the Times Building with J. J. McNamara. He said the delight of J. J. was apparent.

McManigal also told in his confession, which Ford read, about having come to this city December 24, 1910, at the behest of J. J. McNamara to blow up the auxiliary plant of The Times if he could. He said he found the place too well guarded and therefore set a bomb at the plant of the Llewellyn Iron Works.

Ford asked Darrow about his meeting with Capt. Fredericks to arrange the terms of the compromise.

FEARS A "LEAK."

"It was not my plan to have a large committee," said the defendant. "I did not believe in letting too many persons know about it. I feared it would leak out before we were ready. I did what I thought was for the best interests of my clients."

Ford questioned Darrow closely as to his knowledge of the blowing up of the Times Building. The court held the questions were admissible although Earl Rogers objected to any questions tending to bring out the details of the plot to destroy the newspaper plant and kill its workmen.

At one time Rogers objected to a question by Ford on the well-known ground that it violated the section of the code relating to the veil of secrecy thrown around communications of client and lawyer.

"I cannot find any code provision that meets this particular point," said Judge Conley, directing his question to Rogers.

"It is in my code, your honor," replied Rogers.

The particular question was looked up and the lawyer shown to be in error.

Ford proceeded to inquire into many matters that showed Darrow's close connection with Ryan, Tveitmoe and other convicted felons of labor unions organizations. The cross-examination was allowed because the defense lawyer permitted Darrow to go fully into his conversations with the McNamaras touching the compromise and arrangements to plead guilty.

Ford showed that Darrow went to Indianapolis to consult Ryan, Hockin and other officials of the Structural Ironworkers' Union, shortly after the arrest of the McNamaras and the confession of McManigal.

"On your first visit to Los Angeles did you see the McNamaras?" asked Ford.

"I did," replied Darrow.

"Did you ask your clients if McManigal's confession was true?"

This question was not permitted. Rogers said the sacred relations between client and lawyer should not be violated. Ford retorted that Darrow appeared willing to tell all the McNamaras said in order to show that the compromise was agreed on before the so-called Lockwood bribery.

DYNAMITE OR GAS?

"While here did you learn that the Times Building was blown up by dynamite or gas?" resumed Ford.

"I never learned that," said Darrow.

"Did you learn that J. B. McNamara deposited fifteen sticks of dynamite in the alleyway of the Times Building?" asked Ford.

"I don't know," said the defendant.

"Did you learn that the person the prosecution asserted was J. B. McNamara was a guest at the New Baltimore Hotel in this city?"

"I may have learned it at some time or other," said Darrow.

"You also learned that J. B. McNamara, alias J. B. Brice, purchased dynamite in San Francisco, didn't you?" asked Ford.

"I may have."

"You knew J. B. Brice registered at several San Francisco hotels?"

"I heard so."

"You also knew that J. B. McNamara, as Brice, was in Los Angeles in July, 1910?"

This provoked a discussion as to what Darrow might testify to. Ford maintained that inasmuch as one of the chief defenses is that the strong case against the defendants led Darrow to urge his clients to plead

"You knew McNamara registered at the Chapman House, this city?"

"No."

"You permitted J. J. McNamara to plead guilty to having blown up the Llewellyn Iron Works. Did you know that Ortie McManigal did that job?"

HUMANITARIAN.

"I allowed J. J. to plead guilty to save his neck," said Darrow.

Ford asked Darrow about his conferences with labor union leaders after he went East. Darrow told of his meeting with Gompers, Tveitmoe, Morrison, Mitchell, Ryan and others.

"What was said about the expenses of the litigation?"

"It was agreed that an assessment of 25 cents a head be placed on all members of labor unions," said Darrow. He did not offer any explanation as to how the money has been expended.

Darrow was asked about his talks with Mrs. McManigal in Chicago. He tried to make it appear that the woman was seeking to get in touch with her husband through Darrow to save him the "disgrace" of truth about the numerous dynamite jobs.

Darrow said George Behm was taken to Los Angeles to use his supposed influence with McManigal.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Gardiner are guests at the Alexandria, where they are registered from New York. Their home is really in Lincolnshire, England, and they are here on a pleasure tour, having come west by the way of the Grand Canyon. Gardiner is a gentleman of leasure and is fond of hunting and fishing, in which sports he expects to indulge himself while in the West. "From here we go to British Columbia, where I have some personal interests," he said, in mentioning the route of his journey.

He is here looking after some of the equipment of the company and arranging for the introduction of some new machinery. J. J. Lilly, sales manager of the Sharp-Dohne Company of Baltimore, is also stopping at the Hayward.

Among Canadians who are making headquarters at the Lankershim are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bole of Montreal, B. C. Johnson and son of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Grant of the same place. Bole is in the wholesale grocery business in Montreal, while Johnson and Grant are in the real estate and land business. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Becker are registered at the Lankershim from Ogden. Becker has mining interests in Utah.

J. F. Streicher, who is sharing the hospitality of the Angelus, is a shoe dealer of Toledo, and is here on a pleasure trip. "During past years I have always gone to Florida, but what I have seen in the past few days of this State has convinced me that this is the right part of the country to come to for real enjoyment of the winter season." Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Fleming of West Lebanon, Ind., accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. W. A. Bell, of Kenosha, Wis., are other Angelus guests. Fleming is a retired banker.

G. Hill Goddard of Silver City, N. M., was joined yesterday at the Van Nuys by his mother, Mrs. W. A. Goddard, of St. Louis. Goddard is interested in a large cattle ranch in New Mexico. T. Stock, member of an English financial syndicate which is interested in oil properties in Southern California, is making the Van Nuys his home during his brief visit to this city.

John Mitchell of Oakland, member of the State Board of Equalization, is a guest at the Hollenbeck while here on personal business. L. L. Varrey of the same city is with him and is an architect. H. H. Lawson of Salt Lake City arrived at the hotel from Nevada, where he has been looking over some properties. He is a mining engineer.

Judge Sidney Williams of San Francisco registered at the Westminster yesterday in company with W. K. White. He is here on a legal matter of personal character. F. E. Brundige, who has oil interests in Pennsylvania, and who came to look over the oil fields of Southern California, is registered at the Westminster from Oil City. He is accompanied by Mrs. Brundige.

G. N. Manning, one of the pioneer cattleman of New Mexico, accompanied by his wife, is staying at the Westminster. He has a large ranch near Gallup. W. D. Kilbourn, a mining man of Pueblo, Colo., is also a guest at the Westminster.

General Passenger Agent Batturs of the Southern Pacific left for San Francisco last night to attend the annual banquet of the Transportation Club of the northern city.

A. W. Noyes, general traveling passenger agent of the Chicago Great Western, who came here to spend a week and stayed six weeks, will make an effort today to tear himself away from the enchanting Southland. "I wouldn't go now if it wasn't for urgent business," said Noyes yesterday. "Next year I am coming out here prepared to stay just as long as I wish."

DEFENDS HIS OFFICE.

Deputy Horticultural Commissioner Corrects Wrong Impression as to Expenses.

John Scott of Duarte, former County Horticultural Commissioner, has scored the present administration of his old office for alleged extravagance, according to Deputy Commissioner Jones, saying that the cost to run the department last year was [illegible], as shown by the Auditor's report.

Because this report has been widely circulated, Jones wishes to make a correction. He says that there must be deducted from this a credit of $30,469 received by the commission for spraying, and that $9000 is still due from this source, with a like amount in bank. The office, he asserts, has been run more economically and effectively during the past year than ever before.

BOYS SERIOUSLY ACCUSED.

Charged With Stealing Purses on the Proceeds of Which They Lived at the Beach.

Leonard Reeder, 15 years old, No. 417 East Thirty-fifth street, and Forrest Smith, 16 years old, No. 1303 East Twenty-seventh street, were arrested yesterday for snatching a purse containing $6 and a bundle of groceries from Mrs. E. Marquard of Twenty-eighth street. The boys were turned over to the police department juvenile officers. It is said they ran away from their respective homes on the 16th inst., but there is no record at the Central Station that their parents asked the police to locate them.

Reeder, it is said, stole a horse and buggy at Redondo Beach several days ago, but as far as known was not prosecuted. The boys spent most of their time at the beaches where it is said they acquired a living snatching purses from women.

The Alarm Clock.

DREAM-CASTLES AND MAID FADE.

OLD SPANISH BUNCO GAME HAS ONE MORE VICTIM.

Local Carpenter Sells His Home and Business for Visionary Riches and Castilian Heiress for a Wife. Nearly Weeps When Police Gently Disillusionize Him.

Dream visions of an ancient castle in Spain that was to be his home, iron-bound chests filled with gold double doubloons, and a beautiful maiden waiting to marry him when he secured her release from a convent where she is held a prisoner, were dispelled by Acting Chief of Detectives Moffat for C. W. Cowan yesterday when he called at the Central Station for advice as he was en route to the depot to catch a train for New York, and from there sail for Madrid, Spain.

The detective told Cowan that he was a near-victim of the time-honored Spanish swindle. For a few minutes the carpenter, who had a shop at No. 115 East Jefferson street, could not be made to believe that letters and cablegrams in his possession from men in the capital of Spain were not what they were intended to represent.

When the truth dawned upon the man he seemed filled with chagrin and disappointment. In an instant his dream of $160,000, a Spanish castle and a maiden of that country for a wife vanished, and he realized that he had sacrificed for almost nothing a business that he had devoted years in building up, to say nothing of money spent on cablegrams and a ticket from here to the Spanish capital.

Some months ago Cowan received a letter from Madrid, telling him that he could have a third of $480,000 if he would assist an imprisoned Spanish banker to escape, when the banker's daughter would further reward him by becoming his wife. The liberation of the banker would require a few hundred dollars, which Cowan realized by the sale of his business.

So elated was he over the prospects of a castle, and a life of ease and luxury with a handsome Spanish girl, that Cowan confided all to friends. Yesterday, as he was about to take the train for the East, he was advised to lay the matter before Central Station detectives. It was then that Cowan ascertained how he, like hundreds, had been duped by swindlers.

CORPORATIONS MUST PAY.

Today is the last opportunity for corporations to pay the excise tax at the office of Collector Claude I. Parker, and to accommodate those desiring to settle, the office will remain open until 5:30 p.m. There are several thousand corporations still delinquent, and the officers will be liable to a heavy penalty if the payment is not made today. The February receipts of the Collector of Internal Revenue amounted to $81,816.30, as compared with $70,793.97 for the corresponding month last year.

INCREASED RECEIPTS.

The February receipts of Collector of Customs Pendleton of the Los Angeles district amounted to $61,624.06, as compared with $35,931.70, for the corresponding month of 1912, or an increase of nearly 100 per cent. The heavy arrivals of dutiable goods during the month just closed—nearly twenty ships docking within that time—accounts for the big increase.

No Partnership Shown.

J. Greenbaum was acquitted of the charge of having filed a fictitious attachment suit in order to hinder and delay creditors, by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday.

The prosecution attempted to prove Greenbaum was a member of the Great Eastern Suit and Cloak Manufacturing Company, which is accused by the police and others of having swindled almost 1000 women in an alleged crooked scheme in which they were supposed to buy garments on the installment plan. When the expose came the real members of the firm hurriedly left the city. No trace of them has been found.

The defense showed that while Greenbaum was considered as having bought an interest he had not done so, the partners not having agreed to indemnify him against the claims of women who had not yet secured suits.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

They Don't Get Him.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—[To Editor of The Times:] I have been reading of late about the bunco games going on in this city and of so many people being swindled out of large sums of money. I will say I am 73 years old and never in my life have I had a bunco steerer approach me and try to get me to bite at his game. I see the police are working hard to get hold of the thieves as they call them by publishing in all the papers that they are after the thieves and will soon have them rounded up. A very nice way to catch a thief.

LEARNS WAYS OF WORLD.

Minister Instructed as to His Duty as a Citizen After Refusing to Accept Jury Summons.

Rev. W. J. Schmalle's alleged ignorance of a jury subpoena and his refusal to accept service from Patrolman O'Howell resulted in his being detained almost an hour in Police Judge Rose's courtroom to answer to a proposed charge of contempt of court. When Clerk O'Brien familiarized himself with the facts he induced the officer to consent to the minister withdrawing upon the latter's promise to appear in court next Monday morning.

The officer found Rev. Mr. Schmalle, pastor of the First Evangelical Church, No. 1150 South Hope street, conversing with another divine at First and Broadway.

"Are you qualified voters?" asked O'Howell.

"I am," replied Rev. Mr. Schmalle. The other said he was not.

"I've got a jury service summons for you," said the officer, handing the paper to the minister.

He refused to take it, permitting the paper to fall to the sidewalk, remarking:

"I'm a minister of the gospel. I don't know what a summons is and I refuse to take it."

Upon the advice of a superior officer, Patrolman O'Howell started for Justice Rose's court to secure a contempt-of-court warrant. The minister followed him. While waiting for the justice to appear, Clerk O'Brien was made acquainted with the facts. After he had explained the law to Rev. Mr. Schmalle the latter agreed to acknowledge the service. Thereupon he left the courtroom.

OFFICER A SHUTTLECOCK.

Traffic Officer C. C. Kagley, 27 years old, was knocked from one car to another at Third street and Broadway yesterday afternoon, thrown to the pavement, painfully injured and he narrowly escaped being run over. His injuries were dressed and sutured at the Receiving Hospital. A man who jumped upon a car on the wrong side knocked the officer against another going in an opposite direction. Before Kagley could recover himself he was hurled against the first car. In a semi-conscious condition he was thrown to the pavement. The officer had presence of mind to draw his arms and legs together to prevent them from being crushed by either of the cars. Kagley sustained a bad cut on the face, a number of bruises and contusions. His uniform was ruined.

PEDAGOGUES' VIEWPOINT.

Pending School Investigation at Sacramento to Be Discussed By State Association Today.

A thorough discussion of proposed school legislation, on file at Sacramento, will mark an all-day session of the Council of Education of the California Teachers' Association, southern session, in the music-room of the Normal School today. The public will be welcome and a banquet will be given this evening at the University Club, at which the legislators of Southern California will be guests.

Speakers for the evening, with their themes, will be: Cree T. Work of Venice, "The Proposed Teachers' College at Los Angeles;" Senator N. W. Thompson, "The Reorganization of the State Board;" Anna I. Jenkins, director of kindergarten work at Pasadena, "Kindergartens;" Senator L. C. Gates, "Teachers' Pensions;" Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, vice-principal of Los Angeles High School, "The Bill Proposing the Repeal of the Law Providing Equal Salaries for Men and Women;" Dr. J. A. Scherer, president Throop Polytechnic Institute, "Taxation of Colleges." Dr. Jeremiah M. Rhodes, president of the council, will be toastmaster.

Among the proposed laws to be discussed is the teachers' pension bill. There is a dissatisfaction in Los Angeles at a clause setting 60 years as the age limit when a pension shall be operative, after thirty years' of service. Teachers here believe they should draw a pension after that length of service, no matter what their age. The reorganization of the State board, the raising of money by trustees without appraising the people in advance and other legislation will be taken up.

Hugh J. Baldwin, county superintendent for San Diego, will report for the committee on the reconstruction of the State board. He believes that body should be composed of business men and not of pedagogues; but that the latter should be appointed, with the State Superintendent a member ex-officio.

The Return of Blood Eruptions

No Reason Why Anyone Should Suffer With Such a Disheartening Experience.

No case of contagious blood poison is ever cured until the last particle of the virus has been removed from the circulation. The least taint left in the blood will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous and destructive symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. No other medicine so surely cures contagious blood poison as S. S. S. It goes down into the blood and steadily and surely drives out every particle of the infection. It absolutely and perfectly purifies the blood, and leaves this vital fluid as fresh, rich and healthy as it was before the destructive virus of contagious blood poison entered the circulation. S. S. S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and other blemishes, the hair stops coming out, the mouth and throat heal and when S. S. S. has cleansed the system of the poison no trace of the disease is left. S. S. S. cures contagious blood poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven in hundreds and hundreds of cases all over the country.

You will find S. S. S. for sale in all drug stores at $1.00 per bottle. Write to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for private medical advice and a very instructive book on all blood diseases, sent free, sealed in plain wrapper.

Do You Know the San Joaquin Valley?
Many of us think we do, but
Walter V. Woehlke Views It From a New Angle
Historically, Commercially, A.D., 1913, and from the standpoint of the Modern Income Home maker.
Sunset Magazine
MARCH ISSUE—The Pacific Monthly
The Magazine That Illustrates in California's Nature Colors

Somebody has called the valley of the San Joaquin river, which is the lower half of the Great Valley of California, "one of the ventricles of the heart of California." Mr. Woehlke has taken what the doctors would call a "blood count" and he reports a lot of very interesting data showing the growth and general good health of the subject. This article shows the comparative newness of the old San Joaquin; how the Wild West was actually in Fresno only twenty years ago, and how the grape routed the gunfighter. The tremendous prosperity of the settled districts is shown beside the tremendous area of untilled valley lands. The color pictures, ranging from the Merced rapids in Yosemite, as a source of the magic water in the irrigating ditches, to contented cattle in a green world of alfalfa, and including a bunch of laughing youngsters in a blossoming almond tree in February, are specially attractive.

GROWING THINGS, NEW LIGHT ON A WORLD'S FAIR and MOVING THE FACTORY BACK TO THE LAND, are also well written articles in the March issue. The last named treats of a Southern California accomplishment.

---Be careful where you buy low-priced player pianos

See OUR $485.00 Player

There is a constantly growing demand for player-pianos selling at about $500.

The dealers have met the demand, but how?

$500 is only the price of a good piano.

How good a player-piano you can get for $500 depends altogether upon the buying power of the dealer.

Once more the superb machinery of the big Wiley B. Allen Co.'s Coast organization comes to your aid and protection.

Our buyer controlling orders for all our stores from Canada to Mexico, naturally gets a price on a quantity basis that enables us to furnish a better article than a small dealer at the same retail figure.

$485.00 is a dangerous figure at which to buy so delicate a piece of mechanism as a player-piano of an ordinary dealer.

$485.00 here (until further notice) buys the wonderful instrument shown in our windows, unequaled for value anywhere, East or West.

(Pay like rent if you like. Fair allowance for your old piano.)

It has electric tracking device, silent high speed lever, single pneumatics, case no larger than normal piano, easy pumping, etc., etc.

Awful Atonement.

DESTROYS SIGHT IN HUMILIATION.

Check Kiter Plunges Knife Into Own Eyes.

Law Wouldn't Punish Sufficiently, He Asserts.

He Attributes Downfall to Panic Long Ago.

A. J. Heinn of Ocean Park, inventor of a loose leaf ledger system, arrested Thursday afternoon with A. M. Rockwell by Harris Agency operatives for the wholesale issuance of worthless checks, blinded himself by puncturing both eyeballs with a small pen knife about 2 o'clock yesterday morning in the City Jail.

Desiring to suffer self-inflicted punishment for his misdeeds besides that which he says he realizes will be meted out to him by law; too humiliated by his actions to again look on friends, victims and members of his family; not having the courage to gaze on the grim walls and barred windows of a penal institution, and declining to commit suicide because he says no man has the right to take a life given by God, are the reasons ascribed by Heinn yesterday for having destroyed his sight.

The knife he used had been carried by him in the small-change pocket on the inside of his coat. It was overlooked when he was searched at the Central Station.

Heinn's pitiable condition was discovered by a trusty, who immediately notified Jailer Shand. Heinn was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and later transferred to the County Hospital.

"Although I am suffering intense pain," said Heinn, while lying chained to a cot in the Receiving Hospital, his face swathed in bandages that hid from view the pierced upper eyelids and punctured eyeballs; "I'm the most contented man in the world. I am suffering from a well-deserved self-inflicted punishment. I would never have been content to merely suffer any punishment that might have been meted out to me by the law. It is just that I should suffer as I do. I want to die a natural death; that is one reason why I did not commit suicide. I do not believe in the taking of a life that God gave.

"Fate decreed that the detectives should overlook the small knife that I carried in my coat pocket. I found it while searching my pockets for cardamon seeds. Instantly the impulse to destroy my sight overwhelmed me.

"I opened the larger of the two blades and plunged it into my eyes. Then I groped my way back to my cot and lay down. Although suffering intense pain I uttered not a word; I was suffering what I thought was a just punishment.

"The surgeons have told me that I will never again write an indorsement. I'm thankful for that. I was too humiliated at my arrest and the thought of my escapades and misfortunes to ever want to look friends and victims in the face again. I could not withstand the awful sight of prison walls. I felt the law could not punish me as I should be punished, so I decided to punish myself, and when I found the knife, I decided that the fitting punishment for the life I have led was to deprive myself of my eyesight. And I did it."

Heinn was married about five years ago to Miss Helen Reynolds. They separated about three years ago, Mrs. Heinn securing a divorce. She declined yesterday, when informed of her former husband's condition, to visit him at the Receiving Hospital.

Heinn said the panic of 1893 is directly responsible for his condition. Until that year he was a prosperous Milwaukee business man. He was reaping a comfortable income from his loose-leaf ledger invention when the money stringency of the panic forced him to relinquish what stock he held in the Heinn Loose Leaf Manufacturing Company. Since then, he said, he gradually slid down the social and financial scale, the separation from his wife, two years ago, being the last tie that bound him to respectable environments.

Detective Harris learned from Rockwell yesterday that he was arrested here May 13, 1909, for having passed a number of fictitious checks in connection with Lieut. Walker of the navy, who, after the expose, resigned. Rockwell also admitted he is wanted in El Centro for having passed checks there in 1910.

Rockwell and Hein admitted that the latter uttered the majority of the checks for which they were arrested Thursday, and that the former passed most of them in resorts here, at Venice and Santa Monica.

Heinn is to be prosecuted on a forgery complaint, and Rockwell for having issued checks without funds in the bank.

HER "BOY" A WHOPPER.

But He's Good, and Mother Wants Him Back Home at Ft. Worth—Believed to Be Here.

Back in Ft. Worth, Tex., Mrs. A. C. Coker is pining for her lost "boy," who was in Los Angeles when last heard from. She appeals to the police here to locate him. All of which is simply a prelude to the old story of a mother's viewpoint of her offspring, whose description as given to the police by her follows:

"Six feet five inches tall; 20 years old; freckles on his nose; blue eyes, wavy brown hair; slender."

Mrs. Coker, who lives at No. 904 Josephine street, Ft. Worth, assures the police that her "boy" is a good child and hopes they will find him and send him back home.

"MOVIES" REUNITE SISTER AND LONG-LOST BROTHER.

After Fifteen Years Hiatus in Which Family Seeks Him and He Seeks Family in Vain, Miss Betty Sees Him on the Screen in London and Flies to Him Here.

A photoplay staged at Santa Monica reunited a brother and sister yesterday after a separation covering more than fifteen years.

P. C. Hartigan ran away from his home in London while a very young man. He enlisted in the Seventh Hussars and fought through the Boer War under Col. Moody. Later he went to India and served with his regiment for several years. Outgrowing the military life, and having a desire to see more of the world, the soldier took his discharge at the expiration of his second enlistment and came to this country.

Seven years ago he entered the ranks of the photoplayers, starting at the bottom of what was then believed to be a very precarious business. After attaining a high place in the picture world he accepted an offer from the Kalem concern and is now its general manager and director.

In the meantime the other members of the family had given up all hope of ever finding the modern prodigal son. All efforts on his part to locate his family were also fruitless.

A short time ago Miss Betty Hartigan, an only sister, went into a London picture palace, as they are called there, and thought she recognized the face of her brother on the screen. She went back again and was convinced that it was the long-lost brother. Attending the performance a third time she became absolutely certain.

The brand of the film was shown in the picture. This was a clew. Going to the London office of the company she told her story. A cable was sent to the New York office and the next day the London branch manager reported that there was such a man playing and directing for the company.

Miss Hartigan sailed on the next White Star liner and in New York was informed as to the location of her brother's company.

Without a word of warning she started for California the next day and arrived here yesterday. She went directly to the company's studios at Santa Monica and yesterday she and her brother were reunited.

Miss Hartigan intends to remain in Southern California for several months at least, and her brother is trying to persuade her to make her home here and remain near him.

"IN OUR WOODS AND MOUNTAIN MEADOWS" is the title of a delightful article written by Frederick R. Miner for this week's Times Illustrated Weekly.

SERVICES COMPLETED.

Third of a Century in United States Courts Is Enough for This Veteran Clerk.

Edward H. Owen, who has been connected with the United States courts in this city ever since their establishment in 1886, and his son, Virgil W. Owen, who has also been an attache of the office for a number of years, severed their connection with that office last night.

The elder Owen was clerk of the United States District Court from the date of his appointment, until January, 1912, when, under an act of Congress, the Circuit Court was abolished, and W. M. Van Dyke, who, up to that time, had been clerk of the Circuit Court, was made clerk of the District Court, and Owen was retained as deputy in charge of bankruptcy and criminal matters coming under the jurisdiction of the government.

The change is made on the ground of the more economical management and conduct of the local United States courts, the authorities at Washington insisting year after year on the expenditure of less money by those in charge of the courts for clerical or administrative work.

No appointment will be made to fill the vacancies at this time. Later on one of the clerks now in the office of Van Dyke will be promoted to the place, as it is intended to have one man hereafter do the work. An addition from the outside to the present force will be expected to begin as a stenographer, as Van Dyke intends to use service rules in such an appointment.

PAVILION, BLOCK OF STORES AND BATH-HOUSE.

Preparations Afoot to Take Advantage of Completion of Pacific Electric Line from Alamitos to Bay City—Local Capitalists Interested. Plans Are Extensive.

When the new line of the Pacific Electric from Alamitos to Bay City is completed this spring improvements at the latter place will have been made sufficient to insure ample use of the line. Among these improvements will be a pavilion, a block of stores and a bath-house to be built by the Bayside Land Company. Architect A. Burnside Sturges of this city has already completed the plans and their execution will be begun at once.

The first move will be the destruction or removal of the old pavilion. The structure which will take its place will be 80x135 feet, containing a bath-house with bathing pool, shower baths, and 275 dressing-rooms, on the beach floor, and, on the pier level, a dance pavilion, 60x80 feet, with a ceiling twenty-two feet in the clear.

On the west side of Main street and connected with the pavilion by a peristyle will be a building 58x128 feet, to be occupied by eight bowling alleys and large billiard and pool parlors. The former will be on the ground floor and the latter on a level with the pier.

Immediately back of these two buildings, on the corners of Main street and Ocean avenue, will be a band stand and a block of stores. The car line will run on Ocean avenue and Main street. The pier will be extended to intersect the level of Main street and on either side of it the road will be cut down to afford easy access to the beach.

The men backing this enterprise are almost all local capitalists. They include P. A. Stanton, president; I. A. Lothian, vice-president, and H. E. Huntington, Marco Hellman, George E. Pillsbury and George W. Van Alstyne, directors.

thieves boldly drove to another warehouse to store the loot and this proved to be one of a chain of establishments conducted by the concern from which the plunder was taken. Recognition of the goods and arrests followed.

In the meantime investigation had been started here through a statement made by Mrs. Wentworth to an agent for a wholesale grocery from which she usually purchased her stock. The agent found her shelves had been replenished, but not from a wholesaler. The Grocers' Association began working on the case.

Reports to city and county authorities of grocery robberies throughout this section had previously aroused officials and with the arrests at Ventura and with a statement said to have been made by Gardner, the case neared solution.

The police say the brazen methods of the thieves was the secret of their success. Driving boldly before busy wholesale establishments they are declared to have found no opposition in carting off barrels of sugar, boxes of butter, crates of canned goods and so on, the busy employees of the looted houses believing the operators workmen.

While the police contend most of the goods stolen have already been disposed of and in turn sold to consumers, some of the property in the hands of the authorities has been identified.

It is declared the thieves not only sold their plunder to small retailers and got rid of more through "fences" but that they employed peddlers, who worked from door to door selling to housewives on the strength of stories that they represented firms which had combined to "reduce the cost of living."

All of the prisoners except Alexander are said by the police to be ex-convicts.

SNOWBALL FIGHT.

Boys and Girls Engage in Race to Frozen Peak of Mt. Wilson and Revel in "The Beautiful."

Sylvia Snell, aged 12 years, proved herself a true daughter of the strenuous Southwest yesterday when she led eighty boys to the summit of Mt. Wilson on the annual "hike" of the Custer-avenue Intermediate school. There were three other girls with the party, but they were all older and larger than Sylvia.

Some 250 youngsters started the nine-mile tramp to the summit but most of them stopped at the Half-Way House, too tired to go farther. It was here that the majority of the teachers who accompanied the party dropped out. On arrival at the summit the eighty boys and four girls engaged in a snowball fight.

Pacific Electric cars carried the children to and from the foot of the mountain. This is the third year that Principal Reed of the Custer-avenue school has treated the children to a "hike" when the mountains are snow-covered.

Ocean Park Woman Sends Children Out Shopping and Then Enters the Eternal Sleep.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Harriet Taylor, who was found dead in a room at her home, No. 441 Raymond avenue, by her two children, Gladys and Palmer, last night, committed suicide by turning on the gas at an open jet in the kitchen and lying down close to the pipe. This was the decision of the Coroner after an autopsy today.

Mrs. Taylor's husband, Frank, was in Pasadena for the day, and Mrs. Taylor readily gave her children permission to go shopping after their studies at High School had been finished for the afternoon. Mrs. Taylor had become despondent because of ill-health.

EL SEGUNDO.

EL SEGUNDO, Feb. 28.—Building activity continues unabated at the new Standard Oil town. Mr. [illegible] of Los Angeles has decided to erect three bungalows in the [illegible] acreage section, each to be of [illegible] rooms and thoroughly modern in every respect. Mr. Evans, also of Los Angeles, will begin the erection of a four-room cottage on Arena street the first of next week. The fact that the Standard is enlarging its plant and rushing its asphalt plant to completion is encouraging the building of many homes in El Segundo.

An unusual scene was witnessed at the El Segundo harbor yesterday when four boats were anchored at the new wharf. Crude oil was brought in and also piling for the wharf and the vessels loaded with refined products for neighboring ports.

A photoplay theater has been opened here by Alfred Fielder, formerly of Anaheim. A record crowd witnessed the opening show. Mr. Fielder aims to show only the best of pictures and make the show one of the best in this section.

A social club was organized in El Segundo the latter part of this week by the business men and citizens. About thirty charter members were secured at this meeting and it is the hopes of the committee that they will be able to secure a membership of sixty. The club will have reading and smoking-rooms, pool and billiard tables, gymnasium-room and various other features to provide for the entertainment and recreation of its members.

Director of Bible Conference Goes East on Monday.

A Preacher's Travels in the Holy Land.

Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army forces in the United States, fourth daughter of the late Gen. William Booth, will arrive in the city today and will deliver a lecture at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Mason Operahouse. Her subject will be the life of her father, and will be illustrated with 2000 feet of moving-picture films and 100 stereopticon views.

Miss Booth began her career as a mere child in London, when her father placed her in charge of a corps, and she rose in the ranks, filling every position from sergeant up. She was nine years commander in Canada before being promoted to commander of the United States. She is an accomplished orator and draws crowds that no house will hold wherever she appears.

During her visit here she will address meetings of the army and will lecture in surrounding towns, going to Long Beach on Tuesday and Riverside on Wednesday and north to San Francisco on Thursday.

CONFERENCE CLOSES. DIRECTOR TUCKER GOES EAST.

The Bible conference which has been in progress in Calvary Baptist Church during the past week, will close with tomorrow. The attendance has been large and the missionary offerings received will reach into the thousands of dollars. Dr. R. A. Torrey will deliver the final address on Sunday night and will conduct a revival service. Among the speakers of the week have been Rev. J. A. Cramer, Rev. J. H. Troy, Rev. John Habbick, Rev. W. Leon Tucker, director of the conference, will speak on Sunday morning. Mr. Tucker, who is pastor of Calvary Church, will leave for the East on Monday and will spend a month in Bible teaching. He will fill prominent pulpits in Brooklyn, New York City, attend Bible conferences and will also visit Chicago and Denver. During his absence his pulpit will be supplied by Rev. Britton Ross, Rev. John H. Troy and Rev. R. A. Hadden.

STORIES OF TRAVELS. ADVENTURES OF A PREACHER.

"The Land of the Pharoahs," will be the general topic of a series of lecture-sermons which Dr. C. M. Carter will begin in the First Baptist Church tomorrow evening. His subject will be "Over the Seas to Egypt," and will give not only the personal adventures of an experienced traveler but will contain much practical information of travel, with descriptions of life on shipboard, passing the Azores, Gibraltar, ancient Algiers, and landing at other foreign ports. History, scenery and biblical information will be presented. The last of the series will be delivered April 20, interrupted by a visit from Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago and president of the Federation of the Churches of Christ in America, who will deliver an address on Sunday evening, March 23.

God's Covenant With Abraham.

Lesson: Genesis xv; xvii. 1-8. Golden Text—Hebrews x, 23.

"He is faithful that promised."

(1) After these things the word of the Lord came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward. (2) And Abram said, O Lord God, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and he that shall be possessor of my house is Dammesek Eliezer? (3) And Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and lo, one born in my house is mine heir. (4) And, behold, the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, This man shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir. (5) And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to tell them; and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be. (6) And he believed in the Lord; and he counted it to him for righteousness. (7) And he said unto him, I am the Lord that brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, to give thee this land to inherit it. (8) And he said, O Lord God, wereby shall I know that I shall inherit it? (9) And he said unto him, Take me an heifer of three years old, and a she-goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon. (10) And he took him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each half over against the other; but the birds divided he not. (11) And the birds of prey came down upon the carcasses, and Abram drove them away. (12) And when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and, lo, an horror of great darkness fell upon him. (13) And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in the land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years; (14) and also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance. (15) But thou shalt go to they fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good old age. (16) And in the fourth generation they shall come hither again. for the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet full. (17) And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a flaming torch that passed between these pieces. (18) In that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto they seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates; (19) the Kenite, and the Kenizzite, and the Kadmonite, (20) and the Hittie, and the the Kadmonite, (20) and the Hittite, and the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Girgashite, and the Jebusite.

(1) And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am God Almighty; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (2) And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly. (3) And Abram fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying, (4) As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be the father of a multitude of nations. (5) Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for the father of a multitude of nations have I made thee. (6) And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. (7) And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee throughout their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to they seed after thee. (8) And I will give unto thee, the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God.

THE STORY.

The two paragraphs constituting our lessons give the account of two stages in the history of the covenant, which Jehovah made with Abraham. In order to understand them it is necessary that they should be set in relation to the history, and also in relation to a third stage which is not included in this scheme of lessons.

In our last lesson was considered the story of the separation between Abram and Lot. Then Lot pitched his tent in the neighborhood of Sodom. It is evident that before long he moved into this city, took up his abode there, and became closely identified with its life. In consequence he was involved in difficulty, and Abram acted as his deliverer. In connection with this campaign, as he returned, victorious from the slaughter of the kings, he was met by Melchizedek, who ministered to his need and received from him tithes.

It was in connection with this event that the first stage of the covenant was reached. The word of Jehovah came to him, and it was exactly fitted to the need of the hour. While he had been victorious, it was at least probable that his action would stir up enmity against him. Moreover, he had gained nothing materially by the campaign, having declined to receive any gift from the King of Sodom. Whereas it is not recorded that there was any sense of fear in his heart, it is quite conceivable that there was, as reaction constantly follows strenuous action. The word of Jehovah to him therefore was, "Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward." It was a word full of comfort and of strength, speaking to him of his safety, and of the fact that his riches in God were far more than compensation for all material loss.

With splendid honesty of soul Abram made this declaration the occasion of an appeal, based upon the promise of God. No seed had been given to him, and it appeared as though his steward Eliezer would succeed not merely to any wealth that he possessed, but to those purposes of God which had become the supreme passion of the heart of His servant. In answer to that appeal Jehovah definitely promised him both a seed and the land, and gave him in the night a prophetic vision of the future history of his people. In that connection the first stage of the covenant was entered into, being one in which Jehovah definitely covenanted with him to give the land to his seed.

Then follows another story, that of a suggestion on the part of Sarai, acted upon by Abram, and issuing on the birth of Ishmael. This again was a deflection from the straight pathway of faith. It was immediately followed by the second stage of the covenant in which Jehovah appeared to him, and called him again to walk before Him, and to be perfect. Abram at once assumed the attitude of worship and submission, and the covenant was now expressed so as to include the definite promise that he should be the father of a multitude of nations. In this connection his name was changed and the land was again promised to him and to his seed.

This was followed by the institution of circumcision as the sign of relationship.

In this connection we should remember that there was a third stage in the covenant arrangement, that of ratification in the hour when Jehovah communed with His servant concerning Sodom.

THE TEACHING.

In these accounts of the establishment of the covenant we have valuable illustrations of the way of God with His own. He is seen as Jehovah indeed, becoming to the man who believed in Him exactly what he needed at each crisis of his life. After conflict undertaken by faith, and renunciation of material possession, made upon the same principle, the word of Jehovah declared that He was both shield and reward to those who fight and suffer for Him. After his deflection from the pathway of faith Jehovah appeared to him, calling him back to first principles, and encouraging him to walk therein by yet clearer statement of His covenant purposes.

It is well carefully to consider the covenant as to its terms, and its quantities. In the first stage there was divine affirmation, immediately answered by human belief. In this connection the statement was made that his faith was counted to Abraham for righteousness, which does not mean in any sense that it was reckoned as a substitute for righteousness, but that it was recognized as the inspiration of righteousness. It is by such faith that men live as they ought to live.

Moreover, to a man living by faith, that is believing the word of God, and acting upon it, it was possible for God to reveal His secret, and to give him further assurance by unveiling to him figuratively, in a vision, and definitely by statement, the things through which the nation that would spring from his loins should pass during succeeding generations.

In the second stage a divine affirmation and demand were closely linked; the affirmation in the words, "I am God Almighty," and the demand in the words, "Walk before Me, and be thou perfect." It should be noticed that this was a new title. Its real significance is not that of our ordinary translation, "God Almighty," the emphasis being not upon His strength, but upon His beneficence and sufficiency. Indeed, perhaps the most literal translation would be "God all-sufficient." There was the suggestion in it of the needlessness of any such attempts to help God as Abraham had been guilty of in the matter of Ishmael. It was upon the basis of that unveiling that the demand was made anew. "Walk before Me, and be thou perfect."

The fact that God made a covenant is in itself a most suggestive one. It was, and ever is, His method of inspiring confidence.

THE GOLDEN TEXT.

The golden text chosen from the letter of the Hebrews, that "He is faithful that promised," needs little comment. We know how true it was in the case of Abraham. It is well that we remind ourselves that Abraham had to act on that fact, by faith. So also must we in all our actual experiences. Indeed, like Abraham, we may leave the world with the promises of God unfulfilled, but we may do so in assurance that they will be fulfilled.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

WORKING OUT ONE'S DREAMS.

Terse Comments Upon the Uniform Prayer Meeting Topic of the Young People's Societies, Christian Endeavor, etc., for March 2. "The Ideal Christian, III.. His Practical Service." Matt V: 13-16.

The most practical thing in the world is a great ideal. Nations are not made by machinery, or by so-called "practical" men, but by dreamers of dreams. The important fact about a community is whether or not it is planting noble ambitions in the minds of its young people. Are they thinking the high thoughts of chivalry, out of which spring the later deeds of human service? Before we talk about rivers, let us consider springs. Cause must be studied before effect. Ideals beget deeds. The reason we, of this western continent have astonished the old world by our practical achievements is that we are essentially dreamers and idealists; and children of dreamers and idealists. We have greatly dared and greatly done because our vision, the vision of our fathers, was magnificent. Out of the thoughts of fearless, Godly hearts has come the empire of the West.

This is the day of methods. We have books and committees and organizations upon how to do things until we are almost method mad. Amid our feverish haste, and the whirr of much machinery, we hear the old, old word: "Where there is no vision the people perish." Aspiration alone animates the activity that avails.

"Get busy" and "do it now" are the two popular mottoes that we see in shops and offices. There is one that precedes these. It is: "Get right." Proper relationship with the springs of service should precede forms of service And the conviction seems to be growing among men of our time that the real need of Christianity is not more work or more money, but more of the sense of utter dependence upon God, and more of personal communion with Him. Sometimes the most practical service is to go apart awhile and listen.

All service ranks the same with God;
There is no last nor first.
—[ROBERT BROWNING.

Given a master motive, and a man simply must serve. He cannot help himself, any more than the spring can help flowing or the light keep from shining, or the sweet flower keep from radiating perfume. The ideal Christian cannot keep from doing the Lord's work. He may know nothing about modern methods, but the love for the Master will naturally overflow from his life in ministry. He will help people because it is his new nature so to do. If he stops to analyze himself at all, he will say with the Apostle Paul, "The love of Christ constraineth me."

Your sincere Christian is never troubled by the laws against gambling, drunkenness or theft. Why not? They bother others; why is he exempt? Simple because he lives a higher law, which removes from him the very temptation to these lower offenses. The point is further amplified in a quotation from Hugh Evandar Willis:

"The common law of the United States and England tells men what not to do; the uncommon law of the kingdom of heaven tells men what to do. Follow the principles of this uncommon law for the coming year, and not only will you not violate any of the principles of the common law, but you will enjoy a happiness that can never come to those who live only under the laws of earthly kingdoms and governments."

Anybody who is sighing for an opportunity for service in these days is—let it be said as gently as possible—simply a dunce. It is not opportunities he needs, but eyes. The occasions for being helpful, in the name of Jesus, are at everybody's door, and they range all the way from caring for a tired neighbor's baby to writing an epic poem. This is the day of opportunity for even the least of us to do large service. The difficulty is that some of us are hoarding our pennies, or talents, until they shall become a big bank account, instead of putting them into immediate circulation. If the breath that is wasted in sighing for careers were spent in propelling little sail boats, there would be an immense cargo of service carried to the needy world's marts.

The colloquial name of Christian Endeavor is "The Endeavor Society." This organization has accented practical doing. And in this school of real service multitudes of young people have learned the mind of the Master.

DEFINED.

The State Supreme Court has decided that the Board of Pharmacy may not prohibit grocers from selling rat poison. This is certainly rough on rats.

AN EASY CROP.

Frost has done some damage to the apricots around Sacramento. Orchardists from Imperial to Salinas defy the frost king when it comes to this crop.

NO SURPRISE.

Women members of a Congregational church at Redondo conducted a religious service without masculine aid. We very much doubt whether the Lord noticed any difference in the congregation or its devotion.

AN ANALOGY.

A woman at Long Beach attempted to light a furnace in which gas had accumulated and a bad explosion resulted. What would happen if somebody struck a match in either the hall of the Assembly or the Senate at Sacramento?

REPREHENSIBLE CONDUCT.

Fifteen members of the Portland Produce Exchange were fined more than $8000 after they had pleaded guilty to a violation of the anti-trust law. We do not know whether they restrained the hens from laying in winter or the cows from giving buttermilk and ice cream in summer.

COTTON.

A ranchman from Imperial Valley who is extensively interested in cotton growing in his locality predicts that the next generation will develop an annual business in the fabric of $75,000,000. Two considerations are strongly in favor of this prophecy. One is that twenty-five years will bring a rich unfolding of possibilities in every direction in California. The other is that the development of the Panama Canal and of our trade with the orient will justify Los Angeles in the wide manufacture of cotton goods. In this latter industry San Diego will certainly vie with this city.

THE REASON.

Twice within the last month local newspapers have printed reports of family strife over the property of wealthy women. In one case the woman was very old and feeble. In the other she had gone down to the grave. Los Angeles people are not more greedy than those of other communities, but it happens that a larger number of retired persons locate here than perhaps in any other city in the world. Often they have already reached an advanced age when they come to Los Angeles and it is only natural that more contests of wills should be filed in the local Probate Court than might be the case elsewhere.

THE IMPORTANT POINT.

Members of one of a local woman's clubs heard Dr. Van Dyke discuss "Art for Art's Sake" and it pleases us that the scientist, author and sportsman accepts the message of art as significant and recognizes that the artist who follows moral laws is the one most likely to develop his art to a high plane. We have never believed that art should attempt to sermonize nor that it should be consciously directed to moral purposes, but we do believe that all true art will express only what is fine and good, and that the noblest art, quite without any design on the part of its creator, will be obedient to the strictest principles of truth.

WALL STREET AND MEXICO.

According to a steamed Progressive contemporary the present conditions in Mexico are due to a combination between Wall street and Huerta and Diaz, whom the steamed one calls "Mexican Assassins." "Wall street" puts $30,000,000 in money into the pool, and Huerta and Diaz invest their conciliatory methods of standing bandits up against the wall and shooting them without a trial.

The steamed contemporary asserts that "even while Huerta was shelling Diaz in mock warfare" (it was a "mock" warfare that littered the streets of Mexico with 2000 dead) both of them "were probably in communication with their Wall street confederates."

The steamed one keenly regrets the advent of peaceful conditions in Mexico, which now seem possible since Orosco has given his allegiance to the Huerta government. It is inspired with an ardent desire to have anarchy and bloodshed and a rule of bandits continue in Mexico, because a continuance of such rule may bring financial loss to business rivals who own Mexican properties—which they bought with honestly-earned money and did not steal from orange growers.

"The butchers now in the Mexican palace"—as our steamed contemporary discourteously designates Huerta and Diaz—have thus far in a few days done more to discourage brigandage, and protect American citizens, and do away with the necessity of intervention than was accomplished by the Madero dynasty during its entire reign.

The killing of Francesco Madero, whether it was a crime or a blunder, was deplorable. Yet if his deposition shall result in the restoration of peace and order in our distracted sister republic no Americans will regret the change of administration.

THE BLUE-SKY LAW.

The "blue-sky law" ought to be rechristened the "murky-sky law," for the effect of its passage and enforcement would be to cloud and enwrap in mists and darkness the business, the finances and the industrial future of California and inflict a wound upon the Pacific-Panama Exposition that no successes it might achieve in other directions would heal. It is the craziest project of legislation that ever emanated from the tangle-brained statesman, Lee C. Gates, whom the people of Los Angeles, in a momentary lapse from sanity, elected to the State Senate.

Senator Gates would have illustrated the remnants of sense which may still lurk in the recesses of what he is pleased to call his "mind," if, before he had hurried to copy this Kansas legislative atrocity, this spawn of Rooseveltism, into a California Legislature, he had given some attention to the practical operation of the law in Kansas.

The inherent and incurable viciousness of the proposed law is that it makes a political commission the judges of the solvency, the charter, the plan of business, the bylaws, the prospects of profit, the contracts and the honest intentions of corporations, domestic or foreign, now doing or hereafter attempting to do business in the State of California, except State and national banks, trust companies, public utilities, real estate mortgage companies and building associations. These favored corporations may, if so inclined, gouge the public to the satisfaction of their managers and the aforesaid commission must not interfere with them. But all other corporations must be approved by the commission, and if they fail to secure such approval, and attempt to do business without it, their agents shall be subject for each offense to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5000 or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person who shall subscribe to any false statement or make verbally any false statement of the financial conditions of an investment company or of the bonds or stocks offered by it for sale may be fined from $200 to $10,000 and imprisoned for from one to ten years in the State penitentiary. If this were the only feature of the proposed law it might not be subject to criticism, but it is the one grain of wheat in a bushel of chaff.

The agent of a mining company who in his enthusiasm overstates the quantity and value of the ore in sight; the agent of a land company who overestimates the productive capacity of the land or the real value of the town lots offered for sale; the agent of a department store corporation who overstates its probabilities of profit; the agent of a woolen or cotton or beet-sugar factory or an iron foundry who deceives the Blue Sky Commission by false or inadvertent statements may be fined into insolvency and be afforded an opportunity to enjoy the leisure afforded by a prison life.

Exactly where Gates's commission obtained the Baconian universality of information, the knowledge of mining and smelting ores, of making hammers and saws and iron fronts for buildings, of burning brick, of quarrying stone, of sawing and dressing lumber, of spinning cotton, of weaving wool, of granulating sugar, of making soap, of conducting citrus and olive orchards, of manipulating dairies, of fashioning autos and taxicabs and conducting department stores will not appear satisfactorily to a citizen of average mentality.

But it does appear that for the performance of these multifarious functions the Blue Sky Commissioners and their employees shall be entitled to collect from the investment companies they may from time to time at their pleasure examine, $10 for each day or fraction of a day they may be absent from the commissioners' established place of business, and actual traveling expenses not to exceed 5 cents per mile.

The inquisitorial power and opportunities for graft and blackmail that the blue-sky law would place in the hands of Holy Hiram's Commissioners and their employees are incalculable. No man or body of men that ever lived are fit to be trusted with such powers or ought to be subjected to such gigantic temptations to misuse them.

The Gates bill creates dictators of industry with full power to crush any business concerns they may dislike or which may refuse to submit to blackmail. It is fraught with the gravest menace to the industries of California.

In two years of the operation of a blue-sky law in Kansas 1800 investment companies have been driven from the State, while the banks have increased their deposits from $[illegible] to about $[illegible].

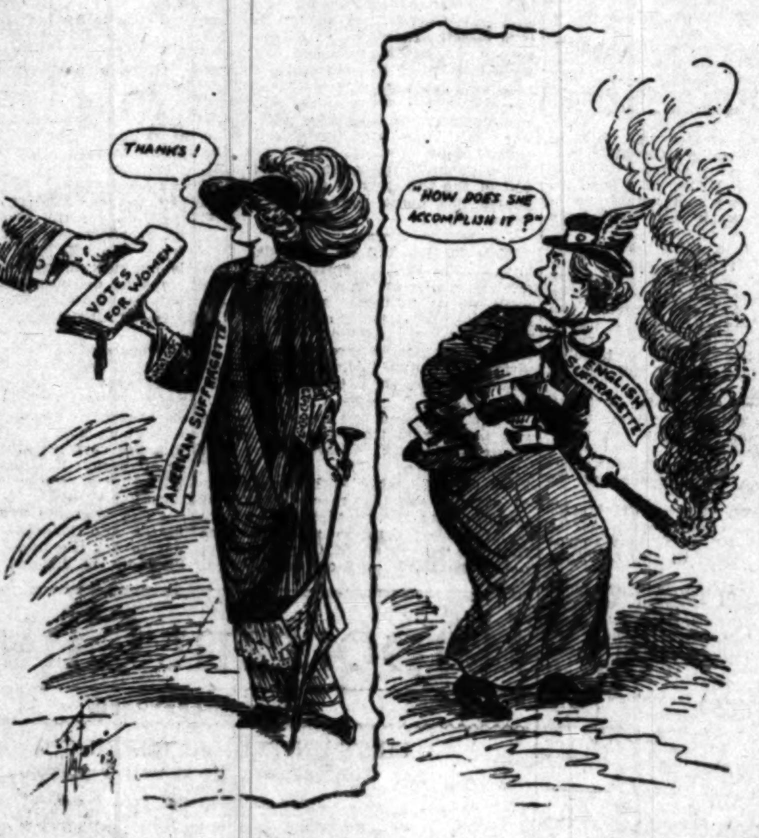
The menace to the people at large from such a congestion of funds in the banks is in the fact that general business and all property values have been injured by the withdrawal of money from circulation. Every man who owns his home or his farm is affected; every man who is working for wages or on salary is threatened by the danger of industrial paralysis that has always followed overfilled bank vaults.

In this connection the shortsighted policy of the banks in Kansas is emphasized. While they are credited with financing the campaign which resulted in the passage of the law, and while the law has fulfilled their expectations in driving their competitors, the investment companies, out of business, it is now proved that the banks suffer in the general stagnation of property values in that State. Even if it were a wholesome thing for the banks to have a monopoly of the investment business, it is shown that the banks eventually lose in the depreciation of their security for mortgage loans.

This is taking no account of the fact that investors were receiving larger returns on their money from legitimate investment companies. That is no small factor in the situation for the smaller investors. The widow with a bare subsistence from an investment paying 6 per cent. feels keenly a restriction to bank deposits paying 4. Moreover, where her entire reserve is deposited in the bank she is without security for her living in case of the bank's suspension, whereas first-class stocks would give a lien on the property of the company issuing them.

It is difficult to write temperately and courteously of those legislators who favor the proposed law. It is a foolish and an infamous measure. Its enactment would be a far-reaching calamity.

All in Knowing How.



TURKEY IN PALESTINE.

For the sake of the modern world it is unfortunate that the Crusaders who attempted to rescue the Holy Land from the clutches of the infidel in the eleventh century had not the military skill of the modern Balkan armies, or that the religious fervor of modern Christians is not as strong as the zeal of the olden Crusaders. What Richard Coeur de Lion and his knights lacked in their knowledge of warfare they made up in the fervor of their religious enthusiasm. What the modern Christians, beating back the Turks, lack in the Crusaders' zeal and spirit they make up in their military superiority and equipments.

As through their fighting power of old the Moslems kept their hold on Christianity's most sacred relics, so through the lack of sufficient religious sentiment among Christian nations today the Turks are likely to retain their possession of Palestine, although any Christian army could dislodge them from the land they ought never to have been allowed to capture.

This, however, being everybody's business, probably if the sign of the cross is ever restored in Palestine, it will be for commercial and not for sentimental reasons.

That the occupation of the Holy Land by some liberal progressive nation might shed valuable new light on the truths of the Bible and the ancient history of the great Jewish people the recent explorations of Julian Grande give ample proof. Under Moslem rule all the sacred fanes of Judaism and Christianity have been converted into mosques or Mohammedan temples from which Christians are jealously excluded. At great personal risk Mr. Grande managed to gain an entry into the tomb of Aaron on Mount Hor and discovered, hidden behind Moslem ornamentation, original Hebrew inscriptions. These interpreted by modern scholars should form a valuable addition to the books of the Old Testament.

Scattered throughout Palestine are many such ancient records, at present dark to the Christian world, on account of the narrow fanaticism of the Moslem rulers. It is hardly to be expected that any nation will take up arms against Turkey to satisfy the archeologists, but where the vital truths of our religion are concerned we, as Christians, ought to show as much interest in the release of the Holy Land as in driving the Turk out of the European continent. At the conclusion of the Balkan war, if the powers demand that every temple and sacred building in Palestine be thrown wide open to the whole world, Turkey would have to submit to the ultimatum. Short of taking actual possession of the Holy Land in the joint interest of the Christian and the Jew, the de-Moslemizing of our most hallowed religious relics ought to be made a sine qua non for the continuance of the Ottoman Empire.

THAT UNKISSED MATRON.

The Associated Press informs us with careful attention to detail that Mrs. Deems of Baltimore is 22 years old and comely, the mother of a boy large enough to run about and take care of himself, and therefore married some years. Then it quotes the matron to the effect that she has never been kissed. Her parents disapproved of osculation, and like the Rechabites of the Bible she has not forgotten their teaching.

When men and women of mature years and experienced in the ways of married people read this statement their eyes naturally opened very wide, with the first impulse to exclaim, "Poor, foolish being! She knows not what she is losing." Others no doubt said, "Tell it not to the marines, but go to the nursery where babies are found in swaddling clothes for ears to credit such a story as that."

Then as one had time to think the reflection arose, "What about Mr. Deems?" and a sigh came up for him from more profound depths of the heart that he should miss so much of the luxuries of married life and be practically reduced to the lot of the old bachelor. Lots of us asked, "How many kinds of a fool must the man be?"

And then came Mr. Deems, whose initials are G. W., and presumably called after the man with the hatchet who could not tell a lie, and says the statement of his spouse is poppycock, to put the matter mildly. "Why," said Mr. Deems, "she has been kissed a thousand times." And considering the number of years they must have been married, the thoughtful person will exclaim, "That is a very conservative estimate, and well within the bounds of credibility." Indeed, some married men to whom might be applied the epithet amorous or uxorious, would have put the osculatory performance at a million.

Well, let the case rest where Mr. Deems has placed it. He is probably telling the truth, and let us reflect upon what the poet says of kissing, where he speaks of one kiss as long as fifty, and fifty in the time of one, and then in order to purify the conjugal atmosphere, let us read the lyric, "Drink to me only with thine eyes." Then let us think of some night at the opera when Madame Adelina Patti held the boards and as an encore sang, "Il Baccio," while Signor Arditi played the violin accompaniment to the perfect notes of the diva, he having composed the music to the song and knowing just how delicately to touch the strings as the words rolled from the singer's lips like kisses when she pronounced, "Sul la labra, sul la labra, sul la labra."

When one has gone through this meditation and others touching upon his own experience, he will probably catalogue Mrs. Deems as entirely qualified for a place in the Ananias Club.

LOVE OF EXCITEMENT.

The fallacy of attempting to make the human race behave itself by means of sumptuary legislation is well illustrated by the increase in the drink and tobacco bill of the American people during the last twelve months. The consumption of whisky shows an increase of 5,000,000 gallons—out of all proportion to the increase in population. About 12,000,000 pounds more of manufactured tobacco was sold than in the previous year, while the increase in the consumption of beer, after a temporary falling off, amounts to nearly 2,000,000 barrels. The internal revenue for the fiscal year 1912 from alcoholic beverages and tobacco is $12,500,000 greater than for any similar previous period.

Of course our four years of unprecedented prosperity under the Taft Republican regime increased the sale of all luxuries; but should prosperity thus express itself? These figures supply food for thought. What does it mean? That prosperity is spoiling us? That the nation as a whole is relapsing into a dangerous condition of self-indulgence? We hardly think so. Actual drunkenness has diminished, the number of saloons has been reduced, many new dry districts have been formed. Yet prohibition has not decreased the actual consumption of alcohol.

There is in human nature a spirit of obstinacy that refuses to be driven, but is quite amenable to being led. Temperance in everything—in drinking, eating, speech, action, legislation, work and play is the greatest need of the American people today, for as a nation we like to run to extremes. This trait, while it breeds ambition and spurs us on to accomplish the seemingly impossible, while it is at the root of many of our successes, is also evidenced in the receipts from boxing contests, aeroplane death-dips, in freak legislation and the increase in the sale of beer, whisky and tobacco. It is all a desire for excitement.

Emerson understood this unsatisfied something in every heart which sometimes seeks a lofty and sometimes a base expression. "To this end," he says, "men prize conversation, music, pictures, sculpture, dancing, theaters, traveling, war, mobs, fires, gaming, politics, or love, or science, or animal intoxication, which are several coarser or finer mechanical substitutes for the true nectar which is the ravishment of the intellect by coming nearer to the fact."

So, to get at the pith of the matter, it is temperance in our love of excitement that should be taught in the home and the school and impressed on the coming generation. Scientific temperance applies to something more than drinking and smoking. For as long as we encourage a love of excitement in every other field of work and play, sport and achievement, we shall never make much headway in our fight against alcohol and tobacco. The very preachers in many cases display the same spirit that in weaker natures takes the form of alcoholic indulgence. Spiritual and spirituous excitements are both opposed to temperance. Moreover the love of excitement, though it must be curbed and directed, must never, for the advance of the race, be prohibited altogether.

OUR NEWEST EXPORTS.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

Eleven thousand miles of motion-picture film, $30,000,000 worth of automobiles, $1,000,000 worth of telephones, and more than $100,000 worth of aeroplanes were among the exports from the United States in the year just ended reports the statistical division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

The United States is the world's largest producer of motion-picture films, and the quantity exported during 1912 aggregated 60,000,000 feet, almost 11,000 miles, or enough to stretch from New York to Manila.

The popularity over the world of the American automobile is evidenced by the fact that the year's exports of automobiles and parts thereof, including tires, approximated in value $30,000,000 in 1912, against $22,000,000 in 1911; $15,000,000 in 1910, and $9,000,000 in 1909. In spite of these large increases in the total value of automobiles exported, it is a fact that the export price at the present time is but little more than half what it was in 1907.

Most of the automobiles we export go to British territory, as, for instance (eleven months ended November:)

To.	Number
Canada	6864
United Kingdom	4371
British Oceania	3112
Sent to British territory	14,347
Total number exported	21,707

Only since the middle of 1911 have telephones been separately stated in our export schedules, but sufficient data is at hand to show that 1912 gave us more than a million dollars value in telephones exported. Similarly as to dates of record the year's export of aeroplanes had a value of $125,000, at an average price of $3400 per machine. Over three-fourths of the motion-picture film exported went to Great Britain. The items named herein are our newest classes of exports.

TOOPIOUS SOLILOQUIZES—IN QUOTATIONS.

I am a despicable Demagogue that frets
The angry multitude. I am but as
The froth upon the mountain wave—the bird
That shrieks upon the sullen tempest's wing.
—[Sir A. Hunt.

Not even for an hour can I bear to be alone, nor can I advantageously apply my leisure time. I vainly seek to banish Remorse, now by wine and now by sleep, but the gloomy companion presses on me and pursues me.—[Horace.

Conscience makes a coward of me. When I steal it accuses me. When I swear and lie it tries to check me.—[Shakespeare.

I am fitter for a corner than for a "full light."—[Seneca.

Me miserable! Which way shall I fly,
Infinite wrath and infinite Despair?
Which way I fly is Hell; myself am Hell.
And in the lowest deep of lower deep
Still threat'ning to devour me opens wide
To which the Hell I suffer seems a Heaven.
—[Milton.

Be it what it may, or bliss, or torment,
Annihilation, dark and endless rest,
Or some dread thing, man's wildest range of thought
Hath never yet conceived that change I'll dare
Which makes me anything but what I am.
—[Joanna Baillie.

I am despicable and so fear being despised.—[La Rochefoucauld.

I am a tainted wether of the flock,
Meetest for Death; the weakest kind of fruit
Drops earliest to the ground, and so let me.
—[Shakespeare.

Think'st thou there are no Serpents in the world
But those who slide along the grassy sod
And sting the luckless foot that presses them?
I am one who, in the path of social life,
Do bask my spotted skin in Fortune's sun
And sting.
—[Joanna Baillie.

I sigh, and with a piece of Scripture
Tell them that God bids us do good for evil,
And thus I clothe my naked villainy
With old odd ends, stolen forth of Holy Writ;
And seem a Saint, when most I play the Devil.
—[Shakespeare.

I submit to greater mortifications to go to hell than the sincerest Christian to go to heaven.—[Colton.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

When you took a blushing bride to the altar, at your side it was time to quit the fighting, and such exercise as that; in your quiet inglenook you should sit down with a book, and a pipe and pair of slippers, like the other fellows, Bat! Like a married man behave, looking reverend and grave, raising whiskers and potatoes in the yard behind your flat; talk of hats and gloves and things and forget the glaring rings where you won and lost your laurels, ere you were a bridegroom, Bat! It is saddening to watch you in public make a botch of the pastime pugilistic, for you cannot whip a cat; you would better far retire to your rocking chair and fire, and your spectacles and slippers and your cushioned footstool, Bat! When a man has won a wife he should quit the sporting life if he has a bunch of money—you've enough to fill a hat; he should go to feeding hens, or the piggies in their pens, he should lead a life domestic, far from all the limelight, Bat! If you could put up a scrap there would be excuse, mayhap, but the foeman always soaks you in the larynx.

WALT MASON.

Agreed With the Speaker.

[Philadelphia Telegraph:] That we sometimes get help from an unexpected quarter was demonstrated a few days ago by a story told by Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire.

During the last campaign, the Senator said, a Prohibition orator was bitterly denouncing the evils of intemperance, and at one stage of his address said that he wished that he could see every bottle of whisky and every keg of beer in the world sunk to the bottom of the river.

"I'm wid yez, professor!" interrupted a voice in the audience. "Thim is my sintimints to a tay!"

The speaker was not a little surprised at this rather unexpected indorsement, and at the conclusion of his address he hurried to the side of the man who had spoken.

"I want to thank you for your kind words," he glowingly remarked. "It was certainly brave of you to rise and say what you did. Of course you are a teetotaler."

"Not a bit av it," was the prompt reply of Mike. "I'm a driver."

Forward, March!

Good morning! Who is President of Mexico today?

Some men are such tightwads that they want to charge for pressing their own suit.

President Taft is like a schoolboy; he can hardly wait until the session is dismissed.

The question before the house is, Who is putting the "I" in Col. Roosevelt's autobiography?

Our idea of nothing would be an appointment by President Taft that required the confirmation by the Senate.

If Enver Bey is still in the possession of his faculties will he kindly rap three times on the inside of the cabinet?

It is now proposed to introduce pink hogs in the Imperial Valley. But they will not be visible in "dry" territory.

The housewives and maidens are counting the hours until the Fashion Show next week. Father will come in for consideration later.

Thirty-six million ladybugs will be used in California this season to save the melon crops. We'll take the count without verifying it.

Grim-visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front along the Texas boundary line and the Colquitt troopers have fallen back. It is well.

Things are settling down in Mexico. That distinguished patriot and philanthropist, Gen. Pascual Orozco, Jr., has come in out of the wet.

When the Californians strike Washington next week they will all be looking for the "Keep off the Alfalfa" signs in the national capital.

"What is the size of heaven," asks an exchange. Well, the population in 1910 was 319,000 in round numbers; you can figure it out yourself.

The position of floor leader in the new Congress will be given to Congressman Palmer of Pennsylvania, but he is likely to hit the ceiling.

The death of Mrs. Marcelina Leon in this city at the age of 165 years, after a courtship of fifty years, indicates that hasty marriages are not the best, after all.

The busiest man in the new Cabinet will be the Secretary of Labor, an office that has just been created by act of Congress. It will be his duty to act as arbitrator between capital and labor. It is a two-edged sword.

The Senate and House are quarreling over whether appropriations shall be made for one or two new battleships. The country is strongly in favor of a high-class, modern navy and will not grudge the money spent to maintain one.

HOME RULE.

O Paddy, dear, and did you hear the news
that's going round?
The shamrock's got to have a spot to grow on Irish ground!

Too long in the dark have you lain,
O mother in green and in white;
The centuries' penance of pain
Has made a perpetual night,
But now, as you shatter your chain,
O mother, the light!

And soon St. Patrick's day we'll keep; its colors will be seen,
For Irish law will find no flaw in wearing of the green.

Your eyes were the windows of stars
Till curtains of terror were drawn;
They wept at the Sassenach scars
Red-angry on Shemus and Shaun.
But now, as you pluck at your bars,
O mother, the dawn!

I met with Napper Tandy's ghost; it took me by the hand.
I said, "How is old Ireland now?" "My boy, she's feeling grand!"

Aye! mother and sweatheart and queen,
The foolish believed you would die;
But from your lost garden of green
Came breath that no jailer could buy
And lo! in your eyes shall be seen,
O mother, the sky!

The ancient color soon will flaunt upon the old caubeen,
And, glory be; old ghosts will see the wearing of the green!

DAMAGES GOODS FOR DAMAGES?

Freight Graft Is Charged by Federal Officer.

Broker Arrested for Alleged Shady Practice.

Investigation Is Begun by Grand Jury.

Fred E. Harris of the Harris-Hillebrand Company, brokers at Nos. 148-156 South Central avenue, was arrested yesterday on a complaint drawn by Assistant United States District Attorney Archbald, on information furnished by Alfred G. Haggerty of San Francisco, an examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Harris is charged with having presented false claims against a common carrier for damages, with a view to securing trasportation of freight at less than the established rates.

Harris gave a surety bond for $1000, and the preliminary examination was set by United States Commissioner Van Dyke for the 14th inst.

Inquiry was begun by the Federal grand jury yesterday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Schultz, and Frank J. Hillebrand were subpoenaed. Schultz is "confidential man" for Harris, and Hillebrand is supposed to be the latter's partner. It is asserted Hillebrand is on salary and owns no interest in the business. The complaint alleges the company name is a "fictitious firm name." It is also said that when checks for payment for damages were presented to the firm, Hillebrand refused to have anything to do with them.

The Harris-Hillebrand Company deals principally in rice. Harris is the dominant factor in the Columbia Paper Company, with headquarters in the brokerage establishment. The incorporators are Harris, Hillebrand and W. T. Craig. It is believed that Craig, an attorney, has had nothing to do with the affairs of the Columbia Paper Company except as one of the incorporators.

The filing of the complaint follows an extended secret examination of the alleged operations of Harris, under the firm name of Harris-Hillebrand Company, and the Columbia Paper Company, involving shipments of rice and paper over the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe, and according to the statements of Haggerty, the damages collected by Harris from these two railroads have aggregated between $4000 and $5000. It is charged that some time ago, following an objection by the Southern Pacific, some of the payments were returned. A number of the claims were withdrawn.

The specific charge against Harris alleges that May 6, last, the Southern Pacific carried a shipment of rice consigned to the Harris-Hillebrand Company, from the Louisiana Milling Company, and that after the rice had been reshipped to Stockton, Harris made a claim for damages, asserting the rice had become wet and was caked and moldy. The total claim for damages was $227.12, the salvage allowance $179.40, and the balance, $47.72, was paid to Harris.

Archbald asserts that Schultz, in the employ of Harris, poured distillate on the sacks of rice before it was shipped to Stockton. He declares Schultz has confessed. Schultz was caught by employees of the Southern Pacific, but allowed to go. Schultz declares, according to Archbald, that Harris often poured oil on rice shipments.

A score of demands were made in behalf of the Columbia Paper Company, against both the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific. Some were settled. Archbald asserts a systematic campaign was made by Harris and others to cut and mutilate paper shipments, to secure damages. Many claims were presented and paid. No repayments have been made by Harris on this account to either of the companies, Archbald says.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"Naughty Marietta" will close its engagement at the Majestic Theater tonight and tomorrow night Henry W. Savage's big revival of "The Prince of Pilsen" with "Jess" Dandy and Lottie Kendall in the chief roles will begin a week's engagement at the Broadway playhouse.

Following on the heels of "The Prince of Pilsen" will be seen Mr. Savage's revival of Lehar's famous "Merry Widow," in which Mabel Wilber will be seen as Sonia and Charles Meakins as Prince Danilo.

When the Morosco Producing Company plays "The Witching Hour"—the date is mighty indefinite on account of the tremendous success of Nat Goodwin in "Oliver Twist"—Helen Robertson will have an opportunity to play the role of the mother—the leading feminine part in the Augustus Thomas play.

Miss Robertson had this same role on tour with John Mason and her book of press notices testifies to the fact that her portrayal of the exceedingly trying and difficult part received many honeyed words from some of the best newspaper writers of the country.

When Miss Robertson was handed her "part" in "The Witching Hour" she says it was very much like shaking hands with some one from the old home town.

Grace Valentine will play the ingenue role in "The Witching Hour" once more.

This clever little woman looks upon the rehearsal period of "The Witching Hour" as a vacation because it means no study for her—and study, to the average actress, means much hard work.

Owing to the popularity of James J. Corbett, the Empress Theater will give five shows tomorrow, there being two matinee performances, beginning at 1:30, and three night shows, commencing at 6 o'clock.

The rival runs of "The Elixir of Youth" at the Burbank and "Oliver Twist," in which Nat C. Goodwin is starring, at the Morosco, is furnishing the basis for many interesting little wagers between the members of the rival companies. "The Elixir of Youth" will enter upon its third week tomorrow afternoon, while on Monday night "Twist" will begin the third

The rapidly-increasing demand for seats would indicate that the former has settled down for a most substantial run, while there has been no vacant seats at the Morosco Theater, since Mr. Goodwin's first appearance as "Fagin" two weeks ago.

Two monster motion-picture dramas of more than ordinary significance will be featured at the Clune theaters next week. "Shylock," an adaptation of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," produced by the Eclipse players in France, will be seen at the Broadway house, while at Fifth street "Pickwick Papers," a Dickens masterpiece, with John Bunny, the inimitable, in the role of Mr. Pickwick, will be shown.

The People's orchestra concerts, which have been maintained for three months with an admission of 25 cents, will change their prices. With the beginning of the March concerts the price of about 750 seats, including the boxes and loges, and the seats back of the brass rail on the ground floor and extending up to the mezzanine floor will be reserved and sold at 50 cents. Cause for this change may be found in the weekly deficit, which, despite one or two stupendously big houses, continues about the same. With the change in the price of the seats it is believed that this obstacle to the complete success of the concerts will be removed.

NORDICA BRILLIANTLY SHINES BEFORE ELITE.

Brilliantly groomed for the occasion, the Hotel Huntington at Oak Knoll, formerly the Wentworth, was formally opened last evening with a concert in which Lillian Nordica was the attraction. Fourteen hundred of the elect of Los Angeles and Pasadena, the ladies gorgeously gowned, contributed to make this one of the most dazzling affairs of the winter social season in all Southern California. The great dining hall, converted pro tem into a gorgeous concert salon, sparkled with brilliant jewels and beautiful women.

Madame Nordica was exquisite in a white satin gown showered with sparkling gems. Her voice, at its best, completely captivated her remarkable audience.

Nordica's voice is of such even development and under such complete control that it seems at times as if she were merely talking, so small is the apparent effort. Her range is good, and throughout the evening her voice was well balanced. Not once was there a forced note, and her diction was a thing of joy.

Nordica's singing is soft and sweet, as if her one idea were to interpret her song, yet her faintest note could be distinctly heard in the extreme corners of the room.

Two songs by Wakefield-Cadman, the American composer of today, "At the Feast of the Dead" and "When the Cherries Bloomed," were well sung and very appealing. "Le Nile" (Leroux,) with a violin obligato, was one of the best numbers on the programme, but Nordica came into her own in the German songs and it was here that she fairly shown as a most wonderful artist. Her interpretations are all distinctly original and she seeks to give an entirely different meaning to anything she sang.

The popular aria from the second act of "Madame Butterfly," Madame Nordica gave, at the insistent requests of many in her audience, in a realistic and convincing manner.

William-Morse Rummell, violinist of the evening, played with mature sure-bowing that was very satisfying. At times Mr. Rummel lacked fire and originality, and then again his execution would leave nothing to be desired. The "Introduction and Tarentelle," by Sarasate, was by far his best. Here he displayed marvelous technique and at the same time considerable feeling and good tone work.

Romayne Simmons, the accompanist of the evening, was one of the best in his line we have had this year. At times he might be criticized for too much individual work but on the other hand the very fault, as some would call it, was the foundation which the artists needed.

After the concert the guests assembled in the ballroom where punch and bon-bons were served, thus converting the Nordica concert into a very informal social affair.

That is in the future anyway, and is strictly his affair. I will not say what our attitude in the matter will be. I understand that Mrs. Kuster was here a few weeks ago, but she did not stay at our home. I do not know whether Mrs. Kuster is with him or not."

"Repress your individuality and you have no life; assert it, and you have war and chaos."

Mrs. Una L. Kuster asserted her individuality, said friends yesterday after her remarkable life story was printed for the first time. "She asserted it, and war and chaos are her portion."

That Mrs. Kuster was in reality made the scapegoat of a coterie of faddists who egged her on, was the assertion yesterday.

Mrs. Kuster is not without friends who assert that she was, in the beginning, used by these individualists to ascertain just how far society, or that portion of society they represent, would go in accepting the new thought wherein the "I" becomes the absolute and, once conscience is muffled, all is right.

"Mrs. Kuster was sincere in her actions, whatever they were," it was said. "When upon one occasion an attempt was made to induce her to 'experiment' with another candidate for 'superman' distinction, she turned from the proposition in abhorrence."

Huneker's "Iconoclasts, a Book of Dramatists," which sums up the Ibsen school in the phrase, "the eternal curiosity of the eternal woman for things forbidden," is the way one critic of the local "school" puts it.

"Flagons and Apples," a little volume from the flowing pen of Jeffers, is filled with gems of poetry dedicated to "Helen."

As a bard Jeffers leaves some few details to be desired, but his ardency cannot be questioned, for instance when he says in the couplet on page 12, entitled "And Afterward."

"Because of a dream by the seashore
I am not much joyful any more."

And again in "To Helen About Her Hair," on page 8:

"I bid you comb it carefully
For my soul is caught there,
Wound in the web of it."

On page 11 there appears to have been a quarrel. At any rate that is what he calls the verse the chief beauty of which is the rhyming of "solo," with "cholo." Says he:

"And I thought as I heard his solo,
How simple were life—how human—
If I were a drunken cholo,
And you my dark-skinned woman!"

Page 22 is devoted to the "End of Summer:"

"We have had the honey, and are sated,
Stingless. We have enjoyed, my dear,
A reasonable, regulated,
And well-conducted love affair."

On page 29 there is an ode "To Canidia," the "witch girl," the last two lines of which read:

"I, being more strong than you, no more
Will set my feet to seek your door."

Again referring to the seaside episode, "And the Stars," he writes:

"I hardly ought to see you much again;
And stars we know are often dangerous."

Alluring New Hat Models Here Not to Be Shown Elsewhere in Town

Obviously nothing can be more embarrassing to the woman of discrimination in matters of dress than to find her favorite hat copied; possibly being worn by someone with whom she is thrown in frequent contact. No fear of such a situation if your millinery is chosen from this newly-arrived group—for each hat is a model which, so far as we know, will not be shown elsewhere in Los Angeles—and there are no duplicates.

Authentic Copies of Imported Hats

—one of the foremost American designers has faithfully copied these chic models from vastly more expensive imported hats—every turn of brim, every trick of color combination, has been artistically reproduced—and at comparatively small expense to you.

Distinctively Novel Shades and Materials

—real hemp, Tagal and Milan straws form the foundations of some of the smartest of these; variously trimmed with plumes, stick-ups—and the very new Numidie, which has this season taken the place of paradise trimmings. Cold type will not begin to adequately describe their beauty—see them.

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, Feb. 28.—The Chamber of Commerce has made plans for a large banquet at Hotel Berth Saturday evening, March 8, to the members and guests. A number of ladies will be included in the invitations.

Work on the new pleasure pier is being carried on rapidly by the Mercereau Construction Company. About ten carloads of materials have been shipped here, unloaded here, and the forms for the pilings are now being made ready to be placed in position.

George Correa, probation officer for this district of Los Angeles county, is fathering a movement to secure public recreation grounds. It is planned to secure grounds before property values increase any more, where a tennis court, ball grounds, a basketball court and playgrounds may be built for the children. Correa, who in his official capacity, has had much experience with wayward children, is of the opinion that with a recreation park the boys would have an opportunity to work off their surplus energy, which often leads to mischief, as for several months in the summer the beach is crowded with youngsters who have nothing to do in the way of amusement.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

THREE DOZEN CANDIDATES.

Pasadena Has Many Willing to Serve Public.

Mrs. Burdette Points Out Society's Responsibility.

Angeleno Drives an Automobile Over a Woman.

PASADENA, March 1.—This noon will see the end of announcements of candidacy for the offices of City Commissioner under the new form of commission government that is soon to be inaugurated. The law provides that petitions may be filed up to 6 o'clock next Monday morning, but as the office of the City Clerk will close at 12 o'clock today, not to open until after that time, this morning will be the last opportunity to get into the race. There was considerable speculation in the city yesterday as to how many dark horses will be likely to appear at the last minute

Thirty-six nominating petitions have already been filed with the City Clerk, and some of those who were among the first to announce their candidacy have not yet submitted theirs. Among these are City Commissioner Frank May, T. D. Allin and City Councilman C. W. Rhodes. Those woh have filed petitions are:

John Blake, W. T. Root, Sr., A. A. Jepson, James F. Clarge, G. M. Burlingame, P. M. Shutt, W. B. Lougherty, C. S. Thompson, William H. Korstian, A. K. Wyatt, Clark McLain, T. P. Lukens, W. H. Wood, J. Edward Kent, R. L. Metcalf, William C. De Lapp, C. R. Burger, George S. Yarnall, William Easterbrook, R. E. Blow, John S. Nicholls, R. J. Baird, Harley F. Newell, A. Claude Braden, Mrs. Clara Packard, James Charbonneau, Odell T. Fellows, Jesse C. Merrill, Charles W. Hillier, Louis Blankenhorn, A. L. Hamilton, S. Ives Wallace, Harry Geohegan, M. H. Salisbury, Will M. Glass and Robert S. Allen.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Citizens' Association was held yesterday morning and it was decided not to indorse a ticket of five candidates as had been talked of.

Mitchell H. Salisbury, assistant superintendent of the municipal water department, filed his petition in spite of the remonstrances of both Mayor Thum and Superintendent Burdette Moody of the water department. He was informed a short time ago when he announced his intention to become a candidate that if he were to take such a course his resignation from the water department would be expected. He faces possible dismissal in entering the contest, but has determined to try to win one of the commissionerships nevertheless.

SPEAKS FROM SHOULDER.

An address that Mrs. Robert J. Burdette made at a meeting of the Altadena Woman's Circle at the home of Mrs. E. S. Gosney last Thursday has caused much discussion in the city. Mrs. Burdette is applauded for the stand she took. In speaking on "Society's Responsibility for Women in Industry," she said, in part:

"We women should not create a circle which includes ourselves, our friends and others of our set and then minister to those people from the outside without touching them. It is necessary to come into actual contact with conditions. Have you yet considered that society is spelled with a small 's'?

"The life of a saleswoman seems most alluring to many girls, for the most part only because they can be dressed up and be on parade. Several stores in Los Angeles do not employ girls unless they come from home. It is not, however, because of the quality of the girls. It is because they are not paid enough wages to enable them to live decently away from home."

GRAND OPERA SINGER CHARMS.

The Nordica concert at the Hotel Huntington last night attracted a large number of musical and society people of this city and Los Angeles, as well as easterners who are at the large hotels here for the winter. There were two drawing cards: First, the noted singer; and, second, an opportunity of viewing the interior of the large new hotel in gala dress.

Special electric parlor cars were run from the Hotel Maryland to accommodate those who desired to go by trolley and the hotel was entirely surrounded by automobiles.

Pasadena is the only city in Southern California where Mme. Nordica is to sing this winter and there was so great a demand for seats that the ballroom, which is arranged for such entertainments, was abandoned and a stage built in the large dining-room. The concert was the greatest musical event that has ever taken place in the city.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mrs. W. O. Smith of No. 641 South Orange Grove avenue was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by E. B. Thomas of No. 752 Carondelet street, Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon at the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street and severely bruised. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital and then removed to her home.

An enjoyable programme was presented at the February meeting of the Pasadena Ohio Society, held last night at Aryan Hall. The Ohio Society is one of the largest State societies in the city, as well as one of the most enthusiastic.

The 1913 annual benefit ball of the Pasadena fire department, which took place last night at Woodman Hall, was a success, both as a pleasurable and a financial undertaking.

The pencil sale by which funds are to be realized for the Pasadena Day Nursery was begun yesterday when a party of young society women called on the merchants of the city with a supply of lead pencils. The sale will be carried on today, and tonight a pay-as-you-enter-the-gate dance will be held at the Hotel Green.

The committee that has been inspecting the Polytechnic High School buildings expects to have its report ready to submit to the City Council and the Board of Education next Tuesday.

OLDEST TWINS IN CELEBRATION.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 28.—Still hale and hearty, Thomas Guilford and Robert Seth Holmes, the oldest twins on the Pacific Coast, and probably in the West today, quietly celebrated their eighty-first birthday at their home on Magnolia avenue. Both are in good health and spirits and responded smilingly to congratulations showered upon them by relatives and friends.

The Holmes brothers have lived ten years in Long Beach. Thomas is married, but Robert has always remained a bachelor, because of the tragic termination of a romance of his young manhood, and has made his home with his brother's family. They were born in Ontario, Can., and moved to Albion, Wis., when quite young, and for thirty-one years jointly held the office of postmaster of that city. The brothers are patriarchal in appearance, having flowing white beards and snowy hair, and look alike.

MASONIC FIELD DAY.

Pomona Commandery Will Entertain Knights Templars from Half a Dozen Cities—Short News Stories.

POMONA, Feb. 28.—Special arrangements are being made for the field day and basket picnic to be held at Ganesha Park on Saturday, March 15, by the commanderies of Knights Templars stationed at Pasadena, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Alhambra, Covina, Whittier and Pomona by the several committees in charge. A special ladies' reception and entertainment committee will have charge at the local Masonic Temple and at the park.

Special electric cars will bring the outside commanderies to Pomona and there will be baseball games, drills and out-of-door sports and a large crowd of visitors is expected.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Monte Vista Club met this evening in the Monte Vista schoolhouse and enjoyed a programme of readings and music, the participants being as follows: Vocal solo, Miss Clara Perrin; recitation, Miss Crystal Burke; vocal solo, Herbert Gilbert; instrumental solo, Miss May Wright; recitation, Louis Van Arnsdale; vocal solo, Clarence Warner; zither solo, Prof. Marks; recitation, Maurice Shanks; vocal solo, Mrs. Hart; vocal duet, Misses Stewart and Ames.

The total rainfall for the season here thus far is 12.37 inches, about half of this having been measured in the last five weeks. Not for some years has this locality experienced such a prolific rainfall for February. There is a large amount of snow on the mountains and the canyon streams are running high. Vegetation is well started throughout the valley.

PALMS SHAKEN BY A FEUD.

Officer in Sedate Suburb Arrests a Boy and While Brushing Away Opposition Incurs Man's Wrath.

PALMS, Feb. 28.—This town is in a turmoil as a result of a feud between Constable J. S. Johnson, who represents law and order here, and a number of young men who have come under the displeasure of Johnson. The parents of the young fellows, too, have taken a hand, and now both Johnson and Vernon Bales, one of the rising generation, have been arrested.

Thursday afternoon Johnson, who is a deputy of Constable J. S. Barton of Venice, came into Justice Rennie's court in Venice and procured a warrant for the arrest of Bales, on the charge of disturbing the peace and using violent and profane language. Johnson sallied forth to get his prisoner, but in doing so, ran up against a considerable crowd of townspeople who protested. Johnson brushed Dunning McArthur aside and secured Bales, who was taken to Venice.

Today McArthur procured a warrant for Johnson from Justice Rennie's court, charging that the constable used force and violence upon his person, and Constable Barton arrested his own deputy and caused him to give bail for his appearance Tuesday. Johnson has retained Attorney Lyon and says his arrest is the result of spite work in arresting Bales and breaking up a gang of young rowdies.

Ocean Park.

BEACH PASTOR DISAPPEARS.

Ocean Park Man Leaves Suicide Note.

Police Scoff at the Idea and Say He Has Decamped.

Members of His Flock Faithfully Patrol Beach.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 28.—After taking all the money in the house and writing his wife and the church trustees a letter, stating that he was about to end his life by throwing himself off the Long Wharf, Rev. John Havener, the young and handsome substitute pastor of the First Christian Church of Ocean Park, disappeared last night. His young wife, members of the church and the police are engaged in a search for him.

"Dearie," read the note to his wife, "I am downhearted because I cannot support you as you have been used to; my debts are too heavy for me to bear, and I am going to end it all. You are not to blame for my debts and I hope you will be happy. I am going to end it all. I am going to throw myself off the Long Wharf. Good-by. Yours, John."

Another note, postmarked Santa Monica, and mailed last night, was sent to Leroy Mooser, a contractor. This explained that he was about to end his life; that his debts had overwhelmed him, and asked Mooser, who is one of the trustees of the church, to send his wife back to her parents in Memphis, Tenn., as she was penniless. The police are inclined to scoff at the suicide theory, stating that it is likely that Rev. Havener disappeared for reasons best known to himself. He took $10, all there was in the house, from his wife before he left. The officers say that it is not likely that a man will take his wife's last cent and then commit suicide.

The minister, who is 30 years of age, came here with his wife three weeks ago from Hemet, to fill the pulpit of the church temporarily. He was a graduate of Johnson Bible College, at Memphis, and came to the Coast with high recommendations. The church at Hemet was small, his wife explains, and the contributions were not enough to pay their bills, and they left that city owing several bills. These preyed upon the minister's mind.

A reception was to have been tendered the pastor and his wife in their rooms at the Hamilton apartments on Marine street near Third street, last night. The young minister left the house yesterday morning, telling his wife that he was called out on business. When he did not return by late afternoon Mrs. Havener telephoned Rev. J. S. Lobingier, pastor of the First Christian Church at Santa Monica, and a search was begun. Mrs. Havener went to the postoffice late in the afternoon and received the note written her by her husband. The efforts of the church people to find the pastor were redoubled, and a party consisting of Leroy Mooser, Rev. Mr. Lobingier and J. S. Taylor procured an auto and patrolled the beach in the vicinity of the long wharf until midnight, but found no clew.

The minister was a great favorite with his congregation, and members of the church resent the insinuation that the pastor was lured away from his wife by a female member of the flock. They are inclined to believe the pastor's mind was unhinged. They assert that he was attached to his wife, and was seldom seen except in her company. The salary of the pastor was $18 per week. The Haveners lived in apartments that cost $25 per month. Rev. Mr. Lobingier stated that a careful examination of the pastor's record was made before he was called to fill the pulpit temporarily, and it was everything that could be desired. His home life was a happy one, the Santa Monica pastor says.

FUNERAL MONDAY.

GLENDALE, Feb. 28.—F. M. Hoopes, 62 years of age, of this city, who was killed by being struck and run over by an auto in Los Angeles early this week, will be buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery Monday. The fatal accident occurred at the corner of Second and Main streets, the auto being driven by V. M. Rickert of the Burr Creamery Company. Mr. Hoopes was employed by the Adams and McKee Hardware Company of No. 128 South Main street, where he had been for the past seven years. He leaves a widow and several children.

Avalon.

SIGNAL HONOR IS PAID RETIRING NAVIGATOR.

AVALON, Feb. 28.—Every launch of this port accompanied Capt. P. B. Blanchard of the steamer Cabrillo five miles to sea as the vessel made its return trip to San Pedro today.

Capt. P. B. Blanchard is retiring from the Pacific Coast service and will leave for New York Monday. During the past six years Capt. Blanchard has been master of every boat in the Wilmington Transportation Company's fleet of vessels. He will be succeeded by Capt. T. D. MacFarland, who for several years has been master of the steamship Yale, plying between San Francisco and San Diego.

Many surprises were planned for Capt. Blanchard by his island friends, this being his last trip across the channel. Immediately after the steamer docked at noon today representatives of the S.Y.C. invited Capt. Blanchard to their headquarters and he was presented with a life membership card in the club and an illuminated address. In presenting their tokens of appreciation, Capt. G. Michaelis, president of the S.Y.C., said:

"The news of your retirement from the Pacific Coast service has cast a gloom over the community. Always we have found you a friend to the Avalon boatmen. We appreciate your many kindnesses."

But the greatest surprise was a handsome silver set which Capt. Blanchard received at his home today, donated to him by the officers and members of the steamship Cabrillo. Upon the large silver platter was an artistic engraving of the vessel and himself plainly distinguishable upon the bridge. So secret had this been kept by the officers and men that it was not until after Blanchard had left his vessel at San Pedro that the present was sent to his home.

Born upon the bark Wealth Pendleton, February, 1878, five miles from the east end of Catalina, upon his father's craft laden with coal for Gen. P. Banning of Wilmington, the young child was christened Phineas Banning Blanchard. When the child grew to be a man, Capt. William Banning offered his father's namesake the best craft in the Wilmington Transportation Company's fleet of ships.

It was not until Blanchard had sailed into almost every port in the world as A.B.S., mate, and master of several crafts that he finally decided to remain at San Pedro.

One of Blanchard's brothers, and his father, who owned a fleet of vessels plying from New York to foreign ports, perished at sea. No trace of the missing vessels or their masters has ever been reported.

"I have always intended to remain a seafaring man," said Blanchard today, "but opportunity has presented itself to join my two brothers in New York City. It is with a full heart that I leave so many friends upon the Pacific Coast."

As the Cabrillo faded away in the distance this afternoon en route to San Pedro the entire membership of the Sophia Yacht Club saluted Capt. Blanchard.

NEWS REPORTED BY CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES

San Bernardino.

LAST LINK TO BE COMPLETED.

LOS ANGELES-SAN BERNARDINO ROAD SOON OPEN.

Right of Way Has Nearly Been Secured and a Few Condemnation Suits May Be Necessary. February Building Record Is Almost Double Last Year's.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 28.—The grading on the Pacific Electric line between San Bernardino and Upland, the last connecting link in the through line from Los Angeles to San Bernardino, will be commenced between March 5 and 15, according to Chief Engineer George C. Pillsbury, who was in this city this week in consultation with the Right-of-Way Committee.

Most of the deeds have already been secured at this end of the line, and in case an agreement is not reached on any of the remaining land by March 5, condemnation suits will be commenced. These suits will not delay the grading work. The bids for doing the grading have been opened in Los Angeles and the name of the contractor will be announced soon. It is not expected that more than two or three condemnation suits will have to be filed to clear the right of way.

The troublesome situation at Upland, which has to some extent been delaying the actual commencement of the work, has been cleared up by the purchase of a private right of way through the center of the city, also by the passage of a franchise for the crossing and use of certain streets in that city.

It is the desire of the Pacific Electric officials to have the line completed and ready for operation by early fall, when it will be possible to open through service to Los Angeles.

BUILDING RECORD.

The February building record is almost $32,000, or nearly double that for the same month of last year. Most of the permits issued have been for new homes, while a number of good-sized buildings are in contemplation throughout the city and will soon be commenced. A new business block of good proportions, new Santa Fe shop buildings, the shop plant for the Pacific Electric Railroad, two or three large apartment-houses, and other structures are in contemplation for the near future. In fact, those who are close to the building industry believe that 1913 will surpass the figures of last year in this city, in spite of the partial fruit crop failure.

INDUSTRY SPURS.

The Southern Pacific has announced that work will be commenced in a few days on the construction of industry tracks on its property close to the heart of the city. It is stated the company has several industry propositions lined up for location on these tracks, thus putting to use a block of land that has lain idle for a number of years. For the past two years the orange show has made use of the land which is convenient to the business center.

EUCALYPTUS SPROUT.

Gum Trees in the Auld Country, Severely Stricken With Frost, Show Vigorous Signs of Life.

AULD, Feb. 28.—Anxiety felt by ranchers about here for eucalyptus trees "cooked" by the January cold snap is relieved by reports from a number of places that sprouts are starting. The boreal temperature which that north wind brought last month was several degrees lower here than in the citrus belt, being 8 or 9 deg. The gum trees soon showed the effects of the frost in their foliage. Not long afterward it was discovered that with some exceptions, the bark was dead. As far as practicable the ranchmen cut them off close to the ground. The sprouts are starting sooner than was expected. This shows strong root life which in two or three years will produce new trees of considerable size from the sprouts. The reports of sprouting are so far confined to the rostrata, or red gum, which is the favorite about here. Trees of the blue gum variety are being watched for sprouts.

LAND MOSTLY SEEDED.

All but a small part of the land about Auld was seeded before the recent rainy period. Most of it is in wheat, but some is in barley. The rainfall came at a favorable time as it did not interfere much with plowing. The fall for the season, according to gauge readings, at the W. R. [illegible]wood ranch, is 5.86 inches. Assuming that no rain had fallen earlier than it did, a greater precipitation would have done little good here. The ground is almost completely saturated. The runoff has been slight and has done little harm in the way of cutting ditches in the fields. The ground, which has been seeded, shows a good stand of grain, considering the comparative lateness at which the first rains came.

FEW "SPINELESS" SURVIVE.

Only a few of the spineless cactus plants at the John Harvey experiment station, southwest of the postoffice, survived the recent severe freeze. Three large plants of several years' growth were protected by the masses of outer blades, which froze, but which afforded some shelter for the centers. The main bodies or trunks of these plants will live. Harvey had about thirty young plants, each from a single blade, set last spring on some high rocky ground and cultivated in a crude way. Close observation of these plants since the freeze has failed to discover any life. A plant from a blade set last spring in the garden of an adjoining ranch is also dead.

REFORM SPIRIT WAS STRONG.

But Subsequent Events Show That Santa Ana Bull Moosers Were Merely Creators of Trouble.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 28.—When the spirit of reform was strong upon them, the Johnsonian element in the Republican County Central Committee of Orange, went on official record in favor of "retrenchment" with a capital R and a minimum dollar mark. Cool and later reflection has shown the "reformers" that they were demanding cuts off salaries of county officials who were more in need of extra help than anything else if their offices were to be maintained with any degree of efficiency.

The "retrenchment" howl has come home to roost for the "reformers" have been forced to a realization that they have broken into the "In Bad" brigade; and to undo the mischief of their previous "recommendations" they have requested the members of the Republican County Central Committee to "study the matter over" and decide whether the County Auditor and County Recorder shouldn't really be allowed some extra help. In other words, Chairman S. J. Jackman has issued a formal address to the "retrogressives" requesting their views and opinions, and inquiring if they don't really believe the Recorder should have four assistants instead of three; and an assistant in the Auditor's office at $900 instead of $700."

NEWS BRIEFS.

Information was received today by President Frank Ey of the City Trustees that his little 5-year-old granddaughter had been perhaps fatally burned at the home of a little boy playmate in Berkeley a few days ago. The children were playing at a gas stove and the little girl, Miss Frances Ey, attempted to blow out the flame, which flashed out and set fire to her clothing. She was badly burned on the right arm, side and face. She is now in a hospital with her mother constantly at her bedside, a cot having been placed beside her little one so that she need not be separated from her a moment.

F. H. Fowler today obtained a permit for the erection of the theater part of his new business block that is to be erected at the northeast corner of Third and Spurgeon streets. This structure is to cost $10,000. In addition to the theater there is to be a large swimming pool on the ground floor in an adjoining building, and there is talk of the upper floor of this section being occupied by a proposed athletic club, composed of the leading young business and professional men of Santa Ana.

Glen Johnson and Homer Schrock of Fullerton, were fined $25 each here today by Justice Cox for beating a horse with a club while driving through Brea a few days ago. They were arrested at the instigation of Secretary G. A. Whidden of the S.P.C.A., and brought here by City Constable Jackson. The fines were paid.

Whittier High School athletes were to meet the Santa Ana High students in a track meet Saturday afternoon, but this evening they sent word that they could not come.

Local bankers are considering the purchase of an allottment of State highway bonds to insure the work in Orange county. A conference will be held probably next week at which a decision will be reached.

Four carloads of former Hawkeyes will leave Santa Ana at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, via the Pacific Electric Railroad, to attend the annual picnic at Eastlake Park, Los Angeles.

Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce has sent two large boxes of navel oranges to the Winnipeg, Can., newspapers, as actual demonstration of the claim that Orange county comes mighty near being in a genuine frostless belt.

GIVEN YEAR FOR HIS WORK.

British Subject Believing Jails Unnecessary Tried to Destroy the Anaheim Cage and Goes to Prison.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 28.—The first man ever accused of attempting to tear down a jail, was convicted of the offense today in the Superior Court and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in San Quentin. Judge West was disposed to be lenient in view of the general circumstances attending the case. This is said to be the first conviction of the kind under a law enacted at the first session of the California Legislature since the Johnsonian administration came into power.

The convicted man is Edward Holt, a resident of Anaheim, and a British subject, he confessing to a strong prejudice against American men and ways. This prejudice has been enhanced since his contact with the law. Holt made a determined effort one day to level the Anaheim Jail, he deciding that such a place was unnecessary. His arrest followed. After his conviction he asked and was granted permission to write to the British Consul in Los Angeles requesting that official of his Majesty's government to intercede for him.

OFFICIALS LACK FAITH.

Another call is being made by Sheriff Ruddock and other county officials upon Mrs. E. C. Richart in the hope that she will remove all suspicion in connection with her reported struggle one night about two weeks ago with two masked thugs whom she declared had attempted to either kidnap or hang her. Officials of the Sheriff's office are no longer hesitating in expressing the belief that Mrs. Richart manufactured all the harrowing details of that alleged event just as she had done in the matter of sending herself "blackhand" letters. The woman's brother-in-law called upon Sheriff Ruddock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining if the authorities contemplate taking any action against her, but he was given scant satisfaction.

TREASURY WELL FILLED.

Orange county's treasury is well filled with coin of the realm, according to the official report of the committee that has just finished counting the funds on hand. This committee consisted of A. R. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; County Auditor Cal Lester and Dist.-Atty. West. They found $304,008.83 on hand with an additional $37,502.52 in trust funds also in the care of Treasurer Joplin. Few counties in the State, it is said, can show such a flourishing condition.

Because of increasing business the Farmers and Merchants' Bank is arranging for extensions and improvements of the building now occupied by it. Additional store room on the west side of the present bank building is to be utilized and considerable betterments added to both the interior and exterior of the enlarged structure.

A dozen well-known Los Angeles motorcycle racers are entered for the meet here to be held Sunday next.

County Highway Commissioners will visit Bay City tomorrow for the purpose of seeing if some settlement cannot be reached in regard to the plans of the Pacific Electric Railroad extension out Main street. The commissioners had been expecting to have the State Highway join that thoroughfare.

NINE DAYS OF RAIN.

San Jacinto Has an Unusual Spell of Weather Which Insures Great Returns to Ranchers.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 28.—At this writing rain has prevailed in San Jacinto for nine successive days, with a total precipitation of 2.27 inches. This brings the total for the season to 6.75 inches, or more than three times the rainfall of last season up to this date. Notwithstanding the length of the storm, there is very little water standing on the surface, as the moisture came so gently that it was all absorbed by the thirsty soil.

Land is in perfect condition for crop growth, and there has been no damage from a sudden run-off, which sometimes follows heavy downpours. It is remarkable that after nine days' rain there is no water in the San Jacinto River. With light rains in March and April ranchers are assured of abundant hay and grain crops. Reservoirs and underground water supplies have been so far replenished that irrigationists need have no anxiety about the long, dry summer months. Stockmen too have had all care lifted from their shoulders by this bountiful rainfall.

NEW MANAGER.

It is reported that G. B. Hannahs may have charge of Idyllwild during the coming summer, arrangements to that end having been completed lately by the owners. Such position would carry with it control of the mountain store, the camping grounds, cottages and bungalow. L. A. Williams and Gray & Copeland, it is announced, have contracts for handling passenger traffic between San Jacinto and the resort and for that purpose two forty horse-power autos will be added to the firm's present equipment. A. V. Tanner, will handle the baggage. It is considered an important business stroke for San Jacinto to secure the Idyllwild travel, as it brings hundreds of people through the town during the summer season.

PIONEER DIES.

The death of G. M. Green occurred yesterday after an illness which lasted but a few days. Mr. Green was one of the early pioneers of San Jacinto, coming to the valley with his family from Lodi before the town of San Jacinto was founded. He was one of the builders of the Methodist Church here and for years was a member of the official body of that organization. He was born in Alabama seventy-four years ago and came to California in 1860. He leaves a widow, two daughters and five sons and two brothers.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Under the auspices of the Sunday-schools of the valley a three-days' conference began today at the Methodist Church. Representatives were present from Hemet, Winchester and Valle Vista. The general subject of consideration will be "Religious Education," and experienced workers will present the topic from all its different angles.

As the time for sugar beet planting approaches the acreage that will be planted at San Jacinto increases. It is now estimated that close to 3000 acres will be cultivated to sugar beets during the coming summer. That amount is within 2000 acres of the acreage necessary for the accommodation of a sugar factory, and it is the belief of local landowners that a factory will be erected here at no distant date. Parties interested in the manufacture of beet sugar have been in the valley this week investigating the situation.

HUNTINGTON BEACH BRIEFS.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 28.—Mayor Seely has received notice from the Carnegie Corporation of New York that it will build a $10,000 library building in this city as soon as plans are adopted by the City Trustees, all requirements of the Carnegie fund having been complied with. The plans are to be approved by the Carnegie Corporation before construction is commenced.

The West Coast Gas Company turned on gas here last night, making a big display in their offices on Main street. The lights attracted much attention, this being the first time in the history of the city that gas has been available. Conections will be made at once for all users.

About fifty carloads of celery remain to be shipped in the neighboring peatlands, the recent rains having prevented the harvesting of the remainder of the crop. In spite of the frosts, the season has been a profitable one for growers as prices have ranged high and the most of the frozen celery was replanted and produced a late crop.

RIVERSIDE BRIEFS.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 28.—Guadalupe Gutierras, a Corona Mexican, lies dangerously wounded at the County Hospital. He was found in his shack with four bullet wounds in his body, after an altercation with a fellow-countryman, Calletano Vasquez, who is charged with the shooting, has not been apprehended.

Riverside will be well represented at the Iowa picnic tomorrow. The local society has a large membership, including many prominent in the city's civic life. A special train will leave the Salt Lake depot at 8:05 and the improved weather conditions insure a large delegation from this point.

Hemet.

TWENTY-THREE DECLARE FOR FIGHT FOR HARMONY.

HEMET, Feb. 28.—Twenty-three of the voters of Hemet, in mass-meeting assembled last night, [illegible] a third faction in Hemet's complex problem of municipal government and thus gave the fight a [illegible] turn. The platform of the [illegible] party is "harmony," with the following specific planks: [illegible] and delay of recall [illegible] resignation of the entire City Council; successors selected by the third faction; prompt and vigorous enforcement of city ordinances, including liquor laws; thorough investigation of sewer system, and superintendence and inspection of public work; transaction of city's business along approved business lines.

An organization was effected with [illegible] as president, and W. [illegible] as secretary, and a committee composed of W. B. Tripp, Grant [illegible] and C. R. Moody was appointed by the chairman to select five representative citizens willing and able to bring order out of the present chaos and serve the city in the capacity of Trustees. The committee selected the following: C. [illegible], cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank; J. H. Scales, cashier of the Bank of Hemet; Robert [illegible], John Isle, and H. C. [illegible]. A second committee was appointed that included L. L. Newton, [illegible] Aynsworth, C. R. Moody, G. [illegible], and Grant Morse, to wait upon the five trustees and ask for their resignations and their compliance with the appointment of the five foregoing business men upon the Council.

The present status of the fight involves the circulation of petitions against Trustees Bruce, Sprague, and Smith, on charges based on their recent action in allowing a bill that is alleged to be irregular and not authorized by the City Council, asking their recall. The payment of the bill, $771.90, presented by the former City Marshal, and stated to be for services of detectives in discovering violators of the city liquor ordinance, is now being sought by mandamus action in the Superior Court, a writ of mandamus having been issued against City Treasurer Taylor, who refused to sign the voucher until expert advice had been secured on the legality of the Council's action.

So far as definitely known, no recall petitions against Trustees Clayton or Van Winkle, who voted against the payment of the bill, have been circulated, nor have any public charges been preferred against the action of either of the foregoing, so it is not known on what ground the harmony league will demand their resignations, except that of harmony and peace.

No public call was issued for the meeting of Wednesday night, but a public mass-meeting will be held Thursday night, at which the result of the initiated campaign for harmony will be reported.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

It be[illegible] yesterday [illegible] geles want [illegible] to fill the [illegible] cil created by the death of Councilman Lusk. Several names of negroes are discussed by the black men, but C. C. Flint appears to have the most general indorsement. It is probable that Councilmen will be approached in his behalf.

A conference between the Mayor, Harbor Commission and representatives of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric over the city's acquiring land at the Harbor for a boulevard to the Municipal Dock No. 1 was held yesterday, and the Mayor announced that results are encouraging and he believes a solution of the difficulties will be reached soon, whereby thousands of dollars will be saved to the city.

Sale of lots for delinquent assessments in Exposition Park continued at the City Hall yesterday. In all, about 1000 lots have been sold during the week, and the sale will continue daily.

The report of February receipts for the harbor revenue fund shows that February was a record-breaker, $1981.74 having been received. The total for the fiscal year to date is $7666.21.

The question of controlling concerns that make a business of cleaning cesspools was put to the Board of Public Utilities yesterday by an indignant citizen who alleges that all such concerns charge exorbitant prices.

At the City Hall.

NEGRO PROPOSED FOR COUNCILMAN.

AMBITIONS OF COLORED FOLK AROUSED BY VACANCY.

[illegible] Council Refuses to [illegible] Candidate, [illegible] Name of C. C. Flint, Groceryman, May Be Presented by Individuals.

Will the new member of the City Council, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councilman Lusk, be a negro?

This is a new question injected into the situation, and if the 15,000 negro voters of Los Angeles have any influence with present members of the Council, they will cause the subject to be given serious consideration.

The Socialists claim to have about 4000 votes in this city, and they demand direct representation in the City Council. The negroes claim that they cast more than 10,000 votes for Mayor Alexander, and that with the negro women's vote they can now cast at least 15,000 ballots. [illegible] their own race.

[illegible] Various [illegible] discussed as possible [illegible] timber, but the Council [illegible] not to give its indorsement to any particular candidate, so that individuals of their race could be free to act.

Since then [illegible] negroes have been discussed for the position, among them being C. C. Flint, a grocer who is located on Santa Fe avenue; T. W. Troy, a furniture dealer, located at [illegible] and San Pedro streets; J. [illegible] Alexander, president of the Afro-American Council and also president of the Afro-American Commercial [illegible] of No. 818 Wall street, and [illegible], who resides at No. 1317 [illegible] street, and who is one of the wealthiest negroes in Los Angeles, being the owner of some business property on South Spring street [illegible] outside property.

Flint appears to be in the lead in [illegible] indorsement among his own people, and it is probable that [illegible] will be made to the various Councilmen in his behalf. The vacancy must be filled by a direct appointment from the Council until the [illegible] election.

The negroes claim to have a population of [illegible] to 30,000 in Los Angeles and that a good percentage of them have become owners of property. They say that the negro women have very generally registered and that they are sure they have now [illegible] eligible to vote.

The situation [illegible] complex [illegible] There is [illegible] that at least one club woman will be urged [illegible] their best endeavors to have [illegible] the politicians will not be idle. [illegible] the subject [illegible] filling the vacancy has become a theme [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Griffith Park. [illegible] year will be [illegible] the work.

[illegible] Important Conferences.

[illegible] important conferences were held [illegible] the Harbor Commission yesterday. In the forenoon a conference occurred between the Mayor, members of the Harbor Commission and representatives of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric [illegible] for the harbor boulevard and entrance to the city's water front. [illegible] but [illegible] the Harbor Commission stated after the conference that [illegible] had made good [illegible] which may mean a great saving to the city in the [illegible] condemnation suits.

[illegible] the Harbor [illegible] Gregson, traffic [illegible] associated Jebburn, [illegible] who [illegible]

before the State Railroad Commission on March 4.

Could Reduce Salary.

In connection with the campaign of some of the City Councilmen to bring about the ousting of City Engineer Hamlin, the question arose yesterday as to whether the Council has the authority to place the salary of this position at a merely nominal figure, should it desire to take this means of compelling Hamlin to resign.

Section 65 of Article 6 of the city charter provides: "The City Engineer shall receive $5000 per annum." An amendment adopted in 1911 provides that "the Board of Public Works shall appoint and employ a civil engineer of not less than five years' professional experience, who shall be designated as the City Engineer. He shall receive such salary as the Council shall by ordinance prescribe, and shall hold office at the pleasure of the board."

Councilmen who are opposed to the retention of Hamlin as City Engineer take the stand that the amendment sets aside the original provision of the charter and that they could place the salary of the City Engineer at any figure they agreed upon.

Land Sale Continues.

The sale of lots for delinquent Exposition Park assessments continued at the City Hall yesterday, about 200 lots being sold. This makes about 1000 lots sold of the total amount upon which assessments were delinquent, and the total received therefrom is $1821. The sale will continue daily at 10 o'clock a.m.

Is Your Chance Here?

The Civil Service Commission has announced the following examinations for municipal positions:

On March 15, for clerk of the electrical department, at $75 per month; stenographer for departmental service, $75 per month; chauffeur for police department, $75 per month; blacksmith for fire department, $100 per month; telephone operator for public library, $40 to $50 per month; page at public library, $25 to $45 per month.

On March 22, for gutter-layer and asphalt workers in street department, at $3 per day; adding machine clerk for Tax Collector's department, $90 per month; janitor for Receiving Hospital, $60 per month; chauffeur and fumigator for health department, $75 per month; meter and service foreman for water department, $[illegible] per day.

On March 29, for firemen, $[illegible] per month.

To qualify for these examinations all applicants must be citizens of the United States, registered voters, except in the case of library pages, and have resided in Los Angeles for at least one year.

Sets New Record.

Figures compiled by Secretary Matson of the Harbor Commission at the close of business hours yesterday showed that the harbor revenue for the month of February has set a new record, the past month having produced the greatest revenue of any month in the history of the harbor.

The total amount that will go into the harbor revenue fund is $1981.74, making an income of $7666.21 for the eight months that have elapsed of the present fiscal year. One large item in harbor revenue the past month was the payment of $755 by the San Pedro Transportation Company for the privilege of [illegible] the past year under its franchise.

Don't Want Pole Line.

The Ivanhoe Improvement Association yesterday sent to the Board of Public Works a protest against the Aqueduct Power Bureau making surveys through Griffith Park and the Ivanhoe district for the purpose of securing a right of way for its transmission line. The association declares that such a line would depreciate property values and be a detriment to the beauty of the park. The protest was referred to Electrical Engineer Scattergood.

Are They Public Utilities?

Stuart J. Flintham has appealed to the Board of Public Utilities to decide whether the regulation and control of individuals and concerns carrying on the business of cleaning cesspools comes within its province. The board decided to get the advice of the City Attorney on this subject.

Flintham states that his investigations have shown that the charges for such services are exorbitant in comparison with the time consumed and the equipment necessary, and that while there are numerous concerns in this class of business, all maintain this high class of rates. He maintains that within districts where there are no sewers the cesspool cleaners perform a public utility service, and that their rates should be regulated by the Board of Public Utilities.

[illegible]

The Board of Public Utilities gave its recommendation yesterday to the application of the C. C. Harris Oil Company for a franchise to cross certain streets in the northwest oil district with its pipe lines. The compensation for the franchise is placed at $100 and 2 per cent. of the gross receipts per year after [illegible].

City Hall Brevities.

A largely-signed petition from residents of West Adams street was filed at the City Hall yesterday, asking that better car service be given on that street. They want the cars turned back down town at Third and Main streets.

The City Treasurer has finally turned over to the Los Angeles Aqueduct Bureau the last of the $23,000,000 realized from the bond issue for this great work. The work is being completed by money advanced by the City Council from the reserve fund, which is to be replaced by receipts from salvage sales.

The new police and Receiving Hospital ambulance will arrive today and will be put into [illegible]. Chief of Police Sebastian recommends the employment of three medical students with at least one year of study, to act as ambulance attendants on the runs, so that they may determine whether drunks brought to the station are simply "plain cases" or those that require medical attention. He believes that the three students can be secured for $25 per month each.

The Land Committee of the Council instructed Chief of Police Sebastian yesterday to inspect the basement of the Temple block to determine whether it is suitable for quarters for the proposed municipal employment bureau, for which provision was made in this year's fiscal budget. If quarters there cannot be secured, then the Chief is to select a suitable location, and the work will be started as soon as the selection is made.

[illegible]

structed under the direction of the park department at the junction of Mission and Main streets. This structure will be underground and will cost about $1[illegible].

The Board of Public Works approved yesterday the action of W. B. Mathews, special counsel for the Los Angeles aqueduct, in settling for $500 the claim of the parents of Marselino Guerrero, who was killed at the cement plant on December 31 of last year.

The Board of Public Works declared its policy yesterday in regard to the use of streets below grade, where there are ravines, etc., in which street contractors dump surplus earth. The board decided that no exclusive use to such dumping places shall be given to any one contractor, but that these low places shall be open to applications for permits from any persons who wish to deposit earth in them.

The Public Works Board issued instructions yesterday that the owners of the building at No. 761 New High street prevent the building being occupied and that it be repaired or raised. It is declared to be in a dangerous condition.

The Harbor Commission yesterday asked the Board of Public Works to make provision for the extension of the balcony of the City Hall at San Pedro, so as to provide rooms for the port warden and the pilots, whom the Works Board wanted to move to a house on Timms Point.

When the recently-amended ordinance creating fire district No. 1 was adopted by the Council certain sections were eliminated that have caused a protest from Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus. These are in the hill district, close to the business center of the city, and Backus believes they should be included to prevent the erection of buildings of inflamable material. As the ordinance now stands, on certain lots it would be possible for the owner to erect a building the front of which was fireproof, while he could use entire lumber construction for the rear, which would be just outside the fire limits. The Board of Public Works decided yesterday to recommend to the Council that changes proposed by Backus be made.

CITY MAY HAVE TO DISGORGE FIFTY THOUSAND.

Superior Court Decides Property Assessed as Operative Is Inoperative—Believed Appeal Will Be Taken—Dozen Utility Corporations Interested.

A decision affecting a dozen public utility corporations was rendered yesterday by Judge Wellborn determining the question whether certain property taxed by the City Assessor is operative or non-operative. The issue was raised by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation in a suit against the city to recover taxes paid under protest on hay, crude oil, carbon and solvent credits as non-operative property.

The corporation contended that inasmuch as this property is necessary to the conduct of the business, it is operative property. It sought to recover $2655.42, and for two days the legal battle was fought in Department Four.

The assessment was made in 1911 and notwithstanding that the corporation made return to the State Board of Equalization as operative property, the tax was paid. The suit followed and is the first to come to trial.

The court held that the City Assessor failed to protest to the State Board on the items in controversy as being non-operative, the law requiring him to do so within thirty days after receiving a copy of the report filed by the corporation with the State board.

The court held all the items are operative property because they are reasonably necessary for the use of the company in the conduct of its business in the sale and transmission of gas and electricity. Irrespective of whether or not the city made a protest as required by the law, the court held that if the property is as a matter of fact operative property, when the tax is paid to the State board the local Assessor has no power to tax city property as non-operative for local taxes.

The meaning of the decision is that action by the State board is supreme, when a corporation pays its gross receipts tax; that is, a tax on all of its operative property, irrespective of whether the corporation has actually reported it in detail item by item to the State board.

It is believed the city will appeal from the judgment of Judge Wellborn. If the judgment stands the city will have to refund approximately $50,000 in taxes assessed on various public utility corporations which paid them under protest.

CONFUSES NAMES.

LAWYER STUMPS EXPERT.

For a moment in Judge McCormick's court, Herbert Spencer, the great English philosopher, was made sponsor of the system of penmanship yclept Spencerian. The selection was inadvertently committed by Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, under cross-examination by Attorney G. M. Greer.

Carlson was under fire because he was showing that certain writing was forged, figuring in the prosecution of [illegible] H. Walsh, charged with forgery. He stated that Herbert Spencer was the author of that system of handwriting. Greer seemed surprised. He asked:

"Is that Spencerian system named after Herbert Spencer?"

Carlson replied that it was. Later he corrected himself. He said it was a [illegible], not Herbert Spencer, and that he had said Herbert Spencer for want of another name.

Greer, who was in a quizzing mood, asked Carlson, "What is 'rhomboidal'?" He followed this up by inquiring the meaning of "quadrilateral" and wound up with "quadripartite." Carlson admitted these terms are not used in penmanship. Greer appeared [illegible] that [illegible] an expert. The jury, [illegible] sentence will be pronounced Monday.

[illegible]

[illegible] in Department [illegible], instead of [illegible] a bare [illegible] rather [illegible] yesterday for twenty-four jurors. When informed by Judge Monroe that they would be excused from serving on the May panel they all consented to act, much to the surprise of the court.

This acquiescence is the more surprising from the fact that when the panel was summoned at the beginning of the term a majority of the veniremen asked to be excused. The personnel was so desirable, however, that Judge Monroe released only those with a cast iron excuse. The panel has proved one of the best selected by Judge Monroe. It includes capitalists, bankers, brokers and ranchmen.

WOMAN'S PLEA.

ASKS COURT FOR CLEMENCY.

The lack of motive, the fact that he did not know what he did with the money, and the further fact that he was arrested for drunkenness, were circumstances used to good effect yesterday by Georgia P. Bullock, counsel for R. G. Grimes, who pleaded guilty to having passed a fictitious check, in asking Judge McCormick for clemency for her client.

Mrs. Bullock addressed the court unbonneted, and showed a close study of the case, a logic and fearlessness for a first appearance, that seemed to impress Judge McCormick. He complimented the young advocate for her clear presentation of the case and granted her permission to file an application for probation.

Sentence was postponed until Friday. The check which Grimes passed was drawn on the American Savings Bank, January 27, last, for $32.50.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

Injured by a fall from a car at Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue November 23, last, Estella Q. Rubin alleges in a suit for $30,000, filed yesterday against the Pacific Electric, that she is unable to perform on the piano with her old-time dexterity and technique. She alleges the fall dislocated her right arm and that the accident was due to the negligence of the motorman in starting the car before she could alight. The plaintiff is a vocalist and pianist, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston.

INHERITANCE TAX. The estate of the late Homer Laughlin, subject to the inheritance tax, has been valued at $1,084,077.22 by Frank Sproul, appraiser, who filed his report yesterday. The largest tax will be paid by Guendolen Virginia Laughlin, the daughter, namely, $[illegible], on her legacy of $[illegible]. Homer Laughlin, Jr., the market value of whose legacy is $[illegible], will pay a tax of $[illegible]. Mrs. [illegible] L. West, a sister, and [illegible] West and Nancy McIntosh, nieces, have been taxed respectively, $156.47, $[illegible] and $253.78. Their combined legacies amount to $39,361.34.

INJUNCTION DENIED. The injunction asked by the Dabney Oil Company to restrain the directors of the Providence Oil Company from compromising the litigation involving the two concerns, was denied by Judge York yesterday. The plaintiffs contended that a compromise would be injurious to it. This was controverted by the Providence, which argued that a compromise was ordered by the stockholders and was for the purpose of protecting the interests of the corporations. The suit will be tried before Judge Finlayson May 27.

DECIDES WATER CASE. The claim of John P. Webber and others to the use of water from the San Gabriel River was denied by Judge Smith yesterday, who found judgment for the plaintiffs, W. R. Powell, and eight other citizens. The latter alleged that the defendants entered on the San Gabriel River above the plaintiffs' intake and diverted a large quantity of water. This water was used by the plaintiffs for irrigating lands at Duarte, Covina and Azusa. The court held that the defendants did not have a peaceful use of the water for five years which must be the case under the law.

BABE GOES HOME. Katherine McManaman, an abandoned nine months' old babe, was returned to the parents by Judge Wilbur yesterday. She is under the supervision of Mrs. Carver, probation officer, who is to report if the home is suitable. The original trouble over the baby appears to have arisen because the parents could not agree on a name for her. The father was charged with having failed to provide for her, and later the mother is said to have left her with a woman who turned her over to the police.

DEATH ADJOURNS COURT. Judge Dooling, sitting in Extra Sessions One, received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing the death of his wife's father. He adjourned court and left for his home in San Benito. He will probably return Tuesday.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

City Prosecutor's Office to Investigate Alleged Crooked Methods of Certain Tailors.

William McMahon was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a complaint charging him with having obtained money under false pretenses. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried the 7th inst. McMahon is a salesman for B. Gatsoff, who has two clothing establishments on South Main street.

W. T. East alleges he contracted with McMahon for a suit of clothes from a designated piece of cloth. When he called for his suit, he charges he found it had been made from an inferior piece of goods, and when he demanded a return of his cash deposit it was refused him.

Acting City Prosecutor [illegible] has [illegible] Assistant City Prosecutor [illegible] to investigate [illegible] that have [illegible] of South Main street [illegible].

Big Salary and Perquisites Are Dissipated With Royal Abandon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The wires carried the story one day last week of the refusal by Gov. Marshall of Indiana to receive money from the State to pay his house rent, light, heat and water. This must have inspired smiles of pity and amusement at Sacramento. The Governor of Indiana receives $8000 a year salary and pays all his living expenses out of his private purse. And while this is far above the average remuneration of Governors of States in the Union, it is beggarly as compared with the emoluments of the Governor of California.

Probably no State in the Union appropriates as much money for the personal use of its Governor as does California, and Hiram Johnson does not seem to find it easy to keep within the limit.

The average salary of the Governors in this country is $5384, and many of them must make that sum cover all their expenses. One State, Illinois, pays its Governor $12,000. This is the only State that even nominally pays

THE CITY. Los Angeles capital has been pledged to build a railroad through Death Valley to lift the veil of mystery in that hitherto forbidding place. It is believed that vast mineral resources lie hidden there.

The Legislature is to be asked to pass a bill which will restrict hasty and sometimes ill-advised marriages, and Santa Ana's hymeneal forces were much exercised yesterday over the prospect.

Fifty-eight thousand dollars was added to the known total of the profits gleaned by the gang of swindlers which has been reaping a rich harvest from credulous persons in this city and vicinity.
